breakneck pacing and intricate plotting of his most recent novel The Rosary Girls Richard Montanari established himself as one of the most exciting suspense writers working today Now he proves himself a virtuoso with The Skin Gods an explosive new thriller featuring Philadelphia homicide detectives Kevin Byrne and Jessica Balzano It is the steaming heart of summer in the City of Brotherly Love Back on the force after taking a bullet during the arrest of a sadistic murderer Detective Kevin Byrne warily returns to police headquarters He cannot shake the memory of the Rosary Killer's innocent victims or his growing sense that the evil has not been vanquished And when he and his partner Detective Jessica Balzano are called in on a bizarre case Byrne's gravest suspicions are confirmed A madman dubbed The Actor by the homicide unit is meticulously re-creating Hollywood's most famous and most gruesome death scenes The first murder is caught on film spliced into a rented VHS edition of the Hitchcock black and white masterpiece Psycho But in place of Janet Leigh is a real life woman and this time the blood is red and the knife is real Soon more thrilling classics are turned into terrifying snuff films and placed on video store shelves for an unsuspecting public to find The key to this horrific puzzle could lie with any of The Skin Gods's supporting cast the A list Hollywood director the ruthless executive assistant the convicted mass murderer or perhaps someone else who has made a sinister art of gruesome violence Hot on the psychopath's trail Balzano and Byrne descend into the mouth of madness and beyond deep into the depraved underworld of S M clubs and the porn industry where the worship of flesh leads to malevolent evil Before the final credits roll the investigators will discover that none of The Actor's victims are as innocent as they appear to be and that the clue the police need to prevent future murders might be found in Detective Byrne's own dark past

Stage Turns Kirsty Johnston, 2012-08-01 Over the past three decades disability theatre artists have claimed greater space on Canadian and world stages While disabled figures and themes are theatre mainstays productions tend to employ disability figuratively rather than engage with actual disability experience In reaction disability theatre pursues an activist perspective that dismantles stereotypes challenges stigma and re-imagines disability as a valued human condition Stage Turns documents the development and innovations of disability theatre in Canada the aesthetic choices and challenges of the movement and the multiple spatial scales at which disability theatre operates from the local to the increasingly global Kirsty Johnston provides histories of Canada's leading disability theatre companies emphasizing the early importance of local efforts in the absence of national coordination Close readings of individual productions demonstrate how aesthetic choices matter and can be a source of solidarity or debate between different companies and artists This comparative approach allows for a nuanced consideration of disability theatre's breadth and internal differences Stage Turns highlights the diversity of disability theatre underlining how this is critical to understanding the challenge it poses to mainstream aesthetics and to fulfilling its own artistic goals

Mobilizing Metaphor Christine Kelly, Michael Orsini, 2016-11-01 Mobilizing Metaphor illustrates how radical and unconventional forms of activism including art are reshaping the rich and vibrant tradition of disability mobilization in Canada and in the process challenging perceptions of disability and the politics that surround it Until now research on Canadian disability activism has focused on legal and policy spheres and overlooked how disability activism is as varied as the population it represents Mobilizing Metaphor combines contributions by artists activists and academics including an insightful concluding chapter by renowned disability scholar Tanya Titchkoksy with rich illustrations and photographs to reveal how disability art is distinctive as both art and social action As the contributors sketch the shifting contours of disability politics in Canada and show how disability oppression is not isolated from other prejudices they challenge us to re examine how we enact social and political change Four Novels of Suspense Richard Montanari,2011-10-31 In internationally bestselling author Richard Montanari s acclaimed suspense series veteran homicide cops Kevin Byrne and Jessica Balzano crack some of the most shocking and terrifying cases ever to hit Philadelphia From a killer who re creates Hollywood death scenes to a madman who uses the City of Brotherly Love as his gruesome game board Byrne and Balzano have seen it all in their relentless pursuit of justice This convenient eBook bundle takes you back to the beginning with four chilling novels The Rosary Girls The Skin Gods Merciless and Badlands Includes an excerpt from Richard Montanari s The Echo Man now available exclusively as an eBook Of this explosive new thriller bestselling author Thomas Cook raves With The Echo Man we are in the hands of one of the best in the business

