Fair Oxford 223 P:

Fair and Equitable Treatment and the Fabric of General Principles Fulvio Maria Palombino, 2017-11-27 This book moves from the circumstance whereby currently the obligation to provide fair and equitable treatment FET to foreign investments is included in the majority of international investment agreements and has proved to be the most invoked standard in investor State arbitration Hence it is no overstatement to describe this standard as the basic norm of international investment law Yet both its meaning and normative basis continue to be shrouded in ambiguity and as a consequence to inspire a considerable number of interpretations by legal writers The book's precise aim is to unravel such ambiguity arguing from the idea that FET has become part of the fabric of general international law but has done so by means of a source somewhat neglected in legal doctrine This being the category of general principles peculiar to a certain field of international law i e those principles having their own foundations in the international legal order itself but which through the mediation of the judge end up being shaped according to the features typical of a specific normative field The book as well as having a solid theoretical backdrop as its basis offers a careful and critical analysis of pertinent case law and will prove useful to both scholars and practitioners Fulvio Maria Palombino is Professor of International Law at the Law Department of the University of Naples Federico II and a member of the Executive Board of the European Society of International Law Specific to this book Explains the ICSID practice clearly and concisely Useful in practical terms Excerpts from a review Fair and Equitable Treatment and the Fabric of General Principles is an original and well researched book in which the author challenges a number of conventional wisdoms on FET Among the strengths of the book one can mention the solid discussion of public international law principles relevant to FET and the interesting incursions into domestic law legal systems which play an important role in the understanding of FET components such as due process legitimate expectations or proportionality In particular the section on promises provides a convincing analysis of the issues that arise when the administration makes an assurance or representation to an investor Against the backdrop of the examination of unilateral acts under public international law Palombino's analysis sheds new light on what ought to be the proper scope of protection under the legitimate expectations doctrine in case of governmental promises clarifying a number of points which have received insufficient attention by arbitral tribunals thus far Michele Potest Attorney with L vy Kaufmann Kohler Geneva Senior Researcher Geneva Center for International Dispute Settlement CIDS book review in International and Comparative Law Quarterly 2018 67 4 1036 1037 For the full review see <https://doi.org/10.1017/S0020589318000246> Catalog of Copyright Entries. Fair Borders? David Hall,2017-06-12 Our migration policy impacts on New Zealand citizens on recent immigrants and on people who are never permitted to set foot on this land It creates prosperity for some and hardship for others Debates over immigration are heating up with grave political consequences Fair Borders draws together a broad set of writers to discuss whether New Zealand's immigration policy offers a fair go to those just arriving and to those who arrived a long time ago This edited collection includes new and diverse perspectives that go beyond the boundaries of popular debate in which migrants are too often treated as numbers not people Contributors Andrew Chen is a PhD candidate in Computer Systems Engineering at the University of Auckland Francis Collins is a senior lecturer in Geography and Rutherford Discovery Fellow at the University of Auckland David Hall is a Senior Researcher at The Policy Observatory AUT Nina Hall is a lecturer at the Hertie School of Governance in Berlin Hautahi Kingi is an economist based in Washington DC Tahu Kukutai is Professor of Demography at the National Institute of Demographic and Economic Analysis Evelyn Marsters is deputy editor at Impolitikal Kate McMillan is a senior lecturer in Politics at Victoria University of Wellington Arama Rata is a Research Officer at the National Institute of Demographic and Economic Analysis Murdoch Stephens is a lecturer at Massey University in Wellington

Sanskrit and Indian Studies M. Nagatomi, Bimal K. Matilal, J. Moussaieff Masson, E. Dimock, 2012-12-06 From the Subhdsitaratnakosa Verse No 1729 vahati na pural kascit pasclill na ko py anuyati mam na ca navapadak ul l o marga katham nv aham ekaka bhavatu viditam purvavyu 'Fair and Equitable Treatment' in International Investment Law Roland Kläger, 2011-06-23 A breach of fair and equitable treatment is alleged in almost every investor state dispute It has therefore become a controversial norm which touches many questions at the heart of general international law In this book Roland Kläger sheds light on these controversies by exploring the deeper doctrinal foundations of fair and equitable treatment and reviewing its contentious relationship with the international minimum standard The norm is also discussed in light of the fragmentation of international law theories of international justice and rational balancing and the idea of constitutionalism in international law In this vein a shift in the way of addressing fair and equitable treatment is proposed by focusing on the process of justificatory reasoning Young and Damned and Fair Gareth Russell, 2017-04-04 England July 1540 it is one of the hottest summers on record and the court of Henry VIII is embroiled once again in political scandal Anne Cleves is out Thomas Cromwell is to be executed and in the countryside an aristocratic teenager named Catherine Howard prepares to become fifth wife to the increasingly unpredictable monarch In the five centuries since her death Catherine Howard has been dismissed as a wanton inconsequential or a naive victim of her ambitious family but the story of her rise and fall offers not only a terrifying and compelling story of an attractive vivacious young woman thrown onto the shores of history thanks to a king's infatuation but an intense portrait of Tudor monarchy in microcosm how royal favour was won granted exercised displayed celebrated and at last betrayed and lost The story of Catherine Howard is both a very dark fairy tale and a gripping political scandal Village Song & Culture Michael Pickering, 2015-12-14 Originally published in 1982 The songs on which this study is based were once vibrant in the throats and ears and minds of living people This book examines the songs and their meanings in relation to the lives of those people and relates them to the cultural tradition and practice of which they were an integral part The art of village song represents a sense of cohesiveness and mutual identity around local patterns of kinship social groupings territorial orientations and cultural relationships The actual ways in which songs were part of village life is of course highly problematic but this book endeavours most of all to present an understanding of the place of song in the social life of villagers Europeanization of Procedural Law and the New Challenges to Fair Trial Laura Ervo, Minna Gräns, Antti Jokela, 2009 Despite European integration judicial procedure has long remained autonomous i.e. a purely national regulatory object In recent years however it has been possible to notice increasing traces of the Europeanization of procedural law on multiple levels The rapid internationalization development of procedural law advancing on these various levels sets challenges to the research of procedural law as well as to the conduct of judicial procedure This book consists of a number of independent but interrelated theses and post doctoral research projects The comprehensive research in this collection examines the challenges that are now taking place in the Europeanization of procedural law

Tóth, 2013-11-05 How should responsibility for adapting to climate change be distributed Who should bear the costs of mitigating its impacts and how should these costs be measured Answers to these questions differ often according to the vulnerability wealth and level of industrial development of the country Finding a fair solution is controversial but crucial to the complex and vital negotiations over global warming This volume examines equity concerns in climate change from a broad range of social science disciplines It explores the policy dimensions and analytical needs of the negotiations process The Jersey Bulletin and Dairy World, 1918 At Vanity Fair Kirsty Milne, 2015-05-12 At Vanity Fair tells the story of Bunyan's powerful metaphor exploring how Vanity Fair was transformed from an emblem of sin and persecution into a showcase for celebrity wealth and power This literary history focusing on reception adaptation and influence traces the fictional representation of Vanity Fair over three centuries from John Bunyan's masterpiece The Pilgrim's Progress 1678 to William Makepeace Thackeray's own Vanity Fair 1847-8 It explores the influence of anonymous journalists and booksellers alongside well known authors including Ben Jonson Samuel Richardson and Thomas Carlyle Over time Bunyan's dystopian fantasy has been altered and repurposed to characterise consumer capitalism channelling memories that inform and unsettle modern hedonism By tracking the idea of Vanity Fair against this shifting background the book illuminates the relationship between the individual and the collective imagination between what is culturally available and what is creatively impelled
