Ronald MILIONE,2024-07-08 The Nazca lines n z k k 1 are a group of geoglyphs made in the soil of the Nazca Desert in southern Peru They were created between 500 BC and 500 AD by people making depressions or shallow incisions in the desert floor removing pebbles and leaving different colored dirt exposed There are two major phases of the Nazca lines Paracas phase from 400 to 200 BC and Nazca phase from 200 BC to 500 AD In the years leading up to 2020 between 80 and 100 new figures had been found with the use of drones and archaeologists believe that there are more to be found Most lines run straight across the landscape but there are also figurative designs of animals and plants The combined length of all the lines is more than 1 300 km 800 mi and the group covers an area of about 50 km² 19 sq mi The lines are typically 10 to 15 cm 4 6 in deep They were made by removing the top layer of reddish brown ferric oxide coated pebbles to reveal a yellow grey subsoil The width of the lines varies considerably but more than half are slightly more than 33 cm 13 in wide In some places they may be only 30 cm 12 in wide and in others reach 1 8 m 6 ft wide Some of the Nazca lines form shapes that are best seen from the air at around 500 m 1 600 ft although they are also visible from the surrounding foothills and other high places The shapes are usually made from one continuous line The largest ones are about 370 m 400 yd long Because of its isolation and the dry windless stable climate of the plateau the lines have mostly been preserved naturally Extremely rare changes in weather may temporarily alter the general designs As of 2012 the lines are said to have been deteriorating because of an influx of squatters inhabiting the lands How to Draw Peru's Sights and Symbols Cindy Fazzi,2004-12-15
