

THE FORMATION OF THE NEW TESTAMENT CANON (A.D. 100-220)

The idea of a complete and clear-cut canon of the New Testament existing from the beginning, that is from Apostolic times, has no foundation in history.

The Canon of the New Testament, like that of the Old, is the result of a development a process

- stimulated by disputes with doubters, both within and without the Church,
- and retarded by certain obscurities and natural hesitations
- and which did not reach its final term until the dogmatic definition of the Council of Trent.
