Roman Biznet Georgia Wood Pangborn,1902

Life in the Roman World of Nero and St. Paul Thomas Tucker,2018-01-19 The best means of realising the extent of the Roman Empire in or about the year 64 is to glance at the map It will be found to reach from the Atlantic Ocean to the Euphrates from the middle of England approximately the river Trent to the south of Egypt from the Rhine and the Danube to the Desert of Sahara The Mediterranean Sea is a Roman lake and there is not a spot upon its shores which is not under Roman rule In round numbers the empire is three thousand miles in length and two thousand in breadth Its population which at least in the western parts was much thinner then than it is over the same area at present cannot be calculated with any accuracy but an estimate of one hundred millions would perhaps be not very far from the mark

The Supernatural Voice Simon Ravens,2014 The use of high male voices in the past has long been one of the most seriously misunderstood areas of musical scholarship and practice In opening up this rich subject to readers of all sorts with refreshingly clear perspectives and plenty of new material Simon Ravens well researched book goes a very long way to rectifying matters Ravens writes damnably well and if the story that emerges is necessarily a complex one his treatment of it is always engagingly comprehensible

ANDREW PARROTT Tracing the origins influences and development of falsetto singing in Western music Simon Ravens offers a revisionist history of high male singing from the Ancient Greeks to Michael Jackson This history embraces not just singers of counter tenor and alto parts up to and including our own time but the castrati of the Ancient world the male sopranists of late Medieval and Renaissance Europe and the dual register tenors of the Baroque and Classical periods Musical aesthetics aside to understand the changing ways men have sung high it is also vital to address extra musical factors which are themselves in a state of flux To this end Ravens illuminates his chronological survey by exploring topics as diverse as human physiology the stereotyping of national characters gender identity and the changing of boys voices The result is a complex and fascinating history sure to appeal not only to music scholars but to performers and all those with an interest particularly in early music Simon Ravens is a performer writer and director of Musica Contexta with whom he has performed in Britain and Europe regularly broadcast and made numerous acclaimed recordings Ravens had previously founded and directed Australasia s foremost early music choir the Tudor Consort Between 2002 and 2007 his regular monthly column Ravens View appeared in the Early Music Review to which he still regularly contributes

Housing the New Romans Katharine T. von Stackelberg, Elizabeth Macaulay-Lewis, 2017-06-01 In the last twenty years reception studies have significantly enhanced our understanding of the ways in which Classics has shaped modern Western culture but very little attention has been directed toward the reception of classical architecture Housing the New Romans Architectural Reception and Classical Style in the Modern World addresses this gap by investigating ways in which appropriation and allusion facilitated the reception of Classical Greece and Rome through the requisition and redeployment of classicizing tropes to create neo Antique sites of dwelling in the 19th and early 20th centuries The volume across nine essays will cover both European and American iterations of place making including Sir John Soanes house in London the Hotel de Beauharnais in Paris and the Getty Villa in California By focusing on structures and places that are oriented towards private life houses hotels clubs tombs and gardens the volume directs the critical gaze towards diverse and complex sites of curatorial self fashioning The goal of the volume is to provide a multiplicity of interpretative frameworks e g object agency enchantment hyperreality memory infrastructure that may be applied to the study of architectural reception This critical approach makes Housing the New Romans the first work of its kind in the emerging field of architectural and landscape reception studies and in the hitherto textually dominated field of classical reception
