Forte The Autobiography Of Charles Forte:

Forte Charles Forte,1997 The autobiography of Charles Forte a self made businessman and founder of Britain s largest hotel group The Secret Life of the Savoy Olivia Williams,2021-06-01 The captivating story of the famed Savoy Hotel s founders told through three generations and one hundred years of glamour and high society For the gondoliers themed birthday dinner the hotel obligingly flooded the courtyard to conjure the Grand Canal of Venice Dinner was served on a silk lined floating gondola real swans were swimming in the water and as a final flourish a baby elephant borrowed from London Zoo pulled a five foot high birthday cake In three generations the D Oily Carte family and London s Savoy Hotel pioneered the idea of the luxury hotel and the modern theater propelled Gilbert and Sullivan to lasting stardom made Oscar Wilde a transatlantic celebrity inspired a P G Wodehouse series and popularized early jazz electric lights and Art Deco Following the history of the iconic Savoy Hotel through three generations of the D Oily Carte family The Secret Life of the Savoy brings to life the extraordinary cultural legacy of the most famous hotel in the world Literary Voices of the Italian Diaspora in Britain Manuela D'Amore,2023-09-27 This volume studies the literary voices of the Italian diaspora in Britain including 21 authors and 34 pieces of prose verse and drama This book shows how authors both recount the history of the migrant community in the period 1880 1980 while creatively experimenting with hybrid forms of expression and blending words with visuals Literary Voices of the Italian Diaspora in Britain discusses topical issues like migration and social integration cultures and foods in transition as well as plurilingualism The book pays special attention to discussions of the horrors of the Second World War especially on the tragedy of the Arandora Star 2nd July 1940 to show this literary community s political commitments More importantly it will begin to fill the void left by a critical tradition which has only appreciated the northern American and Australian branches of Italian writing D'Oily Carte Paul Seeley,2021-11-29 This book considers and discusses aspects of the management of the D Oily Carte Opera Company in the twentieth century since the death of its founder Richard D Oily Carte and concentrates on key events that contributed to its demise in 1982 In this book Paul Seeley follows the analytical model that proposes no single factor triggered the collapse but rather several both external and internal In the case of an opera company the external factors may include public taste and market forces but more significant are the internal factors such as the management decisions taken in response to external factors and how these compare with the original artistic aims aspirations and business models of the founder This is a study by someone with close observation of the administration at the 1982 demise Seeley was assistant to the company manager having earlier served on the music staff The book is a must read for music historians theatre historians and arts management professionals as an uncompromisingly critical history of the D Oily Carte Opera Company it is designed to serve a wider public not just the Gilbert and Sullivan opera specialist but anyone keen to debate the desirability of private or public sponsorship of the performing arts An Immigration History of Britain Panikos Panayi,2014-09-11 Immigration ethnicity multiculturalism and racism have become part of daily discourse in Britain in recent decades yet far from being new these phenomena have characterised British life since the 19th century While the numbers of immigrants increased after the Second World War groups such as the Irish Germans and East European Jews have been arriving settling and impacting on British society from the Victorian period onwards In this comprehensive and fascinating account Panikos Panayi examines immigration as an ongoing process in which ethnic communities evolve as individuals choose whether to retain their ethnic identities and customs or to integrate and assimilate into wider British norms Consequently he tackles the contradictions in the history of immigration over the past two centuries migration versus government control migrant poverty versus social mobility ethnic identity versus increasing Anglicisation and above all racism versus multiculturalism Providing an important historical context to contemporary debates and taking into account the complexity and variety of individual experiences over time this book demonstrates that no simple approach or theory can summarise the migrant experience in Britain From Rail to Road and Back Again? Colin Divall, 2016-03-03 The coming of the railways signalled the transformation of European society allowing the quick and cheap mass transportation of people and goods on a previously unimaginable scale By the early decades of the twentieth century however the domination of rail transport was threatened by increased motorised road transport which would quickly surpass and eclipse the trains only itself to be challenged in the twenty first century by a renewal of interest in railways Yet as the studies in this volume make clear to view the relationship between road and rail as a simple competition between two rival forms of transportation is a mistake Rail transport did not vanish in the twentieth century any more than road transport vanished in the nineteenth with the appearance of the railways Instead a mutual interdependence has always existed balancing the strengths and weaknesses of each system It is that interdependence that forms the major theme of this collection Divided into two main sections the first part of the book offers a series of chapters examining how railway companies reacted to increasing competition from road transport and exploring the degree to which railways depended on road transportation at different times and places Part two focuses on road mobility interpreting it as the innovative success story of the twentieth century Taken together these essays provide a fascinating reappraisal of the complex and shifting nature of European transportation over the last one hundred years Corporate DNA Arnold

