RETRACTED, The Regulation of Transnational Mergers in International and European Law Dimitris Liakopoulos, Armando Marsilia, 2009-12-07 The major problem associated with the regulation of transnational mergers which affect several national markets is the allocation of jurisdiction Each country concerned may wish to exert jurisdiction and apply its national competition law to regulate the anti competitive effects a merger may have in its territory However this approach may lead to risks of inconsistent decisions regarding the legality of mergers Indeed the national competition laws applied by the regulating authorities may diverge in several aspects which raise the likelihood of inconsistency Therefore it is desirable to opt for regulatory approaches which are more sensitive to the transnational nature of mergers and which allow cooperation between competition authorities A possible solution may be bilateral cooperation agreements through which two countries coordinate the enforcement activities of their national competition authorities However the benefits of these agreements are enjoyed only by the signatory parties The sole reliance upon bilateral agreements does not appear to be the optimal regulatory approach towards transnational mergers American Book Publishing Record ,2004

Redress for Victims of Crimes Under International Law Ilaria Bottiglieri,2013-11-11 Paradoxically victims of ordinary crimes such as fraud theft or assault can obtain redress through regular domestic channels whereas victims of such major atrocities as genocide war crimes or crimes against humanity have been left mostly uncompensated Until recently a pervasive climate of impunity for international crimes relegated victims to the political and legal periphery Over the last few years however the international community has begun to recognize that just as crimes under international law cannot be considered ordinary crimes victims of these crimes cannot be considered ordinary victims In this book Dr Bottiglieri explores the origins evolution and practice relating to victims redress in domestic law regional and universal human rights regimes humanitarian law the law of State responsibility United Nations practice and international criminal law including the International Criminal Court She argues that the international community must now move beyond incomplete and fragmented approaches towards a much more comprehensive redress regime for victims of crimes under international law and she recommends means by which to enhance the coherence effectiveness and fairness of victims redress

International marketing is a core disciplinary area within the broader international business field. Over the last 25 years, significant research attention has been devoted to addressing managerially relevant and theoretically important research questions pertaining to country entry modes and choices, international branding decisions, establishing developing and managing cross border seller buyer relationships and other international marketing strategy issues. This book features key international marketing contributions to the international business literature. Our focus in this book is on ten highly cited articles from the Journal of International Business Studies that address important topics in international marketing. In addition to the original contributions, the book offers an up to date view of the field following each of the articles including reflections and assessments of how each article has impacted our understanding of the subject today. Contributors highlight major advances since the time of writing as well as current questions arising from the current international business world. The collection is complemented by two recently published articles tackling new frontiers of the field of international business. Commentaries on these two recent contributions are provided by leading marketing and international business scholars. In sum, this collection provides readers with a careful selection of highly influential and timely works from the international marketing literature that will continue to greatly contribute to the international business discipline. Innovative Logistics Management Wolfgang Kersten, Thorsten Blecker, Cornelius Herstatt, 2007 The Concept of Law from a Transnational Perspective Detlef von Daniels, 2016-03-23

This book brings together the fruits of different traditions in legal philosophy and draws on them to develop a systematic thesis on the concept of law. The work uses a legal model to explore the underlying question of how the current phenomena of transnational law are best understood in combination with an examination of the traditions of Jürgen Habermas's critical theory and H. L. A. Hart's analytic jurisprudence. This leads the author to conclude that the key to a fruitful dialogue and comprehensive understanding is to appreciate that the concept of law is not state centered and must reflect relationships to other legal systems.
