Feminism And Documentary:

Feminism and Documentary Diane Waldman, Janet Walker, 1999 Documentary and feminist film studies have long been separate or parallel universes that need to converse or collide The essays in this volume written by prominent scholars and filmmakers demonstrate the challenges that feminist perspectives pose for documentary theory history and practice They also show how fuller attention to documentary enriches and complicates feminist theory especially regarding the relationship between gender and sexuality race and ethnicity class and nation Feminism and Documentary begins with a substantial historical introduction that highlights several of the specific areas that contributors address debates over realism the relationship between filmmaker and subject historical thinking about documentary and thinking about the historical documentary biography and autobiography and the use of psychoanalysis Other essays most of which appear here for the first time range from broad overviews to close analyses of particular films and videos and from discussions of well known works such as Roger and Me and Don't Look Back to lesser known texts that might revise the canon The collection includes an extensive filmography and videography with useful distribution information and a bibliography of work in this neglected area of scholarship Lucid sophisticated and eye opening this book will galvanize documentary studies and demonstrate the need for women's and cultural studies to grapple with visual media

Radical Feminism Barbara A. Crow, 2000-02 This text permits the original work of radical feminists to speak for itself Comprised of pivotal documents written by US radical feminists the book contains both unpublished and previously published material

Subject to Reality Shilyh Warren, 2019-05-16 Revolutionary thinking around gender and race merged with new film technologies to usher in a wave of women's documentaries in the 1970s Driven by the various promises of second wave feminism activist filmmakers believed authentic stories about women would bring more people into an imminent revolution Yet their films soon faded into obscurity Shilyh Warren reopens this understudied period and links it to a neglected era of women's filmmaking that took place from 1920 to 1940 another key period of thinking around documentary race and gender Drawing women's cultural expression during these two explosive times into conversation Warren reconsiders key debates about subjectivity feminism realism and documentary and their lasting epistemological and material consequences for film and feminist studies She also excavates the lost ethnographic history of women's documentary filmmaking in the earlier era and explores the political and aesthetic legacy of these films in more explicitly feminist periods like the Seventies Filled with challenging insights and new close readings Subject to Reality sheds light on a profound and unexamined history of feminist documentaries while revealing their influence on the filmmakers of today

