The Idea of the Labyrinth from Classical Antiquity through the Middle Ages Penelope Reed Doob, 2019-03-15 Ancient and medieval labyrinths embody paradox according to Penelope Reed Doob Their structure allows a double perspective the baffling fragmented prospect confronting the maze treader within and the comprehensive vision available to those without Mazes simultaneously assert order and chaos artistry and confusion articulated clarity and bewildering complexity perfected pattern and hesitant process In this handsomely illustrated book Doob reconstructs from a variety of literary and visual sources the idea of the labyrinth from the classical period through the Middle Ages Doob first examines several complementary traditions of the maze topos showing how ancient historical and geographical writings generate metaphors in which the labyrinth signifies admirable complexity while poetic texts tend to suggest that the labyrinth is a sign of moral duplicity She then describes two common models of the labyrinth and explores their formal implications the unicursal model with no false turnings found almost universally in the visual arts and the multicursal model with blind alleys and dead ends characteristic of literary texts This paradigmatic clash between the labyrinths of art and of literature becomes a key to the metaphorical potential of the maze as Doob's examination of a vast array of materials from the classical period through the Middle Ages suggests She concludes with linked readings of four labyrinths of words Virgil's Aeneid Boethius Consolation of Philosophy Dante's Divine Comedy and Chaucer's House of Fame each of which plays with and transforms received ideas of the labyrinth as well as reflecting and responding to aspects of the texts that influenced it Doob not only provides fresh theoretical and historical perspectives on the labyrinth tradition but also portrays a complex medieval aesthetic that helps us to approach structurally elaborate early works Readers in such fields as Classical literature Medieval Studies Renaissance Studies comparative literature literary theory art history and intellectual history will welcome this wide ranging and illuminating book

Digressive Voices in Early Modern English Literature Anne Cotterill, 2004-02-19 Digressive Voices in Early Modern English Literature looks afresh at major nondramatic texts by Donne Marvell Browne Milton and Dryden whose digressive speakers are haunted by personal and public uncertainty To digress in seventeenth century England carried a range of meaning associated with deviation or departure from a course subject or standard This book demonstrates that early modern writers trained in verbal contest developed richly labyrinthine voices that captured the ambiguities of political occasion and aristocratic patronage while anatomizing enemies and mourning personal loss Anne Cotterill turns current sensitivity toward the silenced voice to argue that rhetorical amplitude might suggest anxieties about speech and attack for men forced to be competitive yet circumspect as they made their voices heard

Theory after Derrida Kailash C. Baral, R. Radhakrishnan, 2018-04-17 A critical anthology that re-examines Jacques Derrida s thought by way of theory and praxis this volume reflects on his striking legacy and the future of theory Among contemporary thinkers Derrida challenges not only our ways of thinking but also hitherto methods of inquiry This book captures how Derrida renovates and re-energises philosophy by questioning the fundamental assumptions of Western philosophical thought By doing so he exposes the intricate lie behind binaries such as speech writing nature culture male female black white literature criticism etc which have continued to shape our worldview where a hegemonic centre is always already in place dominating or marginalising the other A significant contribution to literary theory this book explores not only the status of Derrida s contribution as a critical thinker but also the status of critical theory as such in the contemporary milieu The central question that it asks is whether we should dismiss Derrida as a thinker who espoused an extreme form of relativism bordering on nihilism or has he something fundamental to contribute to the future of theory Could it be that deconstruction is not destruction but a possibility that casts doubts on whether the present can have faith in future This second edition includes a new Postscript and addresses some important concerns of our times such as religious practice art and aesthetics translation sociology of philosophy and democracy Scholars and researchers of English literature philosophy sociology and cultural studies will find this work particularly interesting

Reading as if for Life David Dickinson, 2025-04-24 Creaking open the pages of a heavy hardback or bending the spine of a poetry book over your knee on the train squinting over curled up pages by the light of a candle or scribbling notes in the margins in the corner of a sprawling library There are many who read as if for life many for whom as David Dickinson explores reading does not just feed the mind but also the soul Reading as if for Life takes us beyond the spirituality of sacred texts and into the spiritual possibilities of secular literature the opportunity to find or empty oneself the chance to engage in silent conversation with an absent other the appreciation of beauty and art the possibility of enlightenment From Augustine of Hippo to Thomas Hardy Iris Murdoch the poetry of R S Thomas Duffy and Donne and many other literary works David Dickinson explores how writers throughout the centuries have understood and experienced their own spirituality of reading For Dickinson these myriad journeys all bring us closer to an encounter with God dreaming ourselves into a world beyond This book invites its readers to see reading as a valuable spiritual exercise

