Fertilization Response Of The Egg:

Biology of Fertilization: The fertilization response of the egg Charles B. Metz, Alberto Monroy, 1985 Biology of Fertilization V3 Charles Metz, 2012-12-02 The Fertilization Response of the Egg is the third and final volume of the Biology of Fertilization which provides a detailed discussion of the responses of the egg to the fertilizing sperm collectively called as the activation of the egg It is an anthology of physiological articles written by biology and physiology professionals The book is divided into 12 chapters half of which focused on the sea urchin egg fertilization as it is the most studied form The first two chapters cover the discussions on the first visible egg responses to fertilization and the formation of the fertilization membrane The following chapter describes the relationship of sperm entry into the amphibian egg and the establishment of the symmetry of the embryo Other chapters focus on the electrical and ionic changes of the egg plasma membrane and cytoplasm The remaining parts of the book describe the synthetic activities in the egg that are initiated during fertilization These include description of DNA and maternal RNA syntheses nuclear cytoplasm interactions protein synthesis during oogenesis and early embryogenesis and the expression of maternal messenger RNA The book is an excellent reference for undergraduate and graduate biology students specifically in physiology embryogenesis and developmental biology It can also be an invaluable source of information for lecturers and professionals in biology

The Fertilization Response of the Egg Charles B. Metz, Alberto Monroy, 1985 The Adaptation and Response of Aquatic Animals in the Context of Global Climate Change Hongsheng Yang, John I. Spicer, Juan D. Gaitan-Espitia, 2023-07-24 Anthropogenic climate change has driven widespread changes in marine environments including ocean warming ocean acidification and the formation of hypoxic zones Such environmental changes would pose direct challenges to the survival and adaptation of aquatic organisms greatly affecting the biodiversity of marine life and marine ecosystems Changes in the marine environment are likely to have strong effects at the physiological behavioral and molecular levels with implications at the individual population and species levels resulting in the degradation of genetic resources through massive mortality For example the ingestion digestion respiration and growth of aquatic animals were greatly depressed under extreme environments In the long run maintaining a sustainable ocean would require a better understanding of the adaptation of marine animals in response to the effects of multiple environmental stressors The Research Topic is aimed to discuss the potential impacts of individual and compounded extreme environments on aquatic animals as well as the regulatory mechanisms and adaptation strategies of marine species to cope with these impacts

Invertebrate Embryology and Reproduction Fatma El-Bawab, 2020-01-18 Invertebrate Embryology and Reproduction deals with the practical and theoretical objectives of the descriptive embryology of invertebrates along with discussions on reproduction in these groups of animals It explains several morphological and anatomical expressions in the field and covers the embryology of invertebrate animals starting from the Protozoa to the Echinodermata the Protochordate and Tunicates These groups include economically important aquatic invertebrates such as crustaceans as well as medically important invertebrates and economic arthropods Each chapter is preceded by the taxonomy of the discussed phylum and or the species to enable the reader to locate the systematic position Covers phylum definition general characteristics classification reproduction agametic reproduction gametic reproduction spawning fertilization development and embryogenesis Includes recent findings in the area along with detailed figures and photos that illustrate important concepts Brings together difficult to obtain research data from the field not only in Egyptian libraries but globally and previously only found through specialized references not widely available Clarifies descriptions with striking photos and electron microscopical studies of different species

The Sea Urchin Embryo G. Czihak, 2012-12-06 Sea urchin eggs are objects of wonder for the student who sees them for the first time under the microscope The formation of the fertilization membrane after insemination the beauty of mitotic cleavage the elegant swimming of embryos remain an esthetic pleasure even for the eyes of seasoned investigators But sea urchin eggs have other more practical advantages they lend themselves to surgical operation without difficulty and they heal perfectly they can be obtained in very large amounts and represent thus an extremely favorable material for biochemists and molecular embryologists It is not surprising that in view of these exceptional advantages sea urchin eggs have attracted the interest of innumerable biologists since O HERTWIG discovered the fusion of the pronuclei amphimixy in Paracentrotus lividus almost a century ago The purpose of the present book is to present in a complete and orderly fashion the enormous amount of information which has been gathered in the course of a hundred years of sea urchin embryology JOSEPH NEEDHAM in 1930 was still able to present all that was known at that time on the biochemistry of all possible species of developing eggs and embryos in his famous Chemical Embryology Cambridge University Press It would no longer be possible for one man to write a modern version of what was a Bible for the young embryologists of forty years ago

Signal Transduction During Biomembrane Fusion

Danton H. O'Day, 2012-12-02 Signal Transduction during Biomembrane Fusion begins with three review articles that put the problem of signal transduction and biomembrane fusion into a general perspective Each subsequent chapter begins with an introduction which reviews past work on a specific biological system The authors current research is then detailed The chapters conclude with final comments wherein the contributors express viewpoints about the general significance and progression of their work This book comprises 12 chapters with the first focusing on signal transduction during biomembrane fusion The succeeding chapters then discuss the focal membrane fusion model osmotic phenomena in membrane fusion cell signaling and regulation of exocytosis at fertilization of the egg and signal transduction during exocytosis in mast cells Other chapters cover protein kinase c and granule membrane fusion GTP binding proteins and formation of secretory vesicles and signal transduction during phagocytosis The remaining chapters discuss calcium signal transduction pathway and myoblast fusion phospholipid metabolism during calcium regulated myoblast fusion protein kinase c membrane protein phosphorylation and calcium influx in chick embryo skeletal myoblast fusion and signal transduction and cell fusion in dictyostelium This book will be of interest to practitioners in the fields of neurobiology zoology and the biological sciences
