Individual Differences Universals In Language Learning Aptitude:

Individual Differences & Universals in Language Learning Aptitude Karl Conrad Diller, 1981 Individual Differences and Instructed Language Learning Peter Robinson, 2002 Second language learners differ in how successfully they adapt to and profit from instruction This book aims to show that adaptation to L2 instruction and subsequent L2 learning is a result of the interaction between learner characteristics and learning contexts Describing and explaining these interactions is fundamentally important to theories of instructed SLA and for effective L2 pedagogy This collection is the first to explore this important issue in contemporary task based immersion and communicative pedagogic settings In the first section leading experts in individual differences research describe recent advances in theories of intelligence L2 aptitude motivation anxiety and emotion and the relationship of native language abilities to L2 learning In the second section these theoretical insights are applied to empirical studies of individual differences treatment interactions in classroom learning experimental studies of the effects of focus on form and incidental learning and studies of naturalistic versus instructed SLA Individual Differences in Second Language Learning Peter Skehan, 2014-04-04 Understanding the way in which learners differ from one another is of fundamental concern to those involved in second language acquisition either as researchers or teachers This account is the first to review at book length the important research into differences considering matters such as aptitude motivation learner strategies personality and interaction between learner characteristics and types of instruction

Cognitive Individual Differences in Second Language Processing and Acquisition Gisela Granena, Daniel O. Jackson, Yucel Yilmaz, 2016-12-23 Cognitive Individual Differences in Second Language Processing and Acquisition contains 14 chapters that focus on the role of cognitive IDs in L2 learning and processing The book brings together theoretical and methodological approaches to the study of cognitive IDs as well as empirical studies that investigate the mediating role of cognitive IDs in various linguistic domains Chapters include contributions from researchers working within second language acquisition SLA psycholinguistics and cognitive psychology sharing a common interest in the application of cognitive IDs to their respective areas of study The interdisciplinary understanding of cognitive IDs presented in this book makes the book of interest to a wide readership of graduate students faculty members and academic researchers in the fields of SLA psycholinguistics cognitive psychology and education The Routledge Handbook of Second Language Acquisition and Language Testing Paula Winke, Tineke Brunfaut, 2020-12-28 This Handbook with 45 chapters written by the world's leading scholars in second language acquisition SLA and language testing dives into the important interface between SLA and language testing shared ground where researchers seek to measure second language performance to better understand how people learn their second languages The Handbook also reviews how to best measure and evaluate the second language L2 learners personal characteristics backgrounds and learning contexts to better understand their L2 learning trajectories Taking a transdisciplinary approach to research the book builds upon recent theorizing and measurement principles from the fields of applied linguistics cognitive science psychology psycholinguistics psychometrics educational measurement and social psychology The Handbook is divided into six key sections 1 Assessment concepts for SLA researchers 2 Building instruments for SLA research 3 Measuring individual differences 4 Measuring language development 5 Testing specific populations and 6 Measurement principles for SLA researchers Language Aptitude Zhisheng (Edward) Wen, Peter Skehan, Adriana Biedroń, Shaofeng Li, Richard L. Li,2022-05-25 This book presents a nuanced look at the relationship between language learning styles and culture to illuminate how these important constructs are understood employed and play out in the real world Through the lens of different learning style dimensions cognitive affective process centred environment centred and cultural Li unpacks and examines the commonly accepted tensions between learning styles culture teacher assumptions and teaching approaches With a focus on Asian learning styles and Chinese learners Li addresses the past and current debates and reconceptualises the roles and tensions between students learning students cultural backgrounds and teaching styles Li adeptly navigates this controversial arena to demystify preconceptions and provide avenues for innovative and effective classroom practices in language teaching Ideal for pre service ESL EFL teachers researchers and scholars this book bridges the gap between research and practice on culture and language learning in the classroom Trends in Learning Research Samuel N.

Hogan,2006 Learning as used here refers to concerted activity that increases the capacity and willingness of individuals groups organisations and communities to acquire and productively apply new knowledge and skills to grow and mature and to adapt successfully to changes and challenges Such learning empowers individuals and organisations to make wise choices solve problems and break new ground In particular it is sustainable it is a lifelong renewable process for people and for the institutions that serves people Learning certainly includes academic studies and occupational training through high school and beyond but also encompasses the physical cognitive emotional and social development of children in the earliest years of their lives This book presents new research in this explosive field Second Language Anxiety Richard L.

Sparks,2025-07-11 This book traces and summarizes theoretical insights and empirical findings on the topic of whether or not anxiety for language learning could be a causal variable for individual differences in language learning The author brings together three decades of research to show that first language L1 skills and second language L2 aptitude are confounding variables in studies of language anxiety and that learners levels of anxiety for L2 learning are strongly related to their levels of language achievement These findings have suggested that language anxiety instruments reflect students accurate self perceptions of their language skills and their levels of L1 achievement and L2 aptitude The research presented in this book holds the potential to change the ways in which L2 educators and researchers think about language anxiety how language anxiety is assessed how investigations into language anxiety are conducted and how L2 teachers respond to anxiety in the classroom The Routledge Handbook of Second Language Acquisition Susan M. Gass,Alison Mackey,2013-06-17 This handbook brings together 50 leading international figures in the field to produce a state of the art overview of second language acquisition Investigations in Instructed Second Language Acquisition Alex Housen,Michel Pierrard,2008-08-22 Methods in current instructed second language acquisition research range from laboratory experiments to ethnography using non obtrusive participant observation from cross sectional designs to longitudinal case studies Many different types of data serve as the basis for analysis including reaction times measurements global test scores paper and pencil measures introspective comments grammaticality judgements as well as textual data elicited or naturalistic oral or written relating to comprehension or production Some studies rely on extensive quantification of data while others may favour a more qualitative and hermeneutic analytic approach Many of these issues and methods are exemplified by the contributions to this volume Data based studies included here deal with the acquisition of specific linguistic phenomena e g verb and noun morphology lexicon clause structures in a range of target languages e g English French German Russian from a variety of settings involving different instructional approaches e g traditional foreign language classes immersion classes intensive ESL classes content and language integrated language classes Collectively the chapters in this book illustrate the productivity and diversity of current research on instructed second language acquisition As such they serve as a valuable resource for researchers in SLA psycholinguistics linguistics and language education Psycholinguistic Dynamics and Educational Inclusion for Children and Adolescents Katsarou, Dimitra,Sofologi, Maria,Efthymiou, Efthymia,2024-09-12
