Indonesia The Challenges Of World Bank Involvement In Forests:

Indonesia Madhur Gautam,2000-01-01 Indonesia has the second largest expanse of tropical moist forests in the world about 78 per cent of its land mass is classified as forest land These forests are important to Indonesia for their economic and social significance and to the global community for their biodiversity and as a carbon sink The main pressures on the forests come from logging degradation from forest concessions and plantations rural consumption and forest fires This case study is one of six evaluations of the implementation of the World Bank s 1991 Forest Strategy The World Bank Forest Strategy ,2000-01-01 This report assesses progress since the World Bank first issued its comprehensive Forest Strategy in 1991 It finds that the effectiveness of the strategy has been modest and the sustainability of its impact is uncertain The Report identifies seven factors that would make the World Bank forest strategy more pertinent to current circumstances as well as strengthening its ability to achieve its strategic objectives in the forest sector It recommends that the World Bank use its global reach to address mechanisms for mobilisation of concessional international resources outside its normal lending activities It also advises the World Bank to be proactive in establishing partnerships with all relevant stakeholders governments the private sector and civil society to meet both its country and global roles The focus on primary tropical moist forests should be broadened to include all types of natural forests of national and global value The report suggests that illegal logging needs to be reduced through the promotion of improved governance and enforcement Other recommendations are to give consideration to forest issues in all relevant sector activity and macroeconomic work address the employment needs of all poor people while continuing to protect the rights of indigenous people and to realign the World Bank resources with their objectives in the forest sector Evaluation of World Bank Assistance to Pacific Member Countries, 1992-2002 ,2005-01-01 The nine Pacific Member Countries PMCs of the World Bank Group are Fiji Islands Kiribati the Marshall Islands the Federated States of Micronesia Palau Samoa the Solomon Islands Tonga and Vanuatu This evaluation covers Bank assistance to the PMCs since 1992 Financial Sector Assessment Program Lily L. Chu,2006-01-01 The Financial Sector Assessment Program FSAP is a major initiative undertaken jointly by the World Bank and the IMF in response to the financial crises of the late 1990s The ultimate objectives of the program are i the identification and resolution of financial sector vulnerabilities and their macroeconomic stability implications and ii fostering financial sector development and its contribution to economic growth In addition the FSAP was expected to help the Bank Fund and other institutions design appropriate assistance to address issues identified by the FSAP The evaluation found that the FSAP is a good quality diagnostic tool Joint Bank Fund cooperation has allowed an integrated approach towards financial sector vulnerabilities and development needs and has expanded the depth and quality of the skills base The assessments however fall short in prioritizing recommendations and integrating the findings and recommendations of the assessments into its overall programs

A Decade of Action in Transport ,2007-01-01 The World Bank committed 30 6 billion in transport related projects during the past decade making it one of the largest sectors The evaluation looks into the Bank's experience in the sector and assesses the institution's interventions the impact of rapid transport sector expansion and its readiness to meet the challenges ahead A Guide to the World Bank, 2003 The World Bank Group works in more than 100 developing economies and is one of the world's largest sources of development assistance In 2002 the institution provided US 19.5 billion in loans to its client countries This guide reviews the organisation's history objectives and operations and looks at the five institutions that make up the World Bank Group the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development IBRD the International Development Association IDA the International Finance Corporation IFC the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency MIGA and the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes ICSID Debt Relief for the Poorest Shonar Lala, Rupa Ranganathan, Brett Libresco, 2006-01-01 This study evaluates progress under the HIPC initiative since IEG's 2003 evaluation It finds that the Enhanced HIPC initiative cut debt ratios in half for 18 countries but in eight of these countries the ratios have come to once again exceed HIPC thresholds Debt reduction alone is not a sufficient instrument to affect the multiple drivers of debt sustainability Sustained improvements in export diversification fiscal management the terms of new financing and public debt management are also needed measures that fall outside the ambit of the HIPC initiative

