Emotion Picture Magic:

E-motion Picture Magic Birgit Wolz, 2005 Like no other medium before it the popular movie presents the potential of a new power for illuminating the depth of human experience E Motion Picture Magic employs that power as a tool to increase consciousness Cinema therapy offers more perspective on life prompting the viewer to step back from his or her problems in order to feel less insecure worried or discontented Using films for self improvement allows a shift in perspective when viewed with conscious awareness The use of movies for personal growth and healing carries forward a long standing connection between storytelling and self reflection that may date back to the beginnings of spoken language The movie experience used in very specific ways can have significant benefits for those who are willing to apply themselves using E Motion Picture Magic that can be both beneficial as well as enjoyable

Early Modern Emotions Susan Broomhall, 2016-12-08 Early Modern Emotions is a student friendly introduction to the concepts approaches and sources used to study emotions in early modern Europe and to the perspectives that analysis of the history of emotions can offer early modern studies more broadly The volume is divided into four sections that guide students through the key processes and practices employed in current research on the history of emotions The first explains how key terms and concepts in the study of emotions relate to early modern Europe while the second focuses on the unique ways in which emotions were conceptualized at the time The third section introduces a range of sources and methodologies that are used to analyse early modern emotions The final section includes a wide ranging selection of thematic topics covering war religion family politics art music literature and the non human world to show how analysis of emotions may offer new perspectives on the early modern period more broadly Each section offers bite sized accessible commentaries providing students new to the history of emotions with the tools to begin their own investigations Each entry is supported by annotated further reading recommendations pointing students to the latest research in that area and at the end of the book is a general bibliography which provides a comprehensive list of current scholarship This book is the perfect starting point for any student wishing to study emotions in early modern Europe

Emotional Intelligence in Schools Katherine M. Krefft, 2019-11-13 This text presents a methodical organized approach to counseling students in emotional intelligence EI by detailing how to understand and direct emotions while also keying counselors directly to the underlying emotional motivations behind the behaviors Divided into four units the book starts with an overview of emotions and continues to explore the nature of anger fear grief and guilt Chapters present both explanatory narratives and teen centered activities to show how these challenging uncomfortable feelings when unregulated may negate resiliency and lead to anxiety bullying depression and teen suicide Counselors and educators alike will benefit from the light unexacting tone that encourages humor and levity and discusses how to handle difficult emotions without harsh and heavy overtones

the ages Rudolf Arnheim Times Literary Supplement Feeling Our Feelings: What Philosophers Think and People Know Eva Brann, 2008-10-01 A dazzling wealth of stimulating reflection and wise insight To read Feeling Our Feelings is to relive one's own early moments of intellectual awakening with all the advantages of age and experience Eva Brann proves to be a most steady and enlightening guide on an inquiry into the relation between life and thought that few have pursued so thoroughly Susan Shell Department of Political Science Boston College In Feeling Our Feelings Eva Brann considers what the great philosophers on the passions and feelings have thought and written about them She examines the relevant work of Plato Aristotle the Stoics Aquinas Descartes Spinoza Adam Smith Hume Kierkegaard and Heidegger and also includes a chapter on contemporary studies on the brain Feeling Our Feelings provides a comprehensive look at this pervasive and elusive topic Feeling our feelings comes from the words a little boy called Zeke said to me some thirty years ago when he was four I was swinging him in a park in Cambridge Massachusetts and not doing it right Swing me higher he said I want to feel my feelings The phrase stuck with me you might say it festered in my mind it agitated questions Why do we all want to feel our feelings so generally that people not in touch with them are thought to be in need of therapy What feeling was swinging high inducing Was it an exultation of the body or an exhilaration of the soul When he wanted to be feeling his feelings was there a difference between the general feeling the mere consciousness of being affected and his particular feelings the distinguishable affects as when you sing a song there is a difference between the singing done and the song sung or is there Eva Brann from her Preface Sartre and Magic Daniel O'Shiel, 2019-06-27 Jean Paul Sartre's technical and multifaceted concept of magic is central for understanding crucial elements of his early philosophy 1936-1943 not least his conception of the ego emotion the imaginary and value Daniel O'Shiel follows the thread of magic throughout Sartre's early philosophical work Firstly Sartre's work on the ego 1936 shows a personal reflective form of consciousness that is magically hypostasized onto the pre-reflective level Secondly emotion 1938 is inherently magical for Sartre because emotive qualities come to inhere in objects and thereby transform a world of pragmatism into one of captivation Thirdly analyses of The Imaginary 1940 reveal that anything we imagine is a spontaneous creation of consciousness that has the power to enchant and immerse us even to the point of images holding sway over us Culminating with Sartre's ontological system of Being and Nothingness 1943 O'Shiel argues that Sartre does not do away with the concept but in fact provides ontological roots for it This is most evident in Sartre's analyses of value possession and language A second part shows how such Sartrean magic is highly relevant for a number of concrete case studies the arts advertising racism and stupidity and certain instances of psychopathology O'Shiel shows that Sartre's magical being is important for any contemporary philosophical anthropology because it is essentially at work at the heart of many of our most significant experiences both creative and damaging Atlas of Emotion Giuliana Bruno, 2018-07-10 An award winning cultural history of how we experience the world through art film and architecture Atlas of Emotion is a highly original endeavor to map the cultural terrain of spatio-visual arts In an evocative blend of words and pictures Giuliana Bruno emphasizes the connections between sight and site and motion and emotion In so doing she touches on the art of Gerhard Richter and Louise Bourgeois the filmmaking of Peter Greenaway and Michelangelo Antonioni media archaeology and the origins of the museum and her own journeys to her native Naples Visually luscious and daring in conception Bruno s book opens new vistas and understandings at every turn
