Schliehe, 2017-07-20 This edited collection speaks to and expands on existing debates around incarceration Rather than focusing on the bricks and mortar of institutional spaces this volume s inventive engagements in thinking through carcerality touch on more elusive concepts of identity memory and internal as well as physical walls and bars Edited by two human geographers and positioned within a criminological context this original collection draws together essays by geographers and criminologists with a keen interest in carceral studies. The authors stretch their disciplinary boundaries tackling a range of contemporary literatures to engage in new conversations and raising important questions within current debates on incarceration A highly interdisciplinary project this edited collection will be of particular interest to scholars of the criminal justice system social policy and spatial carceral studies Feminist Perspectives on

Contemporary International Law Sari Kouvo, Zoe Pearson, 2014-09-18 The essays in this volume analyse feminism s positioning vis vis international law and the current paradigms of international law. The authors argue that willingly or unwillingly feminist perspectives on international law have come to be situated between resistance and compliance That is feminist scholarship aims at deconstructing international law to show why and how women have been marginalised at the same time feminists have been largely unwilling to challenge the core of international law and its institutions remaining hopeful of international law's potential for women The analysis is clustered around three themes the first part theory and method looks at how feminist perspectives on international law have developed and seeks to introduce new theoretical and methodological tools especially through a focus on psychoanalysis and geography The second part national and international security focuses on how feminists have situated themselves in relation to the current discourses of crisis the post 9 11 NGO industry and the changing discourses of violence against women The third part global and local justice addresses some of the emerging trends in international law focusing especially on transitional justice state building trafficking and economic globalisation Geographical Thought Anoop Nayak, Alex Jeffrey, 2025-06-30 This new second edition of Geographical Thought remains a clear and accessible introduction to the key ideas and figures in human geography A renewed focus on climate justice is layered throughout the book seguing into a new chapter on decolonising geography Each of the chapters has been refreshed using the latest scholarship in the field cutting edge theory and contemporary case studies From animal geographies to Black geographies the current text is brimming with new theories concepts and ideas Across three distinctive parts Geographical Foundations Geography at the Intersections and Plural and Relational Geographies this book provides an essential introduction to the theories that have shaped the study of societies and space Opening with an exploration of the founding concepts of human geography in the nineteenth century academy Navak and Jeffrey examine the range of theoretical perspectives that have emerged within human geography over the last century from feminist and Marxist scholarship through to postcolonial and non representational theories Each chapter contains insightful lines of argument that encourage readers towards independent thinking and critical evaluation The supporting materials include a glossary visual images further reading suggestions and dialogue boxes This book is an invaluable guide for students new to the discipline seeking an introduction to the theories and ongoing debates as well as those looking to deepen their understanding of human Rethinking Sexuality Diane Richardson, 2000-10-26 This thoughtful and accessible book provides a critical geography examination of the central debates attached to conceptualizing sexuality as a site of knowledge and politics These are explored in chapters on the meaning of heterosexuality sexual citizenship and the associated notions of sexual rights and obligations queer theory and its relationship with feminisms both new and old Also included is discussion of responses to the HIV AIDS epidemic and the implications for understandings of gender and sexuality CULTURAL GEOGRAPHY IN PRACTICE Miles Ogborn, Alison Blunt, Pyrs Gruffudd, David Pinder, 2014-04-23 Cultural Geography in Practice provides an geographical research and significant progress has been made in terms of our understanding of both the broad relationship between gender and geography and the more detailed differences in the lives of men and women over space The development of feminist perspectives and the study of gender relations in geography has however been fairly uneven over the discipline Both theoretical and empirical work on gender has tended to be concentrated within social and cultural geography Moreover it has been directed largely towards the urban sphere Women Workers in Urban India Saraswati Raju, Santosh Jatrana, 2016-04-21 This volume examines the role of women workers who are joining the workforce in urban India Employment opportunities have opened up and are constantly expanding for women but this book interrogates whether their working status is breaking gender stereotypes or reaffirming them It argues that whether women are working in offices or from home contributing to the IT sector or labouring as petty producers they are unable to break out of the gendered codes that place them at the lower rungs of the occupational ladder More importantly the hierarchical social order comprising caste class and ethnic identities seems to echo in the gendered structure of the labour market as well This volume studies the intertwining of work with embedded patriarchal notions of women s places in designated spheres and the overt and covert processes of resistance that women offer in defining new roles and old ones anew Racialization, 2E Tania Das Gupta, Carl E. James, Chris Andersen, Grace-Edward Galabuzi, Roger C. A. Maaka, 2018-02-01 Few words have generated as much debate and controversy as the word race Through a critical examination of this complex subject this anthology brings together essential contributions to the study of race and racialization An excellent compilation of classic and contemporary works by academic and activist writers Race and Racialization provides historical comparative and global perspectives on race and its intersection with gender class ethnicity indigeneity and sexuality This well updated second edition includes a new section on state multiculturalism and a diverse ensemble of Canadian and international contributors who explore such relevant themes as colonialism institutional racism ethnocentrism privilege marginalization and resistance Featuring introductions to each piece written by the editors annotated lists of supplementary readings to encourage further exploration and contributions by activists from Idle No More and Black Lives Matter this comprehensive and highly accessible anthology is perfect for students studying race racism cultural diversity identity and belonging social inequality and social justice Qualitative Research in Tourism Lisa Goodson, Jenny Phillimore, 2004-07-31 The first to focus solely upon qualitative research in tourism this book combines discussions of the philosophies underpinning qualitative research with reflexive chapters that demonstrate how these techniques can be used Incorporating a range of case studies written by leading international scholars this book makes clear the ways in which these pieces of research have been informed by the authors epistemological ontological and methodological standpoint Based on a range