Empirical Methods For Exploiting Parallel Texts:

Empirical Methods for Exploiting Parallel Texts I. Dan Melamed, 2001 This book lays out the theory and the practical techniques for discovering and applying translational equivalence at the lexical level Parallel texts bitexts are a goldmine of linguistic knowledge because the translation of a text into another language can be viewed as a detailed annotation of what that text means Knowledge about translational equivalence which can be gleaned from bitexts is of central importance for applications such as manual and machine translation cross language information retrieval and corpus linguistics The availability of bitexts has increased dramatically since the advent of the Web making their study an exciting new area of research in natural language processing This book lays out the theory and the practical techniques for discovering and applying translational equivalence at the lexical level It is a start to finish guide to designing and evaluating many translingual applications

Parallel Text Processing Jean Véronis, 2013-03-14 | This book evolved from the ARCADE evaluation exercise that started in 1995 The project's goal is to evaluate alignment systems for parallel texts i.e. texts accompanied by their translation Thirteen teams from various places around the world have participated so far and for the first time some ten to fifteen years after the first alignment techniques were designed the community has been able to get a clear picture of the behaviour of alignment systems Several chapters in this book describe the details of competing systems and the last chapter is devoted to the description of the evaluation protocol and results The remaining chapters were especially commissioned from researchers who have been major figures in the field in recent years in an attempt to address a wide range of topics that describe the state of the art in parallel text processing and use As I recalled in the introduction the Rosetta stone won eternal fame as the prototype of parallel texts but such texts are probably almost as old as the invention of writing Nowadays parallel texts are electronic and they are becoming an increasingly important resource for building the natural language processing tools needed in the multilingual information society that is currently emerging at an incredible speed Applications are numerous and they are expanding every day multilingual lexicography and terminology machine and human translation cross language information retrieval language learning etc

Routledge Encyclopedia of Translation Technology Chan Sin-wai, 2014-11-13 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Translation Technology provides a state of the art survey of the field of computer assisted translation It is the first definitive reference to provide a comprehensive overview of the general regional and topical aspects of this increasingly significant area of study The Encyclopedia is divided into three parts Part One presents general issues in translation technology such as its history and development translator training and various aspects of machine translation including a valuable case study of its teaching at a major university Part Two discusses national and regional developments in translation technology offering contributions covering the crucial territories of China Canada France Hong Kong Japan South Africa Taiwan the Netherlands and Belgium the United Kingdom and the United States Part

Three evaluates specific matters in translation technology with entries focused on subjects such as alignment bitext computational lexicography corpus editing online translation subtitling and technology and translation management systems The Routledge Encyclopedia of Translation Technology draws on the expertise of over fifty contributors from around the world and an international panel of consultant editors to provide a selection of articles on the most pertinent topics in the discipline All the articles are self contained extensively cross referenced and include useful and up to date references and information for further reading It will be an invaluable reference work for anyone with a professional or academic interest in the subject

Semantic Domains in Computational Linguistics Alfio Gliozzo, Carlo Strapparava, 2009-07-31 Semantic fields are lexically coherent the words they contain co occur in texts In this book the authors introduce and define semantic domains a computational model for lexical semantics inspired by the theory of semantic fields Semantic domains allow us to exploit domain features for texts terms and concepts and they can significantly boost the performance of natural language processing systems Semantic domains can be derived from existing lexical resources or can be acquired from corpora in an unsupervised manner They also have the property of interlinguality and they can be used to relate terms in different languages in multilingual application scenarios The authors give a comprehensive explanation of the computational model with detailed chapters on semantic domains domain models and applications of the technique in text categorization word sense disambiguation and cross language text categorization This book is suitable for researchers and graduate students in computational linguistics Computer and Information Sciences -- ISCIS 2003 Adnan Yazici, 2003-10-14 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 18th International Symposium on Computer and Information Sciences ISCIS 2003 held in Antalya Turkey in November 2003 The 135 revised papers presented together with 2 invited papers were carefully reviewed and selected from over 360 submissions The papers are organized in topical sections on architectures and systems theoretical computer science databases and information retrieval e commerce graphics and computer vision intelligent systems and robotics multimedia networks and security parallel and distributed computing soft computing and software engineering Bibliography of Translation Studies: 2001 Lynne Bowker, 2017-07-05 A volume of selected annotated references arranged under specific headings to provide a non partisan guide to teachers involved in designing courses in translation and or interpreting Emerging Applications of Natural Language Processing: Concepts and New Research

Bandyopadhyay, Sivaji, 2012-10-31 This book provides pertinent and vital information that researchers postgraduate doctoral students and practitioners are seeking for learning about the latest discoveries and advances in NLP methodologies and applications of NLP Provided by publisher New Perspectives on Computational and Cognitive Strategies for Word Sense Disambiguation Oi Yee Kwong, 2012-08-11 Cognitive and Computational Strategies for Word Sense Disambiguation examines cognitive strategies by humans and computational strategies by machines for WSD in parallel Focusing on a psychologically valid property of words and senses author Oi Yee Kwong discusses their concreteness or abstractness and draws on psycholinguistic data to examine the extent to which existing lexical resources resemble the mental lexicon as far as the concreteness distinction is concerned The text also investigates the contribution of different knowledge sources to WSD in relation to this very intrinsic nature of words and senses SOFSEM 2012: Theory and Practice of Computer Science Maria Bielikova, Gerhard Friedrich, Georg Gottlob, Stefan Katzenbeisser, György Turán, 2012-01-18 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 38th Conference on Current Trends in Theory and Practice of Computer Science SOFSEM 2012 held in Píndler v Mlýn Czech Republic in January 2012 The 43 revised papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 121 submissions The book also contains 11 invited talks 10 of which are in full paper length The contributions are organized in topical sections named foundations of computer science software and Web engineering cryptography security and verification and artificial intelligence SOFSEM 2012: Theory and Practice of Computer Science Mária Bieliková, Gerhard Friedrich, Georg Gottlob, Stefan Katzenbeisser, György Turán, 2012-01-09 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 38th Conference on Current Trends in Theory and Practice of Computer Science SOFSEM 2012 held in Píndler v Mlýn Czech Republic in January 2012 The 43 revised papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 121 submissions The book also contains 11 invited talks 10 of which are in full paper length The contributions are organized in topical sections named foundations of computer science software and Web engineering cryptography security and verification and artificial intelligence Language Engineering for Lesser-studied Languages Sergei Nirenburg, 2009 Technologies enabling computers to process specific languages facilitate economic and political progress of societies where these languages are spoken Development of methods and systems for language processing is therefore a worthy goal for national governments as well as for business entities and scientific and educational institutions in every country in the world As work on systems and resources for the lower density languages becomes more widespread an important question is how to leverage the results and experience accumulated by the field of computational linguistics for the major languages in the development of resources and systems for lower density languages This issue has been at the core of the NATO Advanced Studies Institute on language technologies for middle and low density languages held in Georgia in October 2007 This publication is a collection of publication oriented versions of the lectures presented there and is a useful source of knowledge about many core facets of modern computational linguistic work

By the same token it can serve as a reference source for people interested in learning about strategies that are best suited for developing computational linguistic capabilities for lesser studied languages either from scratch or using components developed for other languages The book should also be quite useful in teaching practical system and resource building topics in computational linguistics Site Web de l'éditeur