Women and Global Documentary Shilyh Warren, Lúcia Nagib, Najmeh Moradian-Rizi, Julian Ross, 2025-02-06 Women and Global Documentary answers the urgent need to re-evaluate not only the significance of women's documentary practices and their contributions to feminist world building but also the state of documentary studies as it engages with political aesthetic and industrial developments arising as a result of an increasing numbers of women's documentaries Feminism and Documentary, 1999 They Must Be Represented Paula Rabinowitz, 1994-12-17 They Must Be Represented examines documentary in print photography television and film from the 1930s through the 1980s using the lens of recent feminist film theory as well as scholarship on race class and gender emerging from the new interdisciplinary approach of American cultural studies Paula Rabinowitz discusses the ways in which these four media shaped truth claims and political agency over the decades in the 1930s about poverty labor and popular culture during the depression in the 1960s about the Vietnam War racism work and counterculture and in the 1980s about feminist and gay critiques of gender history narrative and cinema A great deal of documentary expression has been influenced by developments in cultural anthropology as committed artists brought their cameras and typewriters into the field not only to report but also to change the world Yet recently the projects of both anthropology and documentary have come under scrutiny Rabinowitz argues that the gendering of vision that occurs when narratives confirm to conventional genres profoundly affects the relation of documentarian to subject She goes on to define this gendering of vision in documentary as an ethnographic process Ultimately this polemical study challenges the construction of the spectator in psychoanalytic film theory and articulates a new model for theorizing power relations in culture and history Films for Women Charlotte Brunsdon, 1986-02-26 Essays discuss feminist documentary films the portrayal of women in Hollywood films and the contributions of women to the cinema The Female Gaze in Documentary Film Lisa French, 2021-07-04 The Female Gaze in Documentary Film an International Perspective makes a timely contribution to the recent rise in interest in the status presence achievements and issues for women in contemporary screen industries It examines the works contributions and participation of female documentary directors globally The central preoccupation of the book is to consider what might constitute a female gaze an inquiry that has had a long history in filmmaking film theory and women's art It fills a gap in the literature which to date has not substantially examined the work of female documentary directors Moreover research on sex gender and the gaze has infrequently been the subject of scholarship on documentary film particularly in comparison to narrative film or television drama A distinctive feature of the book is that it is based on interviews with significant female documentarians from Europe Asia and North America Women of Vision, 2001 The Female Experience Gerda Lerner, 1992 This anthology of female experience in America draws on the letters diaries speeches and biographies of women from Colonial days to the early days of the women's movement There are chapters on childhood marriage motherhood single life housewifery old age and death Feminist Manifestos Penny A. Weiss, Megan Brueske, 2018-04-03 This book is a collection of 150 documents from feminist organizations and gatherings in over 50 countries over the course of three centuries The manifestos are shown to contain feminist theory and recommend actions for change and also to expand our very conceptions of feminist thought and activism Covering issues from political participation education religion and work to reproduction violence racism and environmentalism the manifestos challenge definitions of gender and feminist movements Modern American Women Susan Ware,1997 Film Feminisms Kristin Lené Hole,Dijana Jelača,2018-10-03 Film Feminisms offers a global and updated overview of the history present day concerns and future of feminist film and theory It introduces frameworks from phenomenology affect theory and psychoanalysis to reception studies new media theories and critical historiography as well as engaging with key issues in documentary ethics genre theory and star studies This new textbook situates feminist film theory within the larger framework of transnational scholarly approaches as well as decolonial queer disability studies and critical race theories It offers a much needed update on pedagogical approaches to feminist film studies providing discussions of filmmakers and films that have been overlooked in the field or that are overdue for further analysis Each chapter is supported by a variety of pedagogical features including activities key terms and case studies Many of the activities draw on contemporary digital media such as social media and streaming platforms to update the field to today s changing media landscape Documenting Gendered Violence Lisa M. Cuklanz,Heather McIntosh,2015-02-26 Documenting Gendered Violence explores the intersections of documentary and gendered violence Several contributors investigate representations through grounded textual analyses of key films and videos including Sex Crimes Unit 2011 and The Invisible War 2012 and other documentary texts including Youtube photographs and theater Other chapters use analysis and interviews to explore how gender violence issues impact production and how these documentaries become part of collaborations and awareness movements Public Women, Public Words Dawn Keetley,John Pettegrew,2002 This final volume in the Public Women Public Words series focuses on what has come to be called the second wave of American feminism It traces the resurgence of feminism in the late 1960s reflects the unprecedented range of women s issues taken up by feminists during the 1970s and beyond and looks toward a third feminist wave for the new millennium The Columbia Documentary History of American Women Since 1941 Harriet Sigerman,2003 From the Hoover vacuum cleaner to the fax machine from the pill to reproductive rights from Rosie the Riveter to Martha Stewart and Hillary Rodham Clinton American women have grappled with a sometimes dizzying rate of social and economic change and continually shifting conceptions of gender This collection of documents seeks to chronicle the exciting and tumultuous recent history of American women beginning with the watershed event of World War II and the lasting impact of the war effort on women s social and economic opportunities Subsequent documents speak to the ideas and changes brought about by the women s movement the challenges to and defense of reproductive rights the backlash against feminism in the name of family values and new visions for women s lives in the twenty first century Public Women, Public Words: Beginnings to 1900 Dawn Keetley,John Pettegrew,1997 This final volume in the Public Women Public Words series focuses on what has come to be called the second wave of American feminism It traces the resurgence of feminism in the late 1960s reflects the unprecedented range of women s issues taken up by feminists during the 1970s and beyond and looks toward a third feminist wave for the new millennium A Feminist Counter-History of Latin American Documentary Lorena Cervera

Ferrer,2025-08-15 A Feminist Counter History of Latin American Documentary provides a new lens through which to revisit the history of Latin American cinema and proposes three approximations to the study of women s documentary produced between the early 1970s and the mid 1990s With a focus on documentaries with clear political intents this book illustrates some of the thematic interests authorial modes production practices formal devices and aesthetic strategies employed by women filmmakers Through analysis of the contexts processes and forms of a selection of films the author shows how these non fiction films shed light on the precarious conditions that characterised women s greater entry into the workforce on the circulation of feminist ideas and on the inevitable questioning of identity that resulted from migration and displacement This volume will appeal to scholars and students interested in women s and feminist cinema documentary history theory and practice and Latin American history and culture Provided by publisher A Feminist Counter-history of Latin American Documentary Lorena Cervera Ferrer,2026 A Feminist Counter History of Latin American Documentary provides a new lens through which to revisit the history of Latin American cinema and proposes three approximations to the study of women s documentary produced between the early 1970s and the mid 1990s With a focus on documentaries with clear political intents this book illustrates some of the thematic interests authorial modes production practices formal devices and aesthetic strategies employed by women filmmakers Through analysis of the contexts processes and forms of a selection of films the author shows how these non fiction films shed light on the precarious conditions that characterised women s greater entry into the workforce on the circulation of feminist ideas and on the inevitable questioning of identity that resulted from migration and displacement This volume will appeal to scholars and students interested in women s and feminist cinema documentary history theory and practice and Latin American history and culture Provided by publisher Documenting Gendered Violence Lisa M.
