Donelson, Alleen Pace Nilsen, 1997 With 140 fewer pages than the fourth edition the fifth obviously has been tightened it s partly in the format with narrower margins and less white space Otherwise some text has been rephrased or rearranged and topics for example adolescent psychology given shorter shrift Coverage of Holocaust literature has been expanded and discussion of problem novels improved Sports books have been dumped in with humor movies and other stuff including humorous poetry which it seems the authors feel is the only kind teens read for pleasure other types of poetry as well as short stories and drama are relegated to the English classroom coverage of which has been enlarged The chapter on sf and fantasy is good on historical aspects but weak on today s writers A short list of Internet listserves and Web sites has been incorporated as part of using YA literature in the library Once again updating of appendixes seems spotty Nevertheless this is useful as a resource for youth librarians and a tool for teaching YA literature Sally Estes The Reading/writing Connection Carol Booth Olson, 2007 This is an especially well researched and documented text the author s voice is one that is knowledgeable yet does not intend to intimidate She speaks to her audience as a dedicated professional to professional I could only hope that my students would

read and retain her words of wisdom Anna L Bolling California State University Stanislaus I haven't seen any books that come close to what Carol Olson has developed Harry Noden Kent State University The illustrations and scanned in documents make Booth Olson's book readable interesting relevant and real life These visuals from actual students help transform her ideas from theory into practice Kathy Bussert Webb The University of Texas at Brownsville This is the only secondary text that I have found to explain and provide authentic examples of reading writing workshop process The activities are practical and motivating Hurray for Olson Donna Uebler Bradley University Now in its second edition The Reading Writing Connection features an array of individual reading and writing strategies activities and mini lessons that teachers can implement in their classrooms Well respected author Carol Booth Olson extends far beyond most books intended for teachers of language arts by integrating reading and writing in creative theory based ways Lauded by students and professors as a clear and straightforward text this revised and updated edition includes plenty of material about teaching the writing process and responding to literature and provides examples of lessons that help readers learn specific strategies Unique in its field The Reading Writing Connection provides student models at middle and high school levels in almost every chapter illustrating actual student responses to reading and writing activities The text is also rich with literary selections giving teachers easy access to the literature featured in the activities and demonstration lessons Features New to the Second Edition Extensive coverage of differentiated instruction for English Language Learners A new chapter entitled Introducing Students to the Cognitive Strategies in Their Mental Tool Kits that summarizes and clarifies students use of cognitive strategies in their thinking An extensive and revised companion website that features reading and writing rubrics student models blackline masters of graphic organizers and much more available at www.ablongman.com/olson2e

Poetic Ethics in Proverbs Anne W. Stewart, 2016 This study explores the sophisticated understanding of the formation of the moral self that emerges in the poetry of Proverbs which many have wrongly dismissed as simplistic Anne W Stewart analyzes images and metaphors to illuminate the Book's views on the role of emotions and desires in shaping moral imaginations

Slips of the Mind Jennifer Soong, 2025-04-07 An audacious account of what happens when forgetting becomes a way of writing and writing becomes a way of forgetting In Slips of the Mind poet and critic Jennifer Soong turns away from forgetting's long standing associations with suppression privation and error to argue that the absence or failure of memory has often functioned as a generative creative principle Exploring forgetting not as the mere rejection of a literary past or a form of negative poetics Soong puts to the test its very aesthetic meaning What new structures forms of desires styles and long and short feelings do lapses in time allow What is oblivion's relationship to composition And how does the twentieth century poet come to figure as the quintessential embodiment of such questions Soong uncovers forgetting's influence on Gertrude Stein Lyn Hejinian Tan Lin Harryette Mullen Lissa Wolsak and New York School poets John Ashbery James Schuyler Bernadette Mayer and Ted Berrigan among others She reveals that forgetting's shapeshifting produces differences in poetic genre interest and degrees of intentionality and that such malleability is part of forgetting's nature. Most provocatively, Soong shows how losing track of things, leaving them behind or finding them already gone, resists overdetermination and causality in the name of surprise as poets leverage forgetting in order to replace identity with style. Slips of the Mind is the kind of literary criticism that will reward all readers of modern and contemporary poetry. Literature for Today's Young Adults.