Kransdorff, 2017-05-15 For more than half a century the developed world has been chasing productivity It s financed our wealth but that part of output on which our continued prosperity depends productivity growth is petering out The traditional scapegoat has been the dearth of worker skills But the worker skills base has never been higher The other explanation is that it is managers who are not giving full value to their employers The way they re making decisions is conferring virtually no upside potential which means they re leaving us wide open for experience poor competitors to step into our experience rich shoes Exactly as Japan did in the 1960s and the so called BRICK countries Brazil Russia India China especially China and Korea are threatening now If creeping uncompetitiveness is not to overtake us from where are the next round of productivity gains to come from Identifying some gaping holes in the way managers are taught to manage this book outlines both the size of the problem and a solution Businesses and other organizations the author says have to substantially raise the quality of their decision making For this to happen they need to be much better experiential learners And for experiential learning to take place companies and other institutions have to better manage their corporate DNA the institution specific experiences otherwise known as Organizational Memory OM which characterizes any organization s ability to perform is the single biggest influence on decision making excellence It is a factor of production that has already been paid for at great expense yet is readily discarded in the backwash of the biggest change in workplace practice for more than a century the actively encouraged flexible labour market Corporate DNA explains why this key component of intellectual capital should be better managed can be better managed and particularly how it can be used to help organizations reduce the pandemic of repeated mistakes rei Newcomers' Lives Peter Unwin,2013-01-31 How the culture and life of the British people have been transformed by the contribution of immigrants in recent history Migrant Britain Jennifer Craig-Norton,Christhard Hoffmann,Tony Kushner,2018-08-14 Britain has largely been in denial of its migrant past it is often suggested that the arrivals after 1945 represent a new phenomenon and not the continuation of a much longer and deeper trend There is also an assumption that Britain is a tolerant country towards minorities that distinguishes itself from the rest of Europe and beyond The historian who was the first and most important to challenge this dominant view is Colin Holmes who from the early 1970s onwards provided a framework for a different interpretation based on extensive research This challenge came not only through his own work but also that of a new school of students who studied under him and the creation of the journal Immigrants and Minorities in 1982 This volume not only celebrates this remarkable achievement but also explores the state of migrant historiography including responses to migrants in the twenty first century Oxford Dictionary of National Biography 2005-2008 Lawrence Goldman,2013-03-07 Who made modern Britain This book drawn from the award winning Oxford Dictionary of National Biography tells the story of our recent past through the lives of those who shaped national life Following on from the Oxford DNB s first supplement volume noteworthy people who died between 2001 and 2004 this new volume offers biographies of more than 850 men and women who left their mark on twentieth and twenty first century Britain and who died in the years 2005 to 2008 Here are the people responsible for major developments in national life from politics the arts business technology and law to military service sport education science and medicine Many are closely connected to specific periods in Britain s recent history From the 1950s the young Harold Pinter or the Yorkshire cricketer Fred Trueman for example From the Sixties the footballer George Best photographer Patrick Lichfield and the Pink Floyd musician Syd Barrett It s hard to look back to the 1970s without thinking of Edward Heath and James Callaghan who led the country for seven years in that turbulent decade or similarly Freddie Laker pioneer of budget air travel and the comedians Ronnie Barker and Dave Allen who entertained with their sketch shows and sit coms A decade later you probably browsed in

