Thomas Finan, 2021-02-03 In the early 1800s American critics warned about the danger of literature as a distraction from reality Later critical accounts held that American literature during the antebellum period was idealistic and that literature grew more realistic after the horrors of the Civil War By focusing on three leading American authors Ralph Waldo Emerson Walt Whitman and Emily Dickinson Reading Reality challenges that analysis Thomas Finan reveals how antebellum authors used words such as real and reality as key terms for literary discourse and claimed that the real was in fact central to their literary enterprise He argues that for many Americans in the early nineteenth century the real was often not synonymous with the physical world It could refer to the spiritual the sincere or the individual s experience He further explains how this awareness revises our understanding of the literary and conceptual strategies of American writers By unpacking antebellum senses of the real Finan casts new light on the formal traits of the period s literature the pressures of the literary marketplace in nineteenth century America and the surprising possibilities of literary reading      Writing Surfaces John Riddell, 2013-06-24 In Writing Surfaces derek beaulieu and Lori Emerson present a collection of John Riddell s work Riddell s poems and short stories are a remarkable mix of largely typewriter based concrete poetry mixed with fiction and drawings Riddell s oeuvre fell out of popular attention but it has recently garnered interest among poets and critics engaged with media studies especially studies of the typewriter and experimental writing Riddell is best known for his short fiction pieces H and Pope Leo El Elope a pair of graphic fictions written in collaboration with or dedicated to bpNichol However his work moves well beyond comic strips into a series of radical fictions Riddell s work embraces game play unreadability and illegibility procedural work non representational narrative photocopy degeneration collage handwritten texts and gestural work His self aware and meta textual short fiction challenges the limits of machine based composition and his reception as a media based poet With media studies increasingly turning to media archaeology and the reading and study of antiquated analogue based modes of composition as typified by the photocopier and the fax machine as well as the typewriter Riddell is a perfect candidate for further appreciation and study by new generations of readers authors and scholars      Inside the Invisible Box: My Journey from Mars to a Rising Phoenix Z.W.
