Internal Colonialism:

Internal Colonialism Michael Hechter, 2017-07-05 Recent years have seen a resurgence of separatist sentiments among national minorities in many industrial societies including the United Kingdom In 1997 the Scottish and Welsh both set up their own parliamentary bodies while the tragic events in Northern Ireland continued to be a reminder of the Irish problem These phenomena call into question widely accepted social theories which assume that ethnic attachments in a society will wane as industrialization proceeds This book presents the social basis of ethnic identity and examines changes in the strength of ethnic solidarity in the United Kingdom during the 19th and 20th centuries As well as being a case study the work also has implications as it suggests that the internal colonialism of the kind experienced in the British Isles has its analogues in the histories of other industrial societies Hechter examines the unexpected persistence of ethnicity in the politics of industrial societies by focusing on the British Isles Why do many of the inhabitants of Wales Scotland and Ireland continue to maintain an ethnic identity opposed to England Hechter explains the salience of ethnic identity by analyzing the relationships between England the national core and its periphery the Celtic fringe in the context of two alternative models of core periphery relations in the industrial setting The diffusion model suggests that intergroup contact leads to ethnic homogenization and the internal colonial model suggests such contact heightens distinctive ethnic identification His findings lend support to the internal colonial model and show that although industrialization did contribute to a decline in interregional linguistic differences it resulted neither in the cultural assimilation of Celtic lands nor the development of regional economic equality The study concludes that ethnic solidarity will inevitably emerge among groups which are relegated to inferior positions in a cultural division of labour Internal Colonialism and Structural Change in Colombia A. Eugene Havens, 1970 Collection of studies on the need for institutional change in the economic structure as a precondition for economic development in Colombia covers the social structure the role of the Church political leadership land tenure implications for agrarian reform Innovation in agriculture as a factor of social change education rural migration urbanization labour mobility public administration etc Critical Theory of Coloniality Paulo Henrique Martins, 2022-04-19 This book reveals how the critique of the domination of capitalism inaugurated by the Frankfurt School becomes pluriversal motivating the historical Critical Theory of Coloniality CTC dialogue between the Global South and the Global North CTC expresses the emergence and historical actuality of a set of intellectual fields aimed at denouncing domination and promoting emancipatory ideas at the borders of colonial capitalism The book argues that the actuality of the CTC relies on the importance of valuing theoretical and methodological pluralism in the context of the necessary redefinition of the directions of global society It reveals a plural reflection of scientific moral and aesthetic character in different areas of former planetary colonisation such as Asia Africa and America but also on the borders of Europe This book is aimed at researchers and students in the social sciences as well as in interdisciplinary studies It is attractive to those who are interested in the plural development of theoretical criticism outside the European universe and who seek to understand how capitalist power has metamorphosed with planetary coloniality Considering this book implies important reflections on topics such as development modernity tradition imperialism dependency and democracy it is interesting to specialists in development issues international relations and policymakers Empire, Colony, Genocide A. Dirk Moses, 2008 In 1944 Raphael Lemkin coined the term genocide to describe a foreign occupation that destroyed or permanently crippled a subject population This text is a world history of genocide that highlights what Lemkin called the role of the human group and its tribulations Restructuring Development Theories and Policies M. Shamsul Haque, 1999-09-09 Explains and critiques current theories of political development Race, Class & the Apartheid State Harold Wolpe, 1990 Routledge Library Editions: Development Mini-Set M: Theories of Development Various, 2021-11-17 Routledge Library Editions Development will re issue works which address economic political and social aspects of development Published over more than four decades these books trace the emergence of development as one of the most important contemporary issues and one of the key areas of study for modern social science The books cover the most important themes within development and include studies of Latin America Africa and Asia Authors include Sir Alexander Cairncross W Arthur Lewis Lord Peter Bauer and Cristobal Kay An extensive collection of previously hard to access or out of print books this set presents an unrivalled opportunity to build up a wealth of material in the field of development studies with a particular focus upon economic and political concerns The volumes in the collection offer both a global overview of the history of development in the twentieth century and a huge variety of case studies on the development of individual nations For institutional purchases for e book sets please contact online sales tandf.co.uk customers in the UK Europe and Rest of World Latin American Theories of Development and Underdevelopment Cristóbal Kay, 2010-11-26 Upon its publication in 1989 this was the first systematic and comprehensive analysis of the Latin American School of Development and an invaluable guide to the major Third World contribution to development theory The four major