Individual Differences In Children:

Individual Differences in Children and Adolescents Donald H. Saklofske, Sybil B. G. Eysenck, This uniquely authoritative collection of original papers with contributions from over twenty countries provides a rare insight into research and applied programs in the study of individual differences in children and adolescents worldwide While delinquency proves to be one of the most common areas of interest a wide range of cognitive personality and social characteristics are examined and the use of the Eysenck Personality Questionnaire in many studies allows uniform comparisons to be made between countries The editors have not only overcome the language barriers which hitherto have made such information virtually inaccessible to the English speaking world They have also succeeded in bringing together studies from developed and developing countries East and West to present a global picture of adolescent and child psychology In particular the book highlights the general and specific cultural influences on child development and adolescent psychology in different countries and reflects the social and research concerns of the countries and cultures represented The authors comprise a cross section of professionals in the social and behavioral sciences working in university and clinical settings While North America is well represented by six chapters including Puerto Rico as is Europe particular efforts were made to obtain contributions from Eastern Europe Asia and Africa At the time this book was developed information exchange with eastern European countries was most difficult It is very exciting to present chapters from Hungary Lithuania Romania Russia and Yugoslavia The inclusion of articles from Japan Korea Singapore Sri Lanka and Uganda also add another dimension to studies of individual differences in children Contributions from Australia Israel and New Zealand also allow the book to take on much more of an international perspective on topics ranging from delinquency fears and motivation to intelligence personality and assessment issues This volume provides a plethora of international perspectives on the study of children It will be essential to sociologists psychologists educators and child study specialists

Temperament and Children Roy P. Martin, A. Michele Lease, Helena R. Slobodskaya, 2020-12-03 The book presents an empirical model of commonly occurring individual differences in children that is derived from a large scale research effort assessing parental and teacher perceptions of children in middle childhood It examines eight characteristic behavioral traits most of which have been widely shown to be present in infants toddlers and preschool aged children The book demonstrates the importance of considering profiles of these relatively stable individual differences for the educational social and emotional life of the child It describes characteristic behaviors of children within each profile emphasizing the assets and liabilities of each and how they are perceived by their parents teachers and peers Chapters explore issues related to the most developmentally effective management of children exhibiting each profile type In addition the book addresses a critical need in child development parenting and teaching to understand the wide range of individual differences observed every day in school aged children Not only does this volume underscore that commonly occurring differences can be understood as being normal and do not suggest a pathology it also discusses implications of the model in diagnosing pathology The book describes what is known about the stability of temperament behaviors and profiles across the lifespan as well as the origins of these behaviors Key topics addressed include Nurturing development of well adjusted children Causes of individual differences in children s behavior Temperamental tendencies and profiles of children Diagnosing psychopathology in children This book is a must have resource for researchers professors and graduate students as well as clinicians and related professionals in developmental clinical child and school psychology social work public health pediatrics family studies educational psychology and counseling and all other interrelated disciplines

Bjorklund, Kayla B.

Causey, 2017-01-04 The Sixth Edition of David F Bjorklund and Kayla B Causey's topically organized Children's Thinking presents a current comprehensive and dynamic examination of cognitive development The book covers individual children and their developmental journeys while also following the general paths of overall cognitive development in children This unique and effective approach gives readers a holistic view of children's cognitive development acknowledging that while no two children are exactly alike they tend to follow similar developmental patterns Supported by the latest research studies and data the Sixth Edition provides valuable insights for readers to better understand and work with children

Perspectives on Individual Differences Affecting Therapeutic Change in Communication Disorders Amy L. Weiss, 2012-12-06 This volume examines the ramifications of individual differences in therapy outcomes for a wide variety of communication disorders In an era where evidence based practice is the clinical profession's watchword each chapter attacks this highly relevant issue from a somewhat different perspective In some areas of communication disorders considering the variance brought by the client into the therapeutic mix has a healthy history whereas in others the notion of how individual client profiles mesh with therapy outcomes has rarely been considered Through the use of research results case study descriptions and speculation the contributors have creatively woven what we know and what we have yet to substantiate into an interesting collection of summaries useful for therapy programming and designing clinical research

The chapter entitled Humor in Children's Literature by Janice Alberghene was one of the finalists for the Children's Literature Association's Literary Criticism Award for the best critical article of 1988 on the subject of children's literature. The SAGE Handbook of Personality and Individual Differences Virgil Zeigler-Hill, Todd K. Shackelford, 2018-05-08. The examination of personality and individual differences is a major field of research in the modern discipline of psychology. Concerned with the ways humans develop an organized set of characteristics to shape themselves and the world around them, it is a study of how people come to be different and similar to others on both an individual and a cultural level. This volume explores the scientific foundations of personality and individual differences in chapters arranged across three thematic sections: Part 1 Theoretical Perspectives on Personality and Individual Differences; Part 2 Research Strategies for Studying Personality and Individual Differences; Part 3 The Measurement of Personality and Individual Differences. With outstanding contributions from leading scholars across the world, this is an invaluable resource for researchers and graduate students. How Children Develop Robert S. Siegler, Judy S. DeLoache, Nancy Eisenberg, 2006. In its first edition, this highly anticipated textbook for the typically organized child development course provided a fresh, non-encyclopedic approach, offering the latest straight from the research, understanding of child development without overwhelming the student with inessential detail. The new edition brings those hallmark features forward again, providing a thoroughly contemporary, streamlined introduction to the study of child development that emphasizes fundamental principles, enduring themes, and important recent studies. Student-friendly pedagogy, a new chapter on gender, and an enhanced media and supplements package further enrich this accessible, engaging, and informative text. Individual Differences in the Intelligence of School Children Mary M. Wentworth, 1969. Individual Differences in Arithmetical Development Ann Dowker, Bert De Smedt, Annemie Desoete, 2020-01-03. This eBook is a collection of articles from a Frontiers Research Topic.