Re-Presenting Disability Richard Sandell,Jocelyn Dodd,Rosemarie Garland-Thomson,2013-09-13 Re Presenting Disability addresses issues surrounding disability representation in museums and galleries a topic which is receiving much academic attention and is becoming an increasingly pressing issue for practitioners working in wide ranging museums and related cultural organisations This volume of provocative and timely contributions brings together twenty researchers practitioners and academics from different disciplinary institutional and cultural contexts to explore issues surrounding the cultural representation of disabled people and more particularly the inclusion as well as the marked absence of disability related narratives in museum and gallery displays The diverse perspectives featured in the book offer fresh ways of interrogating and understanding contemporary representational practices as well as illuminating existing related debates concerning identity politics social agency and organisational purposes and responsibilities which have considerable currency within museums and museum studies Re Presenting Disability explores such issues as In what ways have disabled people and disability related topics historically been represented in the collections and displays of museums and galleries How can newly emerging representational forms and practices be viewed in relation to these historical approaches How do emerging trends in museum practice designed to counter prejudiced stereotypical representations of disabled people relate to broader developments in disability rights debates in disability studies as well as shifting interpretive practices in public history and mass media What approaches can be deployed to mine and interrogate existing collections in order to investigate histories of disability and disabled people and to identify material evidence that might be marshalled to play a part in countering prejudice What are the implications of these developments for contemporary collecting How might such purposive displays be created and what dilemmas and challenges are curators educators designers and other actors in the exhibition making process likely to encounter along the way How do audiences disabled and non disabled respond to and engage with interpretive interventions designed to confront undercut or reshape dominant regimes of representation that underpin and inform contemporary attitudes to disability

Culture, Diversity and Mental Health - Enhancing Clinical Practice

Masood Zangeneh,Alean Al-Krenawi,2019-10-22 This book discusses the importance of culture and diversity within society through multicultural cross cultural and intercultural encounters while applying psychological effectiveness to manage core competencies It carefully explains how influential the social environment is to an individual within a society It seeks to directly affect mental health practitioners treatment within practices in accordance to specific ethno cultural clients and it seeks to encourage students and practitioners to practice acceptance of diverse groups and multiracial communities Although understanding various cultural norms and accepting diversity is not always simple the book promotes a global understanding through identifying cultural benefits within a multiracial multi ethnic society while evoking culturally competent techniques for mental health practitioners

Collections Management as Critical Museum Practice Cara Krmpotich,Alice Stevenson,2024-07-22

There is a common misconception that collections management in museums is a set of rote procedures or technical practices that follow universal standards of best practice This volume recognises collections management as a political critical and social project involving considerable intellectual labour that often goes unacknowledged within institutions and in the fields of museum and heritage studies Collections Management as Critical Museum Practice brings into focus the knowledges value systems ethics and workplace pragmatics that are foundational for this work Rather than engaging solely with cultural modifications such as Indigenous care practices the book presents local knowledge of place and material which is relevant to how collections are managed and cared for worldwide Through discussion of varied collection types management activities and professional roles contributors develop a contextualised reflexive practice for how core collections management standards are conceptualised negotiated and enacted Chapters span national museums in Brazil and Uganda to community led heritage work in Malaysia and Canada they explore complexities of numbering digitisation and description alongside the realities of climate change global pandemics and natural disasters The book offers a new definition of collections management travelling from what is done to care for collections to what is done to care for collections and their users Rather than use being an end goal it emerges as a starting point to rethink collections work Large Space Systems Technology ,1981 Apollo 14

Preliminary Science Report Manned Spacecraft Center (U.S.),1971 Apollo 14 Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center,Manned Spacecraft Center (U.S.),United States. National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Scientific and Technical Information Office,1971 Apollo 14 the third mission during which men have worked on the surface of the Moon was highly successful This mission to the Fra Mauro Formation provided geophysical data from a new set of instruments Because of improved equipment such as the modularized equipment transporter and because of the extended time spent on the lunar surface a large quantity and variety of lunar samples were returned to Earth for detailed examination New information concerning the mechanics of the lunar soil was also obtained during this mission In addition five lunar orbital experiments were conducted during the Apollo 14 mission needing no new equipment other than a camera The experiments were executed by the command module pilot in the command and service module while the commander and the lunar module pilot were on the surface of the Moon This report is preliminary in nature however it is meant to acquaint the reader with the actual conduct of the Apollo 14 scientific mission and to record the facts as they appear in the early stages of the scientific mission evaluation As far as possible data trends are reported and preliminary results and conclusions are included p xi
