The Lion and the Honeycomb Richard Palmer Blackmur, 1935      The Lion and the Honeycomb Richard P. Blackmur, 1966      The Lion and the Honeycomb Richard Palmer Blackmur, 1935      Lionel Trilling and the Critics John Rodden, 1999-01-01 Lionel Trilling and the Critics provides a comprehensive portrait of Lionel Trilling perhaps the most influential American cultural critic of the twentieth century The contributors are a who's who of Anglo American intellectuals from the 1930s through the 1970s They include Edmund Wilson Robert Penn Warren F R Leavis Leslie Fiedler R W B Lewis R P Blackmur Irving Howe Irving Kristol Raymond Williams Norman Podhoretz Gertrude Himmelfarb William Barrett Bruno Bettelheim Gerald Graff and Cornel West      Addressing Frank Kermode: Essays in Criticism and Interpretation Margaret Tudeau-Clayton, Martin Warner, 1991-07-30      The Portrait of Eccentricity Giancarlo Maiorino, 1991 In this companion to his The Cornucopian Mind and the Baroque Unity of the Arts Maiorino examines the links between Renaissance and the modern versions of the Grotesque In this interdisciplinary study the term eccentricity refers to styles of playful extravagance Maiorino focuses on the rhetorical figures of excess employed by a critic historian Giorgio Vasari on the willful artificiality of a painter Giuseppe Arcimboldo and on the programmatic and interpretive commentary of a theorist Gregorio Comanini Maiorino draws subtle and persuasive connections between the images he discusses and the grotesque face of sixteenth century poetics and rhetoric He sets the mannerist and the grotesque against the philosophical seriousness of Renaissance humanism interpreting them as a celebration of the ludic and fantastic possibilities of art itself Aiming at pleasure rather than instruction this art plays on the boundaries of the natural and the artificial the credible and the impossible taking delight in parody excess disjunction and exaggeration      Canons and Wisdoms Albert Cook, 2016-11-11 In Canons and Wisdoms Albert Cook addresses what is arguable the most profound question about poetry and literature What is its human value Cook claims that the value lies in the special yield of wisdom rich full and not available in other forms of human discourse This somewhat traditional position is reinforced by the related arguments of such philosophers as Adorno and Heidegger and by other works in Renaissance poetry and modern poetry and fiction where the sense of the work becomes clearer when it is seen in the light of such a question Cook addresses what can be claimed for poetry and literature after all due allowance has been made for the relativity of canons the subjectivity of the literary experience and the subtle and comprehensive effects of received expectations Such questions have dominated recent discussions about the value of literature The nature of all human utterance argues for its being aimed at social inclusion formalized as a canon even though such a notion must remain ideal Canons and Wisdoms is an eloquent and original contribution to the ongoing debate about the canon It is the work of an experienced erudite and individualistic scholar working at the intersection of philosophy and literary theory and criticism      The Rhetoric of Fiction Wayne C. Booth, 2010-05-15 The first edition of The Rhetoric of Fiction transformed the criticism of fiction and soon became a classic in the field One of the most widely used texts in fiction

courses it is a standard reference point in advanced discussions of how fictional form works how authors make novels accessible and how readers recreate texts and its concepts and terms such as the implied author the postulated reader and the unreliable narrator have become part of the standard critical lexicon For this new edition Wayne C Booth has written an extensive Afterword in which he clarifies misunderstandings corrects what he now views as errors and sets forth his own recent thinking about the rhetoric of fiction The other new feature is a Supplementary Bibliography prepared by James Phelan in consultation with the author which lists the important critical works of the past twenty years two decades that Booth describes as the richest in the history of the subject

Artistic Individuality: A Study of Selected 20th Century Artist's Novels. Zivile Gimbutas, 2012-09-21 In this study of a series of artist novels individuality is elucidated by childhood experiences sensuality and receptivity the urge for self expression relation to nature and creative work Individuality is essentially the recognition of one's self as a unique part of a whole which is apt to be discovered in kinship with nature and expressed in aesthetics that stem from an appreciation of nature The featured novels are Willa Cather's The Song of the Lark M Allen Cunningham's Lost Son James Joyce's A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man W Somerset Maugham's The Moon and Sixpence Dodie Smith's I Capture the Castle John Updike's Seek My Face and Virginia Woolf's To the Lighthouse

