Psychological Insights for Understanding COVID-19 and Families, Parents, and Children Marc H. Bornstein, 2020-12-13. With specially commissioned introductions from international experts, the Psychological Insights for Understanding COVID-19 series draws together previously published chapters on key themes in psychological science that engage with people's unprecedented experience of the pandemic. This volume collects chapters that address prominent issues and challenges presented by the SARS-CoV-2 pandemic to families, parents, and children. A new introduction from Marc H. Bornstein reviews how disasters are known to impact families, parents, and children and explores traditional and novel responsibilities of parents and their effects on child growth and development. It examines parenting at this time, detailing consequences for home life and economies that the pandemic has triggered, considers child discipline and abuse during the pandemic, and makes recommendations that will support families in terms of multilevel interventions at family, community, and national and international levels. The selected chapters elucidate key themes including children's worry, stress, and parenting; positive parenting programs; barriers which constrain population level impact of prevention programs; and the importance of culturally adapting evidence-based family intervention programs. Featuring theory and research on key topics germane to the global pandemic, the Psychological Insights for Understanding COVID-19 series offers thought-provoking reading for professionals, students, academics, policy makers, and parents concerned with the psychological consequences of COVID-19 for individuals, families, and society.

Lifespan Perspectives on Natural Disasters Katie E. Cherry, 2009-07-09. Some of our most disturbing images of Hurricane Katrina involve the very old trapped in flooded nursing homes and the very young sick in toxic trailers. Using the Katrina-Rita nexus as its reference point, Lifespan Perspectives on Natural Disasters takes the developmental long view on human strengths and vulnerabilities during large-scale devastation and crisis. An expert panel of behavioral scientists and first responders analyzes the psychological impact of natural disasters on and coping faculties associated with children, adolescents, and young, middle-aged, older, young-old, and late-life/oldest-old adults. This timely information is invaluable both to mental health service providers and to those tasked with developing age-appropriate disaster preparedness, intervention, and recovery programs. In addition, the book references other deadly storms as well as other major catastrophic events, e.g., the September 11 attacks, the Indian Ocean Tsunami, and includes such topics as Young children's understanding of hurricanes Positive adjustment in youth after Katrina How families make meaning out of disaster Disaster recovery in the workplace Recovery services for the frail elderly Coping and health in late life Preparation and training mental health personnel for disasters Unique in the disaster literature Lifespan Perspectives on Natural Disasters serves as a research reference and idea book for professionals and graduate level students in psychology social work and disaster preparedness and services
