Zsembik, Joe R. Feagin, 2014-06-03 This collection features new and original research on the range of sexism still faced every day by women in US society It documents oppression across ethnic racial class and sexual orientation groups in a wide range of gendered spaces including the home the workplace unions educational institutions and the Internet Exploring the way these different but related systems of oppression interact the editors come to view sexism not as a static thing but as part of a dialectic of domination in which women are simultaneously oppressed and capable of oppressing others through their discourse and practice With its broad range of approaches its focus on discourse and experience in gendered spaces and its debunking of the personal and societal fictions of gender this book goes a long way toward explaining why sexism is still so pervasive in everyday life U.S. Government Subscriptions ,1994 Harvard Business School Core Collection Baker Library,1993
