Forty Years On The Yukon Telegraph:

Pioneer Days in British Columbia Art Downs, 1979-05 Pioneer Days is a blend of words and photos that proves British Columbia's history is as interesting as that recorded anywhere else in North America. Every article is true, many written or narrated by those who 100 or more years ago lived the experiences they relate. Each volume contains 160 pages plus some 60 000 words of text and over 200 historical photos, many published for the first time. Northern British Columbia Canoe Trips Laurel Archer, 2011-06-01 This first volume of the guidebook series Northern British Columbia Canoe Trips describes in detail eight northern BC paddling routes over eleven rivers and is designed to provide canoeists with all the information they require to plan a river trip appropriate to their skill level and special interests. Each route includes a summary of the main attractions of the trip, where to start and where to finish, along the river trip length in days and kilometres required, maps, suggestions about when to go, star ratings for difficulty and for historical and recreational value. Northern British Columbia Canoe Trips Volume One covers numerous routes never documented in any publication before, including the Taku, Jennings, Omineca and Gataga rivers among others, as well as more well-known favourites such as Fort Nelson and the Dease. The book provides paddlers of all types with a variety of river trips to choose from, based on comprehensive and comparative information as well as detailed and specific navigational notes to aid them along their chosen route. Forty Years on the Pacific, 1920 This is a reproduction of the original artefact. Generally, these books are created from careful scans of the original. This allows us to preserve the book accurately and present it in the way the author intended. Since the original versions are generally quite old, there may occasionally be certain imperfections within these reproductions. We're happy to make these classics available again for future generations to enjoy. Forty Years on the Yukon Telegraph Guy Lawrence, 1965 History Matters Michael Riis-Christianson, 2022-08-19 Located in the geographic centre of British Columbia, the Lakes District is a unique region with a fascinating backstory. History Matters, the first book published by the Lakes District Museum Society in a half century, gives readers a glimpse into the lives of some of the heroes, villains, misfits and everyday people who have in the past called this region home. In 2018, the Lakes District Museum Society began posting short stories and photographs about Burns Lake and surrounding communities on its social media page. This book is a compilation of those posts along with new material and never before seen photographs gleaned from the society's archives. Want to know how an employee of the Yukon Telegraph spent his time? What was a tie hacker's life like? How did an unknown skier from Burns Lake make it to the 1932 Olympic Winter Games and a man many feel was the real-life James Bond come to live in Colleymount? History Matters answers these and other important questions. In addition to touching and sometimes humorous tales of life in the Lakes District, readers of this book will encounter thrilling stories of murder, adventure, international intrigue and even the supernatural. This collection is a valuable contribution to the community's history and one that will fascinate anyone interested in the area, its past or the European colonization of Western Canada. Wires in the Wilderness Bill Miller, 2004 This is the tale of how Canada's high northern wilderness was brought into civilization's fold through a frail network of wires laboriously strung between poles and trees for hundreds of desolate miles The Yukon Telegraph started in 1897 when gold was discovered in the Yukon and the government needed a faster way to communicate with its remote northern territory The isolated residents too wanted a more reliable connection with the outside world Bill Miller takes readers from the line's conception in 1899 to its abandonment in 1952 through to its status today and its potential for future generations focusing on the colourful people who lived and worked in the area His account enhanced by extensive research and engaging storytelling reveals a fascinating fragment of Canada's rich history Unbuilt

Environments Jonathan Peyton, 2017-01-27 In the latter half of the twentieth century legions of industrial pioneers came to northwestern British Columbia with grand plans for mines dams and energy development schemes Yet many of their projects failed to materialize or were abandoned midstream Unbuilt Environments reveals that these lapsed resource projects had lasting effects on the natural and human environment Drawing on a range of case studies to analyze the social and environmental impacts of unfinished projects Jonathan Peyton considers development failure a productive concept for northwestern Canada He looks at a closed asbestos mine an abandoned rail grade an imagined series of hydroelectric installations a failed LNG export facility and a transmission line and finds that these unrealized developments continue to shape contemporary resource conflicts Following the Telegraph Trail Irene J. Huntley, 2021-09-20 Following the Telegraph Trail is a true story of an outdoor Canadian adventure In the 1950s a man in his prime who was seeing his family responsibilities pile up created an opportunity to act on a boyhood dream to trek with simple equipment in the wilderness and survive After a year of preparation he and another man with a similar dream faced the unknown together on a 400 mile trek that followed the abandoned Telegraph Trail in the wilds of northern British Columbia before the construction of the Stewart Cassiar Highway The two men followed the telegraph line along a narrow route through an area of varied terrain that included open country dense bush river crossings mountain passes wild animals and increasing challenges Their trek included magnificent scenery changes in the weather and unexpected developments taking a total of 7 weeks to reach civilization again The story is told by the daughter of one of the adventurers after her father has died She recreates the story from her dad's diary maps and photographs complete with imagined dialogue based on the men's characters Readers can identify with the two men alone in the wilderness as they face the challenges of seeking from nature to provide their basic needs of food water and shelter In doing so they learn some hard lessons about courage grit perseverance self doubt and friendship in addition to the value of being prepared for the unknown as they experience their adventure of following their dreams Harold Innis in the New Century William Buxton, Charles R. Acland, 1999 A collection of original essays that moves beyond the prevalent view of Harold Innis as a technological determinist Harold Innis in the New Century brings his innovative ideas to bear upon a variety of contemporary issues such as postmodernism liberalism gender and cultural policy

The book is divided into three sections Reflections on Innis provides a historical reassessment of Innis Gaps and Silences considers the limitations of both Innis s thought and his interpreters and Innis and Cultural Theory offers speculations on his influence on cultural analysis The interpretations offered reflect the changing landscape of intellectual life as boundaries between traditional disciplines blur and new interdisciplinary fields emerge Harold Innis in the New Century is a valuable resource for scholars and students of Canadian studies communication studies cultural studies economic history and political science Telegraph Age ,1903 Yukon Bibliography Update 1963-1970 C. Anne Hemstock,Geraldine A.