Committing to Results Martha Ainsworth, Denise Vaillancourt, Judith Hahn Gaubatz, 2005 This evaluation assesses the development effectiveness of the World Bank's country level HIV/AIDS assistance defined as policy dialogue analytic work and lending with the explicit objective of reducing the scope or impact of the AIDS epidemic The evaluation identifies findings from this experience and makes recommendations to improve the relevance efficiency and efficacy of ongoing and future activities This is the first comprehensive evaluation of the World Bank's HIV/AIDS support to countries from the beginning of the epidemic through mid 2004 Because the Bank's assistance is for implementation of government programs by government it provides important insights on how national AIDS programs can be made more effective India, the Challenges of Development Gianni Zanini, 2001-01-01 This Country Assistance Evaluation CAE reviews the development effectiveness of World Bank assistance to India during the 1990s It builds on evaluations of sector assistance programs projects and nonlending services to make these assessments This report uses the standard evaluation categories of outcome sustainability and institutional development Poverty Reduction in the 1990s Alison Evans, 2000-01-01 The World Development Report 1990 Poverty provided the foundation for the World Bank strategy to help achieve global poverty reduction This report is a contribution to the strategy review process It examines the implementation of the 1990 strategy maps changes against assessment of Bank performance at both the country and the project level and assesses the relevance of key elements of the 1990 strategy in light of new data and shifts in the development assistance environment The report concludes that the 1990 strategy remains relevant but needs to be combined with a more comprehensive approach Lessons from experience confirm the importance of a holistic approach to reach the poor more effectively This includes a focus on local level institutions and building on existing institutional frameworks wherever possible and on working across sectors for maximum impact The 1990 strategy and the operational guidelines based on it have failed to generate a clear emphasis on measuring and monitoring results A critical test of the Bank's evolving poverty strategy will be the design of a credible framework for measuring the results of the Bank's country assistance and helping to build local capacity for monitoring the impact of poverty reduction programmes The report is in English with the foreword and the executive summary given in English Spanish and French The IMF, the World Bank Group and the Question of Human Rights Bahram Ghazi, 2021-10-25 The IMF The World Bank Group and the Question of Human Rights explores various issues facing international financial institutions and their obligations to adhere to human rights norms Bahram Ghazi gets to the heart of the most important issues facing the global community today namely how to reconcile globalization and the activities of the World Bank and the IMF with the implementation of international human rights rules His comprehensive work explains the relation between economy finance and investments and their impact on the human rights situation Using an interdisciplinary approach the author incorporates historical political economic financial and institutional dimensions into his analysis The IMF The World Bank Group and the Question of Human Rights is the fourth volume to be published in Transnational's International Law and Development series edited by Raj Bhala Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint DAC Guidelines and Reference Series Environmental Fiscal Reform for Poverty Reduction OECD, 2005-06-09 This DAC Reference Paper outlines key issues faced when designing Environmental Fiscal Reform EFR EFR refers to a range of taxation and pricing measures which can raise fiscal revenues while furthering environmental goals The context of REDD+ in Indonesia: Drivers, agents and institutions Giorgio Budi Indrarto, Prayekti Murharjanti, Josi Khatarina, Irvan Pulungan, Feby Ivalerina, Justitia Rahman, Muhar Nala Prana, Ida Aju Pradnja Resosudarmo, Efrian Muharrom, 2012-01-01 This country profile reviews the drivers of deforestation and forest degradation in Indonesia sets out the institutional political and economic environment within which REDD is being implemented in Indonesia and documents the process of national REDD policy development during the period 2007 early 2012 While Indonesia is committed at the national and international level to addressing climate change through the forestry sector there are clearly contextual challenges that need to be addressed to create the enabling conditions for REDD Some of the major issues include inconsistent legal frameworks sectoral focus unclear tenure consequences of decentralisation and weak local governance Despite these challenges however REDD opens up an opportunity for improvements in forest governance and more broadly in land use governance More democratic political economic processes in general greater freedom of civil society and the press and heightened awareness of environmental issues can help build support and solidify policies in this direction The Global Economics of Forestry William F. Hyde, 2012-05-23 This book traces the economic and biological pattern of forest development from initial settlement and harvest activity at the natural forest frontier to modern industrial forest plantations It builds from diagrams describing three discrete stages of forest development and then discusses the management and policy implications associated with each supporting its observations with examples and data from six continents and from both developed and developing countries It shows that characteristic distinctions between the three stages make forestry unusual in natural resource management and that effective policy requires different even contrasting decisions at each stage William F Hyde s comprehensive discussion covers a wide range of issues including the impacts of both specific forest policies and broader macroeconomic policies the unique requirements of current issues such as global warming biodiversity and tourism and the complexities of the different forest products industries Concluding chapters review the roles of the newer institutional landowners of smaller private and farm landowners and of public agencies This highly original volume reaches far beyond forest economics it explains what forestry can do for regional development and environmental conservation and what policies designed for other sectors and the macro economy can do for forestry