strands in the work of Latin American Theorists are structuralism internal colonialism marginality and dependency Exploring all four in detail and the interconnections between them Cristobal Kay highlights the developed world's over reliance on and partial knowledge of dependency theory in its approach to development issues and analyses the first major challenges to neo classical and modernisation theories from the Third World Routledge Encyclopedia of International Political Economy R. J. Barry Jones, 2002-09-11 This three volume Encyclopedia offers the first comprehensive and authoritative survey of the rapidly developing field of international political economy Its entries cover the major theoretical issues and analytical approaches within the field The set also provides detailed discussion of the contributions of key individuals and surveys a wide range of empirical conditions and developments within the global political economy including its major institutions The Encyclopedia has been designed to be eclectic in approach and wide ranging in coverage Theoretical entries range from discussions of the definition and scope of the field through core methodological questions such as rationalism and the structure agent problem to surveys of the major theories and approaches employed in the study of the international political economy Mussolini's Nation-Empire Roberta Pergher, 2018 The first exploration of how Mussolini employed population settlement inside the nation and across the empire to strengthen Italian sovereignty

Domestic Colonies Barbara Arneil, 2017-09-29 Modern colonization is generally defined as a process by which a state settles and dominates a foreign land and people This book argues that through the nineteenth and into the first half of the twentieth centuries thousands of domestic colonies were proposed and or created by governments and civil society organizations for fellow citizens as opposed to foreigners and within their own borders rather than overseas Such colonies sought to solve every social problem arising within industrializing and urbanizing states Domestic Colonies argues that colonization ought to be seen during this period as a domestic policy designed to solve social problems at home as well as foreign policy designed to expand imperial power Three kind of domestic colonies are analysed in this book labour colonies for the idle poor farm colonies for the mentally ill and disabled and utopian colonies for racial religious and political minorities All of them were justified by an ideology of colonialism that argued if people were segregated in colonies located on empty land and engaged in agrarian labour this would improve both the people and the land Key domestic colonialists analysed in this book include Alexis de Tocqueville Abraham Lincoln Peter Kropotkin Robert Owen and Booker T Washington The turn inward to colony thus requires us to rethink the meaning and scope of colonization and colonialism in modern political theory and practice Transnational Cervantes William Childers, 2014-05-01 This ambitious work aims to utterly change the way Don Quixote and Cervantes other works are read particularly the posthumous The Trial of Persiles and Sigismunda William Childers sets out to free Cervantes work from its context within the histories of the European national literatures Instead he examines early modern Spanish cultural production as an antecedent to contemporary postcolonial literature especially Latin American fiction of the past half century In order to construct his new context for reading Cervantes Childers proceeds in three distinct phases First Cervantes relation to the Western literary canon is reconfigured detaching him from the realist novel and associating him instead with magic realism Second Childers provides an innovative reading of The Trial of Persiles and Sigismunda as a transnational romance exploring cultural boundaries and the hybridization of identities Finally Childers explores traces of and similarities to Cervantes in contemporary fiction Theoretically eclectic and methodologically innovative Transnational Cervantes opens up many avenues for research and debate aiming to bring Cervantes writings forward into the brave new world of our postcolonial age Historical and Archaeological Perspectives on Gender Transformations Suzanne M. Spencer-Wood, 2012-12-09 In many facets of Western culture including archaeology there remains a legacy of perceiving gender divisions as natural innate and biological in origin This belief follows that men are naturally pre disposed to public intellectual pursuits while women are innately designed to care for the home and take care of children In the interpretation of material culture accepted notions of gender roles are often applied to new findings the dichotomy between the domestic sphere of women and the public sphere of men can color interpretations of new materials In this innovative volume the contributors focus explicitly on analyzing the materiality of historic changes in the domestic sphere around the world Combining a global scope with great temporal depth chapters in the volume explore how gender ideologies identities relationships power dynamics and practices were materially changed in the past thus showing how they could be changed in the future Hybrid Identities ,2008-09-30 Combining theoretical and empirical pieces this book explores the emerging theoretical work seeking to describe hybrid identities while also illustrating the application of these theories in empirical research The sociological perspective of this volume sets it apart Hybrid identities continue to be predominant in minority or immigrant communities but these are not the only sites of hybridity in the globalized world Given a compressed world and a constrained state identities for all individuals and collective selves are becoming more complex The hybrid identity allows for the perpetuation of the local