Studio Lighting Unplugged Rod Deutschmann, Robin Deutschmann, 2014-12-26. This lighting manual shows that successful studio photography does not require a warehouse-sized space brimming with expensive lights, Hollywood-style facades and a half-dozen assistants making the client lattes. Rather, this guide shows photographers how to create studio lighting effects that range from clean and classic to highly complex and use a garage, spare bedroom or even a backyard as their studio. The simple setups show that one to three small inexpensive electronic flash units along with budget-friendly stands, communication systems and some do-it-yourself light modifiers can be combined to create brilliant studio-quality images without the studio. Numerous sample shoots and plans provide clear instructions for taking control of any environment to create spectacular images.

Lighting Techniques for High Key Portrait Photography Norman Phillips, 2002. When referring to the key of an image, photographers are describing its overall tonal range, including the subject, background, clothes and props. In high-key portraits, these tones are primarily light or white. Achieving this classic look, however, presents photographers with numerous lighting and exposure challenges. From studio to location shoots, the techniques in this book will show readers how to meet the challenges of high-key portrait photography and create flattering images that clients will adore.
