Association Founder CounselingInternships.com and Change Inc. Using this text in my practicum course. It is a very user-friendly book with many resources in addition to good clinical information. Jessica Brumm Larson, PhD, Alverno College. This best-selling guide to the practicum and internship experience, written expressly for graduate counseling students by a seasoned counselor and educator, is now substantially revised with updated and expanded content including the 2014 ACA Standards of Ethics. With a strong focus on counseling as a specific professional identity, the book includes new information on developing one's own approach to counseling and supervision, maintaining satisfactory working relationships with supervisors and colleagues, developing good writing skills, and record keeping and managing crisis and trauma. The Second Edition also reflects such developments as DSM 5 and CORE CACREP standards. With a concise, accessible writing style, the book describes everything students need to know as they enter and progress through the practicum and internship process. Replete with plentiful case examples and downloadable sample forms and templates, this supportive manual encompasses information addressing how to select and apply for practicum internships in all settings, including mental health, rehabilitation, schools, addictions, and marriage and counseling. It examines such ethical, legal, and issues as informed consent, confidentiality, client records, boundary issues, and liability insurance. Multicultural considerations that impact counseling, along with the importance of self-care, including stress management and dealing with aggressive client behaviors, are also discussed in detail. This mentor in a book gives counseling students invaluable assistance in preparing for and successfully assimilating their first experiences with the realities of working with clients and eases the journey toward developing into a self-confident, skilled, and ethical practitioner. New to the Second Edition: Updated to include content on 2014 ACA Ethics Code, CACREP, CORE developments, legal issues, DSM 5, and social media. Expanded content on developing an individual approach to counseling and supervision. Provides new information on crisis intervention. Increased content on supervision styles and models. Expanded information on student safety at field sites. Augmented discussion of careers. Includes expanded self-reflection exercises for the intern. Provides downloadable versions of student forms and templates. Key Features: Focuses on counseling as a specific professional identity. Covers everything students need to know as they enter and progress through the practicum/internship process. Helps students to understand the realities of working with clients after they leave the safe learning environment. Mentors students in a supportive, user-friendly style. Includes abundant case examples. Includes abundant forms and templates for students available as online downloads.

The Field Placement Survival Guide Linda May Grobman, 2002

The Columbia Guide to Social Work Writing Warren J. Green, Barbara Levy Simon, 2012. Social work practitioners write for a variety of publications and they are expected to show fluency in a number of related fields. Whether the target is a course instructor, scholarly journal, fellowship organization, or general news outlet, social workers must be clear, persuasive, and comprehensive in their writing, especially on provocative subjects. This first of its kind guide features top scholars and educators providing a much-needed introduction to social work writing and scholarship. Foregrounding the process of social work writing the coeditors particularly emphasize how to think about and approach one's subject in a productive manner. The guide begins with an overview of social work writing from the 1880s to the present and then follows with ideal strategies for academic paper writing, social work journal writing, and social work research writing. A section on applied professional writing addresses student composition in field education writing for and about clinical practice, the effective communication of policy information to diverse audiences, program and proposal development, advocacy, and administrative writing. The concluding section focuses on specific fields of practice including writing on child and family welfare, contemporary social issues, aging, and intervention in global contexts. Grounding their essays in systematic observations, induction, and deduction, and a wealth of real world examples, the contributors describe the conceptualization, development, and presentation of social work writing in ways that better secure its power and relevance. This is the book for you. Learn effective strategies to help you cope with the stresses of parenting the second time around, care for vulnerable grandkids, and set boundaries with their often troubled parents. Navigate the maze of government aid, court proceedings, and special education. Wise, honest, moving stories show how numerous other grandparents are surviving and thriving in their new roles. Updated throughout and reflecting current laws and policies affecting families, the second edition features new discussions of kids, technology, use, and other timely issues. A Freshman Survival Guide for College Students with Autism Spectrum Disorders Haley Moss, 2014-06-21 Chatty, honest, and full of really useful information, Haley Moss' first-hand account of the college experience covers everything students on the autism spectrum need to know as they begin their Freshman year. She shares tips and advice on getting ready for college, dorm life, making friends, and what to expect from classes, professors, and exams. The Counseling Practicum and Internship Manual Shannon Hodges, PhD, LMHC, ACS, 2019-10-16 This best-selling guide to the practicum and internship experience, written expressly for graduate counseling students by a seasoned counselor and educator, is now substantially revised. New and expanded content touches on CACREP developments, trauma-informed care, social media, mindfulness, multicultural competencies, and more. With a strong focus on counseling as a specific professional identity, the book helps graduate students and new counselors develop their own approach to counseling and supervision, maintaining beneficial working relationships, self-care, sharpening writing skills, and record-keeping. A completely new chapter focuses on trauma-informed care developed from evidence-based approaches. Concise and accessible, the book describes everything students need to know as they enter and progress through the practicum and internship process. Replete with case examples and sample forms, it encompasses information on how to select and apply for practicum internships in all settings. It also examines ethical and legal issues ensuring student safety at field sites and clinical issues, including