The Jesuits, 1534-1921 Thomas Joseph Campbell, 1921 Modern Selves Philip Dodd, 2005-08-05 This book discusses gender and autobiography and the politics of autobiography It offers examples of ways of making sense of individual works or groups of works Cybertext Espen J. Aarseth, 1997-09-11 Do the rapidly expanding genres of digital literature mean that the narrative mode novels films television drama is losing its dominant position in our culture Author Espen Aarseth eases our fears of literary loss at least temporarily by pointing out that electronic text requires an interactive response to generate a literary sequence Where's the fun if you have to write your own ending 21 illustrations The Poetics of Uncontrollability in Keats's Endymion Anna Anselmo, 2017-03-07 Endymion is the trit d union between Keats's juvenilia and his better known and conventionally more mature works By its nature it is a transitional work and thus gives the scholar special insight into the development of Keats's poetics and idiom Moreover Endymion is the Keatsian work which most rattled and provoked critics of its time This book reconstructs the linguistic context of the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries in order to explain the reviewers' unease with regard to Endymion It shows that eighteenth century prescriptivism arose from a deep seated anxiety of language Lockean in origin and that the ensuing desire to stabilize and therefore control language informed Romantic criticism in general and the criticism of Keats's work in particular more fundamentally than politics could or did The imaginative and linguistic markers of Endymion are mapped and analysed in order to prove that Keats produced a poetics of uncontrollability a series of textual and stylistic strategies which violated linguistic and narrative standards and which were therefore perceived as unsettling

The woman of the crowd Daniela Daniele, 2021-12-28 This book traces the origins of the Postmodern eclectic grammar of linguistic collision back in the Surrealist poetics of ruins Keeping in mind the images of lost direction in the big city as a central figure in the discussion of both the Modern and Postmodern aesthetics of displacement Daniele starts comparing the epiphanic encounters of the Baudelairian fl neur in metropolitan Paris in constant search for the traces of a lost symbolic order with Breton's enigmatic pursuit of Nadja the elusive sphinx in the crowd who moves in a mental territory of puzzling condensations and of ineffable objets trouv In his visual and written work Marcel Duchamp was probably the first artist to envision the space of the crowd as a trans urban multiple dimension a cool arena of disjunctive encounters contributing to transform the Surrealist erotic space of desire in a cooler open field of performance Deeply influenced by Duchamp's hybrid aesthetics American Postmodern writers such as Donald Barthelme and Thomas Pynchon and the performance artist Laurie Anderson represent metropolis as a geographical incest as a plural entropic semiosphere which transcends the notion of urban community to become the tolerant receptacle of an ethnic and discursive multiplicity an electronic area of linguistic collisions translatable in new fragmented and unfinished narratives Evoking the assemblages of Abstract Expressionists the debris of Simon Rodia junk art and the hybrid language of Postmodern architecture this neo Surrealist narrative discourse transforms the epiphanic traces envisioned by the Baudelairian and Bretonian heroes in partial parodies in enigmatic fragments whose ultimate source transcends the narrator's knowledge The conceptual strategy which is constitutive of these texts implicitly asks the puzzled reader to disentangle the entropic plots immersing him in the midst of a linguistic wilderness where all opposites fact and fiction man and machine man and female enigmatically and humorously coexist

Architecture and Narrative Sophia Psarra, 2009-01-06 Architecture is often seen as the art of a thinking mind that arranges organizes and establishes relationships between the parts and the whole It is also seen as the art of designing spaces which we experience through movement and use Conceptual ordering spatial and social narrative are fundamental to the ways in which buildings are shaped used and perceived Examining and exploring the ways in which these three dimensions interact in the design and life of buildings this intriguing book will be of use to anyone with an interest in the theory of architecture and architecture's relationship to the cultural human environment Borges and His Successors Edna Aizenberg,1990 In the first book devoted to the impact made by Borges on the contemporary aesthetic imagination Aizenberg brings together specially commissioned essays from international scholars in a variety of disciplines to provide a wide ranging assessment of Borges's influence on the fiction literary theory and arts of our time Publishers website

The Fictions of Stephen Graham Jones Billy J. Stratton,2016-12 The Fictions of Stephen Graham Jones offers the first collection of scholarship on Jones's ever expanding oeuvre The Fully Alive Preacher Mike Graves,2006-01-01 Mike Graves begins this book with the question If preaching is intended to enliven the church why is it killing so many ministers His answer Because preaching has become divorced from the vitality and diversity of the preacher's daily life He invites preachers to discover how preaching can be renewing rather than draining The Best Books of Our Time, 1901-1925 Asa Don Dickinson,1928