Cooke,Boreal Institute for Northern Studies,1973 Radio History Ship Shore Spurgeon G. Roscoe,2022-10-21 From flags and pennants to Morse code and complex telecommunications Radio History Ship to Shore is a treatise on the navigational aids vessels have used over the centuries Author Spurgeon Spud G Roscoe takes the reader on a journey through the evolution of communication systems globally from the days of Columbus to modern times Roscoe also mines his first hand experience as a radio officer who sailed on a dozen ships including a reproduction of the ill fated HMS Bounty Now in his eighties he has been meticulously collecting the content for Radio History Ship to Shore for more than five decades The result is a hefty tome in which Roscoe shares his encyclopedic knowledge and unyielding fascination with communications systems The book includes all the vessels in the RCMP marine section and later marine division the RCAF marine squadrons the Royal Canadian Navy the Canadian Government Merchant Marine and the Canadian Coast Guard including the weather ships and icebreakers Radio History Ship to Shore is complemented by a wealth of historic photos of everything from warships to Canada s famous Bluenose schooner Canadiana ,1990 British Columbia Lumberman ,1965

Un/Covering the North Valerie Alia,2011-11-01 Despite setbacks and cutbacks Canada leads the world in northern and Aboriginal communications This book provides a comprehensive survey of communications in the circumpolar region focusing on the Canadian Arctic and sub Arctic but also looking at the circumpolar North Alaska Siberia Greenland and the Nordic Saami nations Radio television magazines newspapers and web sites are all covered As technologies and access improve Aboriginal people are increasingly taking control of their own representation and consolidating their presence in northern media Alia concludes that Canada will maintain its leadership in northern communications in the years ahead given the topic s far reaching importance and international context For Most Conspicuous Bravery Reginald H. Roy,2011-01-01 I would have followed him through Hell said one of the men who was serving with George Pearkes at Passchendaele where he won the Victoria Cross If his men were devoted to him he was equally so to them In the character of this distinguished Canadian soldier and statesman most conspicuous bravery utmost gallantry and supreme contempt of danger were combined with a deep sense of duty and a zeal for service Set against the background of Canada s twentieth century transformation from a rural and agricultural society into an urban technological nation General Pearkes s career makes a compelling biographical study After proving up his homestead in Alberta Pearkes joined the Royal North West Mounted Police and served in the Yukon until he was able to purchase his discharge and enlist in 1915 In Europe he was soon in the trenches where wounded five times he saw the Canadian Army engage in battle after battle on the Western Front and win a reputation as an elite corps In the two decades between the World Wars Pearkes served in the small permanent force as district commander deputy commandant at the Royal Military College Kingston and as Director of Military Training in Ottawa Neglect and apathy in the 1920 s and financial stringencies and isolationism in the 1930 s made the task of maintaining the militia in a state of preparedness increasingly difficult When the inevitable war broke out in September 1939 Pearkes was among those who had to forge the weapon Until late in 1942 when he was recalled to Canada to take charge of the Pacific Command Pearkes served overseas training the 2nd Brigade and later the 1st Division as the Battle of Britain was waged overhead and plans and techniques for the eventual invasion of Europe were perfected Back in Canada he became involved in the major political furore caused by the continuing need for reinforcements Pearkes s role in the conscription crisis and the Generals Revolt sheds new light on these important issues Shortly before the war ended Pearkes retired but he soon accepted the call to stand as a member of Parliament From 1945 to 1960 when he was appointed lieutenant governor of British Columbia he served as a Conservative defence critic and as Minister of Defence in the Diefenbaker cabinet He was deeply involved in the highly charged and hotly debated decisions of the cold war era including Bomarc the Arrow NATO NORAD and provisions for civil defence and his views on them will be significant to those interested in Canadian political and military history

The History and Values of a Northern Athapaskan Indian Village Janice R. Sheppard,1983 Our Debt to the Dog Bryan D. Cummins,2013-11-07 When Homo sapiens sapiens met Canis lupus lupus millennia ago the result was Canis lupus familiaris the domestic dog Since that fateful encounter the dog has become arguably humankind s greatest creation The domestic dog is the most widely distributed species other than ourselves in the world being found virtually wherever people live and is also the most diversified of species with literally hundreds of recognized breeds While we have shaped the dog it too has helped shape human history in innumerable ways Our Debt to the Dog is a critical historical and cross cultural examination through the use of case studies of this most improbable 15 000 year relationship and an exploration of how this relationship shaped the history of the world It is also very much an apology to the dog because over the course of the partnership horrific acts were perpetrated against it intentionally and otherwise Our Debt to the Dog enriches our understanding of the dog and extends our appreciation for the profound complexity of past and present human canine relationships and the dog s contributions to our lives and our world Aboriginal Peoples and Electoral Reform in Canada Robert A. Milen,1991-01-01 This volume features differing views of past present and possible future roles for Aboriginal people in the Canadian political and electoral system Proceedings ,2000
