Empire Writes Back Theory And Practice In Post Colonial Literatures:

The Empire Writes Back Bill Ashcroft, Gareth Griffiths, Helen Tiffin, 2003-12-16 The experience of colonization and the challenges of a post colonial world have produced an explosion of new writing in English This diverse and powerful body of literature has established a specific practice of post colonial writing in cultures as various as India Australia the West Indies and Canada and has challenged both the traditional canon and dominant ideas of literature and culture The Empire Writes Back was the first major theoretical account of a wide range of post colonial texts and their relation to the larger issues of post colonial culture and remains one of the most significant works published in this field The authors three leading figures in post colonial studies open up debates about the interrelationships of post colonial literatures investigate the powerful forces acting on language in the post colonial text and show how these texts constitute a radical critique of Eurocentric notions of literature and language This book is brilliant not only for its incisive analysis but for its accessibility for readers new to the field Now with an additional chapter and an updated bibliography The Empire Writes Back is essential for contemporary post colonial studies

The Empire Writes Back Bill Ashcroft, 2009 The Empire Writes Back Bill Ashcroft, Gareth Griffiths, Helen Tiffin, 2002 This was the first major theoretical account of a wide range of post colonial texts and their relation to the larger issues of post colonial culture and remains one of the most significant works published in this field

Tiffin When The Empire Writes Back first appeared in 1989 it put postcolonial cultures and their post invasion narratives on the map This vibrant collection of fifteen chapters by both established and emerging scholars taps into this early mapping while merging these concerns with present trends which have been grouped as comparing converting greening post queering and utopia The postcolonial is a centrifugal force that continues to energize globalization transnational diaspora area and queer studies Spanning the colonial period from the 1860s to the present The Future of Postcolonial Studies ventures into other postcolonies outside of the Anglophone purview In reassessing the nation state language race religion sexuality the environment and the very idea of the future this volume reasserts the notion that postcolonial is an anticipatory discourse and bears testimony to the driving energy and thus the future of postcolonial studies The Politics of Adaptation Astrid Van Weyenberg, 2013 This book explores contemporary African adaptations of classical Greek tragedies Six South African and Nigerian dramatic texts by Yael Farber Mark Fleishman Athol Fugard Femi Osofisan and Wole Soyinka are analysed through the thematic lens of resistance revolution reconciliation and mourning The opening chapters focus on plays that mobilize Greek tragedy to inspire political change discussing how Sophocles heroine Antigone is reconfigured as a freedom fighter and how Euripides Dionysos is transformed into a revolutionary leader The later chapters shift the focus to plays that explore the costs and consequences of political change examining how the cycle of violence dramatized in Aeschylus Oresteia trilogy acquires relevance in post apartheid South Africa and how the mourning of Euripides Trojan Women resonates in and beyond Nigeria Throughout the emphasis is on how playwrights through adaptation perform a cultural politics directed at the Europe that has traditionally considered ancient Greece as its property foundation and legitimization Van Weyenberg additionally discusses how contemporary African reworkings of Greek tragedies invite us to reconsider how we think about the genre of tragedy and about the cultural process of adaptation Against George Steiner's famous claim that tragedy has died this book demonstrates that Greek tragedy holds relevance today But it also reveals that adaptations do more than simply keeping the texts they draw on alive through adaptation playwrights open up a space for politics In this dynamic between adaptation and pre text the politics of adaptation is performed Chewing Over the West, 2009-01-01 The orientation of academic institutions has in recent years been moving away from highly specialized area studies in the classical sense towards broader regional and comparative studies Cultural studies points to the limitation of Western approaches to non Western cultures a development not yet reflected in actual research and data collections Bringing together scholars from all over the world with specialized knowledge in both Western and non Western languages literatures and cultures this collection of essays provides new insights into the agency of non Western literatures in relation to the West a term used with critical caution and like other common binary dualisms challenged here Inter cultural expertise seldom applied in the combination of Asian African and oriental perspectives makes this compilation of essays an important contribution to the study of colonialism and postcoloniality Topics covered include postcolonial Arabic writing T S Eliot in Writing Across Cultures Omar Sougou, 2021-10-25 This is a timely and comprehensive study combining various critical approaches to the fiction of Buchi Emecheta one of Africa's most illustrious and contentious women writers Feminist Showalter Cixous Kristeva and postcolonial approaches writing back are taken to Emecheta's texts to illuminate the personal political and aesthetic ramifications of the production of this born writer Poststructural programmes of analysis are shown to be less relevant to this writer's fiction than Marxist and Bakhtinian perspectives Emecheta is shown to be a bridge builder between two cultures and two worlds in narratives both challenging and popular characterized by ambiguity ambivalence and double voiced discourse all of which evince the writer's determination to expose imaginatively the colonial heritage of centre periphery conflicts cultural corruption ethnic discrimination gender oppression and the migrant experience in multiracial communities

