

The Feng Shui Kitchen

This should be the very heart of the home and can benefit more than any other room from good feng shui. Kitchens are not necessarily rooms to entertain in, so you can design them in a particularly indulgent way – they are for you to work in happily and they should suit you.

If you are very tall, raise all your work surfaces – and do the opposite if you are small. Nobody should be able to walk behind you without your seeing them, so lots of mirrors are important. Anything not being used, such as blenders, mixers, and food processors should be put away when not in use as they are powerful mechanical devices, sometimes that in kitchens can be a bit of work in opposition to the stove, for