On Eloquence Denis Donoghue, 2008-10-01 On Eloquence questions the common assumption that eloquence is merely a subset of rhetoric a means toward a rhetorical end Denis Donoghue an eminent and prolific critic of the English language holds that this assumption is erroneous In this book Donoghue maintains that eloquence should be examined independent of mere rhetoric and that it has its own intrinsic value

The Critical Reception of Henry James Linda Simon, 2007 Marginal Modernity: The Aesthetics of Dependency from Kierkegaard to Joyce Leonard Lisi, 2013 Two ways of understanding the aesthetic organization of literary works have come down to us from the late 18th century and dominate discussions of European modernism today the aesthetics of autonomy associated with the self sufficient work of art and the aesthetics of fragmentation practiced by the avant gardes In this revisionary study Leonardo Lisi argues that these models rest on assumptions about the nature of truth and existence that cannot be treated as exhaustive of modern experience Lisi traces an alternative aesthetics of dependency that provides a different formal structure philosophical foundation and historical condition for modernist texts Taking Europe's Scandinavian periphery as his point of departure Lisi examines how Kierkegaard and Ibsen imagined a response to the changing conditions of modernity different from those at the European core one that subsequently influenced James Hofmannsthal Rilke and Joyce Combining close readings with a broader revision of the nature and genealogy of modernism Marginal Modernity challenges what we understand by modernist aesthetics their origins and their implications for how we conceive our relation to the modern world

Love and Law in Europe Hanne Petersen, 2018-11-08 First published in 1998 this volume aims to draw attention to an ongoing shift in the perception of law which is now increasingly understood as a cultural and historical phenomenon As other such phenomena like music literature or art it is acknowledged that it is created in a specific environment on which it is dependent for its functioning and interpretation The historical aspects of love in a European and Nordic context are underlined as well as the modern understanding of love and law as incompatible and contrasting concepts Developments within the European Union and especially the relation of the EU to so called third country nationals and immigrants demonstrate that the problematic concerning law and love is not only one of legal philosophy but also of legal and everyday reality The claim that love has been specifically European is discarded as Eurocentrist and the need for more particular emotions and a more pragmatic approach to romantic feelings for a reasonable love is discussed from legal feminist and philosophical perspectives A William V.

Spanos Reader Daniel T. O'Hara,Michelle Martin,Donald Pease,2015-05-30 The American critic William V Spanos a pioneer of postmodern theory and co founder of one of its principal organs the journal boundary 2 is in the words of A William V Spanos Reader coeditor Daniel T O'Hara everything that current post modern theory is accused of not being polemical engaged prophetic passionate Informed by his experience as a prisoner of war in Dresden Spanos saw dire consequences for life in modernist aesthetic experiments and he thereafter imbued his work with a constructive aspect ever in the name of more life Octavio Paz and T. S. Eliot Tom Boll,2017-12-02 When the sixteen year old Octavio Paz 1914 1998 discovered The Waste Land in Spanish translation it opened the doors of modern poetry The influence of T S Eliot would accompany Paz throughout his career defining many of his key poems and pronouncements Yet Paz's attitude towards his precursor was ambivalent Boll's study is the first to trace the history of Paz's engagement with Eliot in Latin American and Spanish periodicals of the 1930s and 40s It reveals the fault lines that run through the work of the dominant figure in recent Mexican letters By positioning Eliot in a Latin American context it also offers new perspectives on one of the capital figures of Anglo American modernism The Battle of the Classics Eric Adler,2020-09-04 These are troubling days for the humanities In response a recent proliferation of works defending the humanities has emerged But taken together what are these works really saying and how persuasive do they prove The Battle of the Classics demonstrates the crucial downsides of contemporary apologetics for the humanities and presents in its place a historically informed case for a different approach to rescuing the humanistic disciplines in higher education It reopens the passionate debates about the classics that took place in late nineteenth and early twentieth century America as a springboard for crafting a novel foundation for the humanistic tradition Eric Adler demonstrates that current defenses of the humanities rely on the humanistic disciplines as inculcators of certain poorly defined skills such as critical thinking It criticizes this conventional approach contending that humanists cannot hope to save their disciplines without arguing in favor of particular humanities content As the uninspired defenses of the classical humanities in the late nineteenth century prove instrumental apologetics are bound to fail All the same the book shows that proponents of the Great Books favor a curriculum that is too intellectually narrow for the twenty first century The Battle of the Classics thus lays out a substance based approach to undergraduate education that will revive the humanities even as it steers clear of overreliance on the Western canon The book envisions a global humanities based on the examination of masterworks from manifold cultures as the heart of an intellectually and morally sound education