Strengthening the World Bank's Role in Global Programs and

Partnerships Uma Lele,2006-01-01 This volume reports on a conference held by the World Bank s independent Operations Evaluation Department OED to discuss the Bank s role in global program partnerships The starting point for the discussions was a comprehensive review by OED of the effectiveness of 26 of the largest programs including the Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research and programs in health environment and trade Participants at the conference provided crosscutting lessons about program design implementation and evaluation and shared views about how the Bank can best help build commitment and assure financing for high priority global public goods that benefit the poor

Ecology of Indonesian Papua Part Two

Andrew J. Marshall,Bruce M. Beehler,2012-06-26 The Ecology of Papua provides a comprehensive review of current scientific knowledge on all aspects of the natural history of western Indonesian New Guinea Designed for students of conservation environmental workers and academic researchers it is a richly detailed text dense with biogeographical data historical reference and fresh insight on this complicated and marvelous region We hope it will serve to raise awareness of Papua on a global as well as local scale and to catalyze effective conservation of its most precious natural assets New Guinea is the largest and highest tropical island and one of the last great wilderness areas remaining on Earth Papua the western half of New Guinea is noteworthy for its equatorial glaciers its vast forested floodplains its imposing central mountain range its Raja Ampat Archipelago and its several hundred traditional forest dwelling societies One of the wildest places left in the world Papua possesses extraordinary biological and cultural diversity Today Papua s environment is under threat from growing outside pressures to exploit its expansive forests and to develop large plantations of oil palm and biofuels It is important that Papua s leadership balance economic development with good resource management to ensure the long term well being of its culturally diverse populace

Loggers and Degradation in the Asia-Pacific Peter Dauvergne, 2001-10-15 Corporate loggers have damaged much of the tropical forest throughout the Asia Pacific over the last four decades Despite a steady rise in global and local concern few firms have changed their practices Loggers and Degradation in the Asia Pacific examines why and how loggers have resisted and ignored calls for environmental reforms Concentrating on the period after 1990 the book explains what is happening on the ground and highlights the structures within which firms and governments operate Within this broader context the author considers a range of factors including the science of tropical forest management the capacity of states to regulate and enforce rules the relative power of environmental reformers and the 1997-9 Asian financial crisis This is a constructive insightful approach to a depressing yet urgent problem It will be accessible to academic and student readers as well as those in corporations government and NGOs

Extractive Industries and Sustainable Development Andrés Liebenthal, Roland Michelitsch, Ethel I. Tarazona, 2005-01-01 The World Bank Group WBG has the potential to improve the contribution of extractive industries EI to sustainable development and poverty reduction However this report by the WBG s operations evaluation departments finds that although its EI projects have produced positive economic and financial results it has not been successful in ensuring compliance to environmental and social safeguards The paper examines the World Bank the International Finance Corporation and Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency to assess their performance in moving away from a focus on economic benefits towards sustainable development addressing the governance challenges associated with resource rich countries and mitigating environmental and social costs of the extractive industry