Anita Roddick's Body Shop or danced to the music of Factory Records established by the Manchester entrepreneur Tony Wilson In the 1990s you may have hoped that Things can only get better with a New Labour government which included Robin Cook and Mo Mowlam Many in this volume are remembered for lives dedicated to a profession or cause Bill Deedes or Conor Cruise O'Brien in journalism Ned Sherrin in broadcasting or indeed Ted Heath whose political career spanned more than 50 years Others were responsible for discoveries or innovations of lasting legacy and benefit among them the epidemiologist Richard Doll who made the link between smoking and lung cancer Cicely Saunders creator of the hospice movement and Chad Varah founder of the Samaritans With John Profumo who gave his name to a scandal policeman Malcolm Fewtrell who investigated the Great Train Robbery or the Russian dissident Aleksandr Litvinenko who was killed in London in 2006 we have individuals best known for specific moments in our recent past Others are synonymous with popular objects and experiences evocative of recent decades Mastermind with Magnus Magnusson the PG Tips chimpanzees trained by Molly Badham John DeLorean's gull wing car or the new British Library designed by Colin St John Wilson though as rounded and balanced accounts Oxford DNB biographies also set these events in the wider context of a person's life story Authoritative and accessible the biographies in this volume are written by specialist authors many of them leading figures in their field Here you will find Michael Billington on Harold Pinter Michael Crick on George Best Richard Davenport Hines on Anita Roddick Brenda Hale on Rose Heilbron Roy Hattersley on James Callaghan Simon Heffer on John Profumo Douglas Hurd on Edward Heath Alex Jennings on Paul Scofield Hermione Lee on Pat Kavanagh Geoffrey Wheatcroft on Conor Cruise O'Brien and Peregrine Worsthorne on Bill Deedes Many in this volume are naturally household names But a good number are also remembered for lives away from the headlines What in the 1980s became Thatcherism owed much to behind the scenes advice from Ralph Harris and Alfred Sherman children who learned to read with Ladybird Books must thank their creator Douglas Keen while without its first producer Verity Lambert there would have been no Doctor Who Others are ordinary people capable of remarkable acts Take for instance Arthur Bywater who over two days in 1944 cleared thousands of bombs from a Liverpool munitions factory following an explosion only to do the same months later in another factory Awarded the George Cross and the George Medal Bywater remains the only non-combatant to have received Britain's two highest awards for civilian bravery

The Routledge Companion to International Hospitality Management Marco A.

Gardini, Michael C. Ottenbacher, Markus Schuckert, 2020-11-09 The hospitality sector is facing increasing competition and complexity over recent decades in its development towards a global industry The strategic response to this is still that hospitality companies try to grow outside their traditional territories and domestic markets while the expansion patterns and M A activities of international hotel and restaurant chains reflect this phenomenon Yet interestingly the strategies concepts and methods of internationalization as well as the managerial and organizational challenges and impacts of globalizing the hospitality business are under researched in this industry While the mainstream research on international management offers an abundance of information and knowledge on topics players trends concepts frameworks or methodologies its ability to produce viable insights for the hospitality industry is limited as the mainstream research is taking place outside of the service sector Specific research directions and related cases like the international dimensions of strategy organization marketing sales staffing control culture and others to the hospitality industry are rarely identifiable so far The core rationale of this book is therefore to present newest insights from research and industry in the field of international hospitality drawing together recent scientific knowledge and state of the art expertise to suggest directions for future work It is designed to raise awareness on the international factors influencing the strategy and performance of hospitality organizations while analyzing and discussing the present and future challenges for hospitality firms going or being international This book will provide a comprehensive overview and deeper understanding of trends and issues to researchers practitioners and students by showing how to master current and future challenges when entering and competing in the global hospitality industry

Experiencing war as the 'enemy other' Wendy Ugolini, 2017-10-03 Italy's declaration of war on Britain in June 1940 had devastating consequences for Italian immigrant families living in Scotland signalling their traumatic construction as the enemy other Through an analysis of personal testimonies and previously unpublished archival material this book takes a case study of a long established immigrant group and explores how notions of belonging and citizenship are undermined at a time of war Overall this book considers how wartime events affected the construction of Italian identity in Britain It makes a groundbreaking and original contribution to the social and cultural history of Britain during World War Two as well as the wider literature on war memory and ethnicity It will appeal to scholars and students of British and Scottish cultural and social history and the history of World War II