of empirical tourism studies set in the context of theoretical discussion it demonstrates the benefits of using a range of qualitative approaches to research tourism exploring the ways in which a number of techniques including participants observation memory work biographical diaries focus groups and visual exercises have been adopted by researchers from a range of disciplinary backgrounds to undertake empirical research in tourism An indispensable text for final year undergraduates Masters and PhD students embarking on research in the field it also will be a valuable title for academics with an interest in either tourism research or qualitative methodology Linking theory with research practice it offers a holistic account of qualitative research in tourism Approaches to Human Geography Stuart C. Aitken, Gill Valentine, 2014-12-01 The book covers some of the traditionally most obtuse and difficult to grasp philosophical ideas that have influenced geographers geography The fact that these are presented in an inclusive and accessible manner is a key strength Many students have commented that the chapters they have read have encouraged them to read more in this field which is fantastic from a lecturer s perspective Richard White Sheffield Hallam University A new edition of the classic Approaches text for students organised in three sections which overviews and explains the history and philosophy of Human Geographies in all its applications by those who practise it Section One Philosophies Positivist Geography Humanism Feminist Geographies Marxisms Structuration Theory Human Animal Realism Postmodern Geographies Poststructuralist Theories Actor Network Theory Postcolonialism Geohumanities Technologies Section Two People Institutions and Cultures Places and Contexts Memories and Desires Understanding Place Personal and Political Becoming a Geographer Movement and Encounter Spaces and Flows Places as Thoughts Section Three Practices Mapping and Geovisualization Quantification Evidence and Positivism Geographic Information Systems Humanism Activism Feminist Geographies Poststructuralist Theories Psychoanalysis Environmental Inquiry Contested Geographies and Culture Wars Fully updated throughout and with eight brand new chapters this is the core text for modules on history theory and practice in Human Geography The Radicalization of Pedagogy Simon Springer, Marcelo Lopes de Souza, Richard J. White, 2016-05-27 How do activists learn radical politics Does the increasing neoliberalisation of education limit the possibilities of transgressive pedagogies And in what contexts have anarchist geographers successfully shaped alternative pedagogic practices Pedagogy is central to geographical knowledge and represents one of the key sites of contact where anarchist approaches can inform and revitalize contemporary geographical thought This book looks at how anarchist geographers have shaped pedagogies that move towards bottom up organic transformations of societies spaces subjectivities and modes of organizing where the importance of direct action and prefigurative politics take precedence over concerns about the state Examining contemporary and historical case studies across the world from formal and informal contexts the chapters show the potential for new imaginaries of anarchist geographies that will challenge and inspire geographers to travel beyond the traditional frontiers of geographical knowledge

Clubbing Ben Malbon, 2002-03-11 Clubbing explores the cultures and spaces of clubbing Divided into three sections Beginnings The Night Out and Reflections Clubbing includes first hand accounts of clubbing experiences framing these accounts within the relevant research and a review of clubbing in late 1990s Britain Malbon particularly focuses on the codes of social interaction among clubbers issues of gender and sexuality the effects of music the role of ecstasy clubbing as a playful act and personal interpretations of clubbing experiences Geography and Technology Stanley D. Brunn, Susan L. Cutter, I.W. Harrington Ir., 2004-05-31 It is particularly appropriate that the AAG's Centennial Celebration should prompt the publication of a volume devoted to Geography and Technology New technologies have always been important in advancing geographic understanding but never have they been so thoroughly and rapidly transformative of the discipline as at this stage in geography s evolution Just as new technologies have profoundly expanded both research possibilities and the knowledge base of other disciplines such as biology physics or medicine so too are the revolutionary new geographic technologies developed during the past few decades extending frontiers in geographic research education and applications They are also creating new and resurgent roles for geography in both society and in the university This trend is still accelerating as the integration of geographic technologies such as the global positioning system and geographic information systems GPS GIS is creating an explosion of new real time real world applications and research capabilities The resultant dynamic space time interactive research and management environments created by interactive GPS GIS among other technologies places geography squarely at the forefront of advanced multidisciplinary research and modeling programs and has created core organization management tools geographic management systems which will dramatically change the way governments and businesses work in the decades ahead While these and other important geographic technologies including remote sensing location based services and many others addressed in this book are forging new opportunities for geography and geographers they also pose challenges Critical Global Perspectives Binaya Subedi, 2010-03-01 The primary purpose of this book is to invite educators to re think what it means to critically conceptualize knowledge about the world In other words imagining curriculum in a critical way means decolonizing mainstream knowledge about global societies Such an approach re evaluates how we have come to know the world and asks us to consider the socio political context in which we have come to understand what constitutes an ethical global imagination A critical reading of the world calls for the need to examine alternative ways of knowing and teaching about the world a pedagogy that recognizes how diverse subjects have come to view the world A critical question this book raises is What are the radical ways of re conceptualizing curriculum knowledge about global societies so that we can become accountable to the different ways people have come to experience the world Another question the book raises is how do we engage with complexities surrounding social differences such as gender race ethnicity religion etc in the global contexts Analyzing global issues and events through the prism of social difference opens up spaces to advocate a transformative framework for a global education curriculum Transformative in the sense that such a curriculum asks students to challenge stereotypes and engages students in advocating changes within local global contexts A critical global perspective advocates the value of going beyond the nation state centered approach to teaching about topics such as history politics culture etc It calls for the need to develop curriculum that accounts for transnational formations an intervention that asks us to go beyond issues that are confined within national borders Such a practice recognizes the complicated ways the local is connected to the global and vice versa and cautions against creating a hierarchy between national and global issues It also suggests the need to critically examine the pitfalls of forming dichotomies between the local or the national and the global or the center and the periphery