The Circle & the Spiral Eva Rask Knudsen, 2021-11-01 In Aboriginal and M ori literature the circle and the spiral are the symbolic metaphors for a never ending journey of discovery and rediscovery The journey itself with its indigenous perspectives and sense of orientation is the most significant act of cultural recuperation The present study outlines the fields of indigenous writing in Australia and New Zealand in the crucial period between the mid 1980s and the early 1990s particularly eventful years in which postcolonial theory attempted to centre the margins and indigenous writers were keen to escape the particular centering offered in search of other positions more in tune with their creative sensibilities Indigenous writing relinquished its narrative preference for social realism in favour of traversing old territory in new spiritual ways roots converted into routes Standard postcolonial readings of indigenous texts often overwrite the difference they seek to locate because critical orthodoxy predetermines what difference can be Critical evaluations still tend to eclipse the ontological grounds of Aboriginal and M ori traditions and specific ways of moving through and behaving in cultural landscapes and social contexts Hence the corrective applied in Circles and Spirals to look for locally and culturally specific tracks and traces that lead in other directions than those catalogued by postcolonial convention This agenda is pursued by means of searching enquiries into the historical anthropological political and cultural determinants of the present state of Aboriginal and M ori writing principally fiction Independent yet interrelated exemplary analyses of works by Keri Hulme and Patricia Grace and Mudrooroo and Sam Watson Australia provided the thick description that illuminates the author s central theses with comparative side glances at Witi Ihimaera Heretaunga Pat Baker and Alan Duff New Zealand and Archie Weller and Sally Morgan Australia The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Young Audiences Michał Borodo, Jorge Díaz-Cintas, 2025-01-31 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Young Audiences offers a comprehensive overview of translation in the context of young audiences The handbook synthesises research on translation of children s and young adult literature audiovisual translation the translation of comics and picture books empirical research methods and translation performed by fan communities in the digital world Adopting a forward looking approach it is organised around these five key themes which taken together propose a new way of looking at interrelated phenomena which have never been brought together before to map this emerging area of study Featuring 35 contributions from leading and emerging scholars the volume showcases a range of perspectives which focus on translation and cultural practices around children and young adults not only as readers viewers and consumers but also as prosumers and collaborative creators of content Providing a multi layered perspective on the study of translation and young audiences this handbook will be a valuable resource for students and scholars in translation studies particularly those interested in audiovisual translation media translation multimodal texts and children s literature Decolonization Agonistics in Postcolonial Fiction C. Okonkwo, 1999-05-10 This book explores through theory and in depth textual criticism how novelists from formerly colonised societies have exploited indigenous codes and conventions of aesthetic representation to transform the novel into an effective medium for cultural and political resistance to neo colonialism Concentrating on novels written between the late 1940s and early 1990s in Africa Polynesia and the West Indies it offers a fresh mode of postcolonial critique which takes account of the ideological impulses behind the novelists interpretation of the colonial experience Exile and Expatriation in Modern American and Palestinian Writing Ahmad Rasmi Qabaha, 2018-05-23 This book examines the distinction between literary expatriation and exile through a contrapuntal reading of modern Palestinian and American writing It argues that exile in the Palestinian case especially is a political catastrophe it is banishment by a colonial power It suggests that unlike expatriation a choice of a foreign land over one s own exile is a political rather than an artistic concept and is forced rather than voluntary while exile can be emancipatory it is always an unwelcome loss In addition to its historical dimension exile also entails a different perception of return to expatriation This book frames expatriates as quintessentially American particularly intellectuals and artists seeking a space of creativity and social dissidence in the experience of living away from home At the heart of both literary discourses however is a preoccupation with home belonging identity language mobility and homecoming
