Lilies And Other Stories Pandas:

Lilies and Other Stories Zhijuan Ru, 1985 One of China's most popular authors Ru Zhijuan is best known for her short stories. This collection contains ten works including Lilies, the story which brought her fame in 1958. Many of the earlier themes of her stories were drawn from the War of Liberation but she now writes on a wide range of subjects. A badly edited story and The path through the grassland both recent works have won national awards. Her stories are well constructed and engagingly written with an emphasis on subtle characterization. P 4 of cover Lilies and Other Stories Ru Zhijuan, 1985

The Valentine Rose & Other Stories Pradeep Kumar Panda, 2018 This album of eleven short stories tries to portray true to life situations in the current milieu. The writer has used his creative prowess in building them basing on his observation of social complexities. Written in lucid style the satirical undertone in these stories can be well perceived by the reader who may find the latter both musing and amusing. Though written in Indian context the stories may be enjoyed by the non-Indian reader as well. The author Pradeep Kumar Panda has some years of editorial experience in the print media: newspapers, periodicals and books. He has produced several essays which have been published in newspapers and periodicals. Also a translator and grant writer Mr Panda lives in Cuttack city in India's Odisha state. Modern Chinese Writers Helmut Martin, Jeffrey C. Kinkley, 2016-09-16 This volume gathers personal reflections on life and literature by 44 of China's leading authors. It aims to illustrate how Chinese society and its creative writing have supported, competed and fought with each other for the past 40 years and more. Much of what is revealed here is mundane but the pressure of bringing art to social and political causes indeed the universal pressure to survive forges this collection into a very human document. The strengths and weaknesses of these essays offer a window on those of modern Chinese literature itself. Realism was the favoured literary doctrine of the day and reflecting this most of these essays speak for themselves about war, revolution, betrayal and commitment.

The Song of Everlasting Sorrow Wang Anyi, 2008-02-22 The classic story of a woman in post-World War II China. A complex and penetrating portrayal that best displays Anyi's gifts as a novelist. The New York Times: Infatuated with the glitz and glamour of 1940s Hollywood, Wang Qiyao, a girl born of the longtang, the crowded labyrinthine alleys of Shanghai's working-class neighborhoods, seeks fame in the Miss Shanghai beauty pageant. This fleeting moment of stardom becomes the pinnacle of her life. During the next four decades, Wang Qiyao indulges in the decadent pleasures of pre-liberation Shanghai, secretly playing mahjong during the Anti-Rightist Movement and exchanging lovers on the eve of the Cultural Revolution. Surviving the vicissitudes of modern Chinese history, Wang Qiyao emerges in the 1980s as a purveyor of old Shanghai, a living incarnation of a new commodified nostalgia that prizes splendor and sophistication only to become embroiled in a tragedy that echoes the pulpy Hollywood noirs of her youth. From the violent persecution of communism to the liberalism and openness of the age of reform, this sorrowful tale of old China versus new perseverance in the face of adversity is a timeless rendering of our never-ending quest for transformation and beauty. A beautifully constructed cyclical narrative ingenious As the novel builds to its tragic conclusion the manner in which character types and events recur against the city's shifting backdrop is impossible to forget Publishers Weekly starred review A literary masterpiece The story is spellbinding colorful and sad the writing is dense and thoughtful a page turner right up to the end Historical Novel Society

Milestones on a Golden Road Richard King, 2013-01-15 In Milestones on a Golden Road Richard King presents pivotal works of fiction produced in four key periods of Chinese revolutionary history the civil war 1945-49 the Great Leap Forward 1958-60 the Cultural Revolution 1966-76 and the post-Mao catharsis 1979-80 Taking its cues from the Soviet Union's optimistic depictions of a society liberated by Communism the official Chinese literature of this era is characterized by grand narratives of progress Addressing questions of literary production King looks at how writers dealt with shifting ideological demands what indigenous and imported traditions inspired them and how they were able to depict a utopian Communist future to their readers even as the present took a very different turn Early red classics were followed by works featuring increasingly lurid images of joyful socialism and later by fiction exposing the Mao era as an age of irrationality arbitrary rule and suffering a Golden Road that had led to nowhere
