Feminization Of Famine Exprebions Of The Inexprebible:

The Feminization of Famine Margaret Kelleher, 1997 Contemporary media depictions of famine disaster display a striking prevalence female images The Feminization of Famine is a unique study of the tradition of female representations in famine literature from nineteenth century accounts of the Irish famine to the present day It examines the many novels and short stories written about the Irish famine over the last 150 years from the novels of William Carleton Anthony Trollope and Maria Edgeworth through to the writings of Liam O Flaherty and John Banville These literary works are read in the context of a rich variety of other sources including contemporary eyewitness accounts of the Great Irish Famine women s memoirs and journalistic writings and famine historiography The recurring motifs used to depict famine are highlighted the prevalence of images of mother and child the scrutiny of women s starved bodies efforts to express the inexpressible The author investigates the effect of famine representations and their crucial role in shaping viewers and readers interpretations of the famine The Feminization of Famine provides a significant critique of how famine has been represented and suggests important parallels with the current presentation of emergency and disaster

Neo-Victorian Families Christian Gutleben, 2011 Tracing representations of re imagined Victorian families in literature film and television and social discourse this collection the second volume in Rodopi s Neo Victorian Series analyses the historical trajectory of persistent but increasingly contested cultural myths that coalesce around the heterosexual couple and nuclear family as the supposed normative foundation of communities and nations past and present It sheds new light on the significance of families as a source of fluctuating cultural capital deployed in diverse arenas from political debates social policy and identity politics to equal rights activism and analyses how residual as well as emergent ideologies of family are mediated and critiqued by contemporary arts and popular culture This volume will be of interest to researchers and students of neo Victorian studies as well as scholars in contemporary literature and film studies cultural studies and the history of the family Situating the nineteenth century family both as a site of debilitating trauma and the means of ethical resistance against multivalent forms of oppression neo Victorian texts display a fascinating proliferation of alternative family models albeit overshadowed by the apparent recalcitrance of familial ideologies to the same historical changes neo Victorianism reflects and seeks to promote within the cultural imaginary

Irish Culture and Colonial Modernity 1800-2000 David Lloyd, 2011-09-22 From the Famine to political hunger strikes from telling tales in the pub to Beckett s tortured utterances the performance of Irish identity has always been deeply connected to the oral Exploring how colonial modernity transformed the spaces that sustained Ireland s oral culture this book explains why Irish culture has been both so creative and so resistant to modernization David Lloyd brings together manifestations of oral culture in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries showing how the survival of orality was central both to resistance against colonial rule and to Ireland s modern definition as a postcolonial culture Specific to Ireland as these histories are they resonate with postcolonial cultures globally This study is an important and provocative new interpretation of Irish national culture and how it came into being

Representing the National Landscape in Irish Romanticism

Julia M. Wright,2014-04-22 Ireland is a country which has come to be defined in part by an ideology which conflates nationalism with the land From the Irish Revival s celebration of the Irish peasant farmer as the ideal Irishman to the fierce history of land claim battles between the Irish and their colonizers notions of the land have become particularly bound up with conceptions of what Ireland is and what it is to be Irish In this book Wright considers this fraught relationship between land and national identity in Irish literature In doing so she presents a new vision of the Irish national landscape as one that is vitally connected to larger geographical spheres By exploring issues of globalization international radicalism trade routes and the export of natural resources Wright is at the cutting edge of modern global scholarly trends and concerns In considering texts from the Romantic era such as Leslie s Killarney Edgeworth s Limerick Gloves and Moore s Irish Melodies Wright undercuts the nationalist myth of a people of the soil using the very texts which helped to construct this myth Reigniting the field of Irish Romanticism Wright presents original readings which call into question politically motivated mythologies while energizing nationalist conceptions that reflect transnational networks and mobility

The Transcultural

Turn Lucy Bond,Jessica Rapson,2014-04-01 This edited collection makes a progressive intervention into the interdisciplinary field of memory studies with a series of essays drawn from diverse theoretical practical and cultural backgrounds The most seminal critical development within memory studies in recent years has arguably been the turn towards transculturalism This movement engenders a series of methodologies that posit remembrance as a fluid process in which commemorative tropes work to inform the representation of diverse events and traumas beyond national or cultural boundaries transcending but not negating spatial temporal and ideational differences Examining a wide range of historical and cultural contexts the essays in this collection focus on the dialogues that shape processes of remembrance between and beyond borders critiquing the problems and possibilities inherent in current discourses in memorial practice and theory as they approach the challenge of transculturalism

The Tourist's Gaze

Glenn Hooper,2001 Travel literature has been described by Jonathan Raban as literature s red light district It defies peoples beliefs confuses expectations crosses disciplinary boundaries and is linked to ethnography journalism and biography Yet for all that has managed to remain not only a visible but also an increasingly popular literary genre This anthology makes an entertaining and insightful contribution to this engaging field It includes extracts from well known writers such as Thackeray Boll and Chesterton but also presents less familiar figures from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The seventy pieces collected here both offer sharp observations of the country and are equally revealing about the travelers themselves Each extract where possible is prefaced by a brief biography of its author For readers interested in the origins and historical role of travel writing in general and how they relate to Ireland the editor offers an illuminating introduction This anthology presents illuminating snapshots of Ireland

over two hundred years It also provides insights into the varied perspectives of the travelers themselves a perspective often influenced by contemporary political events such as the Great Famine Home Rule the Civil War and the Troubles This anthology leaves the reader with an enduring image of Ireland s ability to fascinate and stimulate visitors through two centuries

Let's delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year.

The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail.

Feminization Of Fame Experiences Of The Inexplicable : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery.

Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
