Moving Objects Damon Taylor, 2020-09-17 Moving Objects deals with emotive design designed objects that demand to be engaged with rather than simply used If postmodernism depended upon ironic distance and Critical Design is all about questions then emotive design runs hotter than this confronting how designers are using feelings in what they make Damon Taylor's original study considers these emotionally laden highly authored works often produced in limited editions and sold like art objects such as a chair made from cuddly toys a leather sofa that resembles a cow and a jewellery box fashioned from human hair Tracing the phenomenon back to the Dutch inflection that began with Droog designers like Jurgen Bey and Hella Jongerius Taylor conducts an analysis of the development of Design Art and looks for its origins in the uncanny explorations of surrealism Offering a critique of Speculative Design and an examination of the work of designers such as Mathias Bengtsson whose work involves growing furniture inside computers Taylor asks what happens when the tangible melts into the datascape and design becomes a question of mobilities In this way Moving Objects examines contemporary issues of how we live with artefacts and what design can do

The Dublin Railway Murder Thomas Morris, 2021-11-11 A thrilling and perplexing investigation of a true Victorian crime at Dublin railway station Dublin November 1856 George Little the chief cashier of the Broadstone railway terminus is found dead lying in a pool of blood beneath his desk He has been savagely beaten his head almost severed there is no sign of a murder weapon and the office door is locked apparently from the inside Thousands of pounds in gold and silver are left untouched at the scene of the crime Augustus Guy Ireland's most experienced detective teams up with Dublin's leading lawyer to investigate the murder But the mystery defies all explanation and two celebrated sleuths sent by Scotland Yard soon return to London baffled Five suspects are arrested then released with every step of the salacious case followed by the press clamouring for answers But then a local woman comes forward claiming to know the murderer The Dublin Railway Murder is a true crime masterclass Philip

The Mills-Bakeries of Ostia Jan Theo Bakker,2023-01-16 The ruins of Ostia main harbour of Imperial Rome were uncovered in the late nineteenth and first half of the twentieth century In the present volume the remains of three buildings used for the milling of grain and baking of bread pistrina are studied according to modern archaeological standards A detailed analysis of the architecture and masonry allows a description of the installation and vicissitudes of the pistrina Subsequently the distribution of these buildings in the city and their place in the neighbourhood is studied The technical achievement of the Ostian bakers is assessed Although water power was sometimes used in Roman grain mills this was not the case in Ostia This in turn affects estimates of the output of the pistrina Nevertheless the amount of bread that was produced must have been considerably higher than that in Pompeii where many small bakeries have been preserved No remains of bakeries have ever been found in Rome or Constantinople but it may be assumed that the average bakery in these cities did not differ much from the Ostian workshops Involvement of the fisc with the Ostian bakers has already been suggested by Bakker in Living and Working with the Gods The role of the Emperor is dealt with in this volume once more The Ostian corpus pistorum presumably fed Imperial slaves and the local fire brigade There are good reasons to assume that Ostia like Rome knew distributions of free grain
