Shut Up He Explained John Metcalf, 2007-09-15 John Metcalf's Shut Up He Explained defies expectations and strict definition Part memoir part travelogue part criticism wholly Metcalf it is thoughtful engaged contentious and often very funny It offers a full dose of Metcalfian wisdom and wit and provides ample evidence that neither age nor indifference nor attack have withered him he remains as sharp critical constructive and insightful as ever Indeed this may just be his most important and engaged book

Certainly it will be among his most controversial. What his critics will refuse to see of course is that it is also among his most positive that it is a celebration of the best literature Canada has to offer the birth of which Metcalf himself both witnesses and actively encouraged. Shut Up He Explained is magisterial a virtuoso performance melding several seemingly different strands into one coherent narrative which should delight and entertain as it serves to argue elucidate and celebrate Jane Urquhart Laura Ferri, 2005 Jane Urquhart has published three books of poetry a collection of short stories and five best selling novels Her fiction has won many honours including Canada's 1997 Governor General's Award and France's prestigious Prix du Meilleur Livre Etranger She lives in Ontario Canada The essays in this book investigate Jane Urquhart's interweaving of historical events myth folk tales journeys and landscape with her acute perceptions of memory and self transformation The many critical voices in this collection invite readers to consider Jane Urquhart's very special vision of the world one made up of migrations dreams spiritual quests and prophecy Along with an interview with Urquhart recorded by the editor there are essays by David Staines Allan Hepburn T F Rigelhof Mary Conde Caterina Ricciardi John Moss Marlene Goldman and Anne Compton The Advocate, 2003-09-16 The Advocate is a lesbian gay bisexual transgender LGBT monthly newsmagazine Established in 1967 it is the oldest continuing LGBT publication in the United States Setting in the East David Craig Creelman, 2003 The Maritime region is thus torn between its memory of an earlier more prosperous and traditional social order and its present experience as a less fortunate modern industrial society These tensions are embedded in the Maritime character and have affected not only the lives of its people but the imaginations and texts of its writers BOOK JACKET Ritual, Family and Therapy in Anglophone Literatures Lars Heiler, 2025-03-10 This book investigates the triadic constellations between ritual family and therapy in literature in English Many rituals so called rites of passage in particular are strongly associated with the changing status of individuals as members of a family unit Traditional healing rituals were often designed to have a therapeutic effect sometimes mentally but also physically whereas modern psychotherapies often include ritual elements in order to enhance the efficacy of their treatment Families on the other hand can be the site of therapeutic activity by providing protection stability and emotional comfort yet difficult family constellations may also be the origin of emotional distress and the reason why a person needs counselling and therapeutic support in the first place Modern therapies such as family systems therapy have expanded their range of interest and influence in order to look at the whole family unit not just the symptomatic individual as client This study discusses nine literary texts six novels one literary memoir and two plays in which the three dimensions intersect and mutually influence each other The Possessed; Or, The Devils, A Novel In Three Parts Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 2024-02-26 Reproduction of the original The publishing house Megali specialises in reproducing historical works in large print to make reading easier for people with impaired vision The Dragon's Curse (A Transference Novel) Bethany Wiggins, 2018-02-06 An action packed fantasy adventure perfect for fans of Julie Kagawa's Talon and Ren e Ahdieh's The Wrath and the Dawn about a

Queer Postcolonial Narratives and the Ethics of Witnessing Donna McCormack,2015-07-30 Queer Postcolonial Narratives and the Ethics of Witnessing is a critically engaged exploration of power and its relation to ethics and bodies By revisiting and revising Judith Butler s and Homi Bhabha s queer and postcolonial theories of literary performance McCormack expands current understandings of the performative workings of power through an embodied multisensory ethics That remembering is an embodied act which necessitates an undoing of one s sense of self captures how colonial and familial histories silenced by hegemonic structures may only emerge through opaque bodily sensations These non institutionalised forms of witnessing serve both to reconfigure theories of performativity by re situating the act of witnessing as integral to the workings of power and to interrogate the current emphasis on speech in trauma studies by analysing the multifarious communal and public ways in which memories emerge In Queer Postcolonial Narratives and the Ethics of Witnessing the body is reinstated as central to both the workings of and the challenges to colonial discourses

Mercy Alissa York, 2011-07-27 Award winning author Alissa York's first novel is a haunting and masterful exploration of how passions of the spirit and the flesh can overwhelm us and even come to inhabit the ground beneath our feet Divided into two parts Mercy pairs a single year in the past with a single night in the present as they unfold in the town of Mercy Manitoba and in the neighbouring black spruce bog In 1948 a dedicated priest named August Day arrives in Mercy to take over from Father Rock who has passed away The first service he is to perform in his new church is the marriage of Thomas Rose the town butcher to Mathilda Nickels the orphaned niece of the church housekeeper Thomas Rose is a good man who waited years to express his love for Mathilda And when Mathilda accepted his proposal he was sure that their life together would bring them both joy though in truth he knew little about his betrothed Mathilda has not explored the world beyond the realm of her religious devotion and approaches her wedding day with a mix of fear and dread But when her eyes meet those of Father Day at the ceremony Thomas seems to dissolve beside her and she feels physical passion for the first time in her life As of that moment August and Mathilda will only have eyes and hearts for each other Half a century later another sort of preacher comes to Mercy a womanizing widower who wants to develop the black spruce bog on the edge of town and build a religious camp Reverend Carl Mann is fairly confident of success but worries about the well publicized protests of a woman known as Bog Mary who has lived her entire life in the heart of the bog He heads off to confront her and ends up lost and hurt but Mary uses her natural remedies and knowledge to heal not only his wounds but his broken spirit A dark yet compassionate novel Mercy rivals the fiction debuts of Anne Michaels Ann Marie MacDonald and Gail Anderson Dargatz Alissa York brings to life a tale of misguided love and damaged souls with language of incredible clarity and intensity
