Fertility Management In Dairy Cattle:

Fertility Management in Dairy Cattle Richard J. Esslemont, J. H. Bailie, M. J. Cooper, 1985 Bovine Medicine
Anthony H. Andrews, Roger W. Blowey, Hugh Boyd, Roger G. Eddy, 2008-04-15 Bovine Medicine provides practical and comprehensive information on cattle disease and production and is a key reference for all large animal vets. Since the first edition was published in 1991, there have been significant improvements in disease control and management of cattle. Almost all parts of the book have been updated and completely rewritten. There are new chapters on surgery, embryo transfer, artificial insemination, ethno-veterinary medicine and biosecurity, and a new consolidating chapter on the interaction between the animal, environment, management and disease. The previous edition has sold all over the world and as a result of this, a greater emphasis has been placed on conditions and their treatment in areas other than temperate regions. A new section entitled 'Global Variation in Cattle Practice' has been included, with contributors discussing bovine medicine practice in their part of the world. All in all, this is an outstanding resource for any practising vet and an excellent reference for veterinary students.

Dairy Cattle Fertility & Sterility, 1996 Advances in breeding of dairy cattle Prof. Julius van der Werf, Prof. Jennie E. Pryce, 2019-12-24 Particular focus on the challenges in breeding and lack of genetic diversity in modern dairy cattle. Explores ways of improving non-production traits in cattle for more sustainable production. Detailed review of key developments in reproductive technologies and breeding programmes to further advance dairy cattle breeding. Instant Insights: Infertility and other reproductive disorders in dairy cattle Alexander C. O. Evans, Shenming Zeng, Dr Michael Iwersen, Dr Marc Drillich, Dr Mekonnen Haile-Mariam, Prof. Jennie E. Pryce, Emeritus Prof Norman B. Williamson, 2022-08-30 This collection features four peer-reviewed reviews on infertility and other reproductive disorders in dairy cattle. The first chapter discusses the physiology of the main impediments to fertility and management issues that need to be addressed to ensure good fertility of dairy cows. The chapter focusses on parturition and uterine health, the importance of the post-partum environment and the role of oestrus, as well as methods of establishing pregnancy and the effect of heat stress on cows' fertility. The second chapter considers recent developments in automated monitoring of livestock fertility and pregnancy, focussing on its implementation in dairy cattle production. The chapter explores the physiological basics of the reproductive cycle in dairy cattle and the use of artificial intelligence to monitor and report changes in animal behaviour. The third chapter reviews progress in understanding the role of genetics in addressing the decline in fertility rates in dairy cattle. The chapter discusses strategies to improve the reproductive performance of dairy cattle, including the use of different breeds, measures of fertility and genomic data. The final chapter reviews best practices to detect reproductive problems and limitations in dairy cattle. The chapter identifies key areas which are known to limit performance and provides strategies which can be implemented to optimise reproductive performance and maximise animal health. A Study of the Organization and Management of Dairy Farms in Northeastern Iowa Albert Thomas Mighell, 1927 Veterinary Epidemiology Michael

Improving Health and Welfare in Animal Production Harry J Blokhuis, E Dinand Ekkel, Beat Wechsler, 2000-08-15 Health and welfare of domestic animals is a prominent issue in society and in all public discussions about animal production The public is concerned about the health and welfare of production animals the lack of individual control the large group sizes and high technology input As a response governments have been integrating animal welfare requirements use of medication and product safety in national and international regulations Parallel to this more and more producers of animal products claim to meet specific health and welfare standards and these products are marketed as safe with respect to human health or as being produced in an animal friendly way As a consequence of these developments there is an increasing need for methods to measure and monitor health and welfare to control the quality of production ISO HACCP and to certificate farms that comply with health and or welfare requirements of their customers This need is not only related to existing housing systems both governments and society demand insight into the health and welfare aspects of new alternative housing systems preceding the introduction in practice This publication presents a selection of the oral presentations in the Management of Health and Welfare and the Alternative housing systems for pigs and laying hens sessions of the EAAP meeting in The Hague which give a broad overview of the different perspectives on how management and certification systems as well as new housing systems can contribute to animal husbandry methods which are accepted by both society and consumers Performance recording of animals - State of the art, 2002 J. Crettenand, J. Moll, C. Mosconi, S.

Wegmann, 2023-08-28 This publication collects the Proceedings of the 33rd Biennial Session of the International Committee for Animal Recording ICAR held in Interlaken Switzerland on 26-31 May 2002 Around 400 participants from 60 countries took part in the ICAR Session or attended the Interbull Meeting The activities were divided into five parallel technical sessions Overall about 40 technical papers and reports were presented during the sessions A technical session was especially reserved for the presentation of the activities of the Task Forces Sub Committees and Working Groups in which a total of 19 reports were presented The issues that were discussed covered the use of new technologies for animal performance recording the application of national animal tracing databases the use of data from permanent milk recording for official performance recording the performance recording of beef traits and possible alternative systems of recording of functional traits Particularly relevant was also the involvement of representatives of non member organizations especially from Central and Eastern Europe and developing countries whose needs demonstrate the possibilities that are offered to ICAR to help the re organization of the animal sector This supporting activity with those finalized to reach a better comparison of the production systems among the member organization demonstrate the potentialities of the association The Sessions allowed an active exchange of ideas and experiences among the participants who recognized that the dialogue is the engine for improvement Considering that the resources of most member organizations have been reduced the need of working together was strongly underlined today more than in the past in order to achieve shared objectives Soil Fertility Improvement