in the context of the global This book presents studies of types of hybrid identities transnational double consciousness gender diaspora the third space and the internal colony Contributors include Keri E Iyall Smith Patrick Gun Cuninghame Judith R Blau Eric S Brown Fabienne Darling Wolf Salvador Vidal Ortiz Melissa F Weiner Bedelia Nicola Richards Keith Nurse Roderick Bush Patricia Leavy Trinidad Gonzales Sharlene Hesse Biber Emily Brooke Barko Tess Moeke Maxwell Helen Kim Bedelia Nicola Richards Helene K Lee Alex Frame Paul Meredith David L Brunsma and Daniel J Delgado Ethnic Studies Philip Q. Johnson,2015-08-06 A rich account of the long history of Black religion from the dawn of Western colonialism to the rise of the national security paradigm From African Peer Review Mechanisms to African Queer Review Mechanisms? Artwell Nhemachena, Victor Warikandwa, 2019-04-22 Tracing recent bouts of globalised Mugabephobia to Robert Mugabe's refusal to be neoimperially penetrated this book juxtaposes economic liberalisation with the mounting liberalisation of African orifices Reading land repossession and economic structural adjustment programmes together with what they call neoimperial structural adjustment of African orifices the authors argue that there has been liberalisation of African orifices in a context where Africans are ironically prevented from repossessing their material resources Juxtaposing recent bouts of Mugabephobia with discourses on homophobia the book asks why empire prefers liberalising African orifices rather than attending to African demands for restitution restoration and reparations Noting that empire opposes African sovereignty autonomy and centralisation of power while paradoxically promoting transnational corporations centralisation of power over African economies the book challenges contemporary discourses about shared sovereignty distributed governance heterarchy heteronomy and onticology Arguing that colonialists similarly denied Africans of their human essence the tome problematises queer sexualities homosexuality ecosexuality cybersexuality and humanoid robotic sexuality all of which complicate supposedly fundamental distinctions between human beings and animals and machines Provocatively questioning queer sexuality and liberalised orifices that serve to divert African attention from the more serious unfinished business of repossessing material resources the book insightfully compares Robert Gabriel Mugabe Thomas Sankara and Julius Kambarage Nyerere who emphasised the imperatives of African autonomy ownership control and sovereignty over natural resources Observing Africans interest in repossessing ownership and control over their resources the book wonders why so much queer international attention is focused on foisting queer sexuality while downplaying more burning issues of resource repossession human dignity equality and equity craved by Africans for whom life is not confined to sexuality With insights for scholars in sociology development studies law politics African studies anthropology transformation decolonisation and decoloniality the book argues that liberal democracy is a faade in a world that is actually ruled through criminocracy Colonization and Development in New Zealand between 1769 and 1900 Ian Pool, 2015-09-03 This book details the interactions between the Seeds of Rangiatea New Zealand's Maori people of Polynesian origin and Europe from 1769 to 1900 It provides a case study of the way Imperial era contact and colonization negatively affected naturally evolving demographic epidemiologic transitions and imposed economic conditions that thwarted development by precursor peoples wherever European expansion occurred In doing so it questions the applicability of conventional models for analyses of colonial histories of population health and of development The book focuses on and synthesizes the most critical parts of the story the health and population trends and the economic and social development of Maori It adopts demographic methodologies most typically used in developing countries which allow the mapping of broad changes in Maori society particularly their survival as a people The book raises general theoretical questions about how populations react to the introduction of diseases to which they have no natural immunity Another more general theoretical issue is what happens when one society's development processes are superseded by those of some more powerful force whether an imperial power or a modern day agency which has ingrained ideas about objectives and strategies for development Finally it explores how health and development interact The Maori experience of contact and colonization lasting from 1769 to circa 1900 narrated here is an all too familiar story for many other territories and populations Natives and former colonists This book provides a case study with wider ramifications for theory in colonial history development studies demography anthropology and other fields

Crossroads in Literature and Culture Jacek Fabiszak, Ewa Urbaniak-Rybicka, Bartosz Wolski, 2012-11-05 The book contains a selection of papers focusing on the idea of crossing boundaries in literary and cultural texts composed in English The authors come from different methodological schools and analyse texts coming from different periods and cultures trying to find common ground the theme of the volume between the apparently generically and temporarily varied works and phenomena In this way a plethora of perspectives is offered perspectives which represent a high standard both in terms of theoretical reflection and in depth analysis of selected texts Consequently the volume is addressed to a wide scope of both scholars and students working in the field of English and American literary and cultural studies furthermore it will be of interest also to students interested in theoretical issues linked with investigations into literature and culture