Debating Orientalism Anna Bernard, David Attwell, 2013-06-13 Edward Said continues to fascinate and stir controversy nowhere more than with his classic work Orientalism Debating Orientalism brings a rare mix of perspectives to an ongoing polemic Contributors from a range of disciplines take stock of the book's impact and appraise its significance in contemporary cultural politics and philosophy

No Place for Home Jay Ellis, 2013-11-05 This book was written to venture beyond interpretations of Cormac McCarthy's characters as simple antinomian and non psychological and of his landscapes as unrelated to the violent arcs of often orphaned and always emotionally isolated and socially detached characters As McCarthy usually eschews direct indications of psychology his landscapes allow us to infer much about their motivations The relationship of ambivalent nostalgia for domesticity to McCarthy's descriptions of space remains relatively unexamined at book length and through less theoretical application than close reading By including McCarthy's latest book this study offers the only complete study of all nine novels Within McCarthy studies this book extends and complicates a growing interest in space and domesticity in his work The author combines a high regard for McCarthy's stylistic prowess with a provocative reading of how his own psychological habits around gender issues and family relations power books that only appear to be stories of masculine heroics expressions of misogynistic fear or antinomian rejections of civilized life Building a Profession Lionel Gossman, Mihai I. Spărișu, 1994-03-08 At a time when the study of literature and the literary canon itself are once again the focus of intense debate Building a Profession offers a retrospective on the early days of Comparative Literature in the United States and on its role in defining literary scholarship in the heady decades following the end of the second World War Composed of autobiographical sketches by a number of eminent comparatists chiefly of the generation that has either recently retired or is approaching retirement it anchors the intellectual and scholarly aspirations of the post War period through the personal narratives of those who shared in them and promoted them in the experience of war uprooting racial and religious intolerance or persecution and a deep longing for peaceful exchange and international understanding It is both a contribution to the history of literary study in the United States and a record of changes that have taken place in the culture of this country since World War II

The Errant Art of Moby-Dick William V. Spanos, 1995 In The Errant Art of Moby Dick one of America's most distinguished critics reexamines Melville's monumental novel and turns the occasion into a meditation on the history and implications of canon formation In Moby Dick a work virtually ignored and discredited at the time of its publication William V Spanos uncovers a text remarkably suited as a foundation for a New Americanist critique of the ideology based on Puritan origins that was codified in the canon established by Old Americanist critics from F O Matthiessen to Lionel Trilling But Spanos also shows with the novel still as his focus the limitations of this New Americanist discourse and its failure to escape the totalizing imperial perspective it finds in its predecessor Combining

Heideggerian ontology with a sociopolitical perspective derived primarily from Foucault the reading of Moby Dick that forms the center of this book demonstrates that the traditional identification of Melville's novel as a romance renders it complicitous in the discourse of the Cold War At the same time Spanos shows how New Americanist criticism overlooks the degree to which Moby Dick anticipates not only America's self representation as the savior of the world against communism but also the emergent postmodern and anti imperial discourse deployed against such an image Spanos's critique reveals the extraordinary relevance of Melville's novel as a post Cold War text foreshadowing not only the self destructive end of the historical formation of the American cultural identity in the genocidal assault on Vietnam but also the reactionary labeling of the current era as the end of history This provocative and challenging study presents not only a new view of the development of literary history in the United States but a devastating critique of the genealogy of ideology in the American cultural establishment
