Rhetoric and Galatians Philip H. Kern, 1998-12-03 This monograph challenges the accepted notion that Galatians is either a sample of classical rhetoric or should be interpreted in light of Graeco Roman rhetorical handbooks It demonstrates that the handbooks of Aristotle Cicero et al discuss a form of oratory which was limited with respect to subject venue and style of communication and that Galatians falls outside such boundaries The inapplicability of ancient canons of rhetoric is reinforced by a detailed comparison of Galatians with the handbooks a survey of patristic attitudes towards Paul s communicative technique and interaction with twentieth century discussions of the nature of New Testament Greek Dr Kern concludes that rhetorical handbooks were never a tool of literary criticism and that they cannot assist the search for a distinctly Pauline rhetoric Thus this study has implications not only for Galatians but also for other New Testament epistles

Ethnicity and the Mixed Marriage Crisis in Ezra 9-10 Katherine E. Southwood, 2012-03-01 This book aims to bring a new way of understanding Ezra 9 10 which has become known as an intermarriage crisis to the table A number of issues such as ethnicity religious identity purity land kinship and migration orbit around the central problem of intermarriage These issues are explored in terms of their modern treatment within anthropology and this information is used to generate a more informed sophisticated understanding of the chapters within Ezra itself The intermarriage crisis in Ezra is pivotal for our understanding of the postexilic community As the evidence from anthropology suggests the social consciousness of ethnic identity and resistance to the idea of intermarriage which emerges from the text point to a deeper set of problems and concerns most significantly relating to the complexities of return migration In this study Katherine E Southwood argues that the sense of identity which Ezra 9 10 presents is best understood by placing it within the larger context of a return migration community who seek to establish exilic boundaries when previous familiar structures of existence have been rendered obsolete by decades of existence outside the land The complex view of ethnicity presented through the text may therefore reflect the ongoing ideology of a returning separatist group The textualization of this group s tenets for Israelite identity and for scriptural exegesis facilitated its perpetuation by preserving a charged nexus of ideas around which the ethnic and religious identities of later communities could orbit The multifaceted effects of return migration may have given rise to an increased focus on ethnicity through ethnicity being realized in exile but only really being crystallized in the homeland
