Mauldon, Hildred Betty Redfern, 1981-01-01 101 More Music Games for Children Ger Storms, Jerry Storms, 2001 Music games are relaxing and playful They encourage creativity both in children s imagination and expression All players need is a willingness to have fun and to experience the joys of interacting with others The games include rhythm games dance and movement games card and board games and musical projects All of the games stress humor challenge surprise and cooperation rather than competition Games for the Classroom Annalisa Bardella, Paolo Macagno, 2021-02-25 32 GROUP GAMES which have been tried and tested on groups of primary school children These are games which can be played in the classroom whilst observing the distances recommended by the Covid 19 anti contagion guidelines which are now obligatory in schools but can unfortunately compromise the global and social aspects of students learning This publication B N is dedicated to those primary school teachers who like us consider games to be an integral part of learning and a cross disciplinary way to respond to the deeper needs of the child and his her development Theory and practice have demonstrated that without a shadow of a doubt group games are the most natural and spontaneous way for children to grow learn test their limits and discover their talents In this book you will find 32 group games to use in the classroom with pictures photos and drawings which are also linked to the primary curriculum 5 of them could be considered essential old classics Fishing competition Mime game Team hangman Name object place Forbidden words whilst the other 27 while sometimes containing familiar elements of other games have more original and unpublished formats These latter games arose from our daily research into finding a way to make school more lively and creative and to encourage students to participate and play an active role in their own learning something which they have done with great enthusiasm and creativity Identity card Find the word How where when Art competition Poetry competition What or to what The good and the bad Question and answer The circle of rhyme The king orders Guess which three Guess what The grandparents dinner The division challenge Important things The interview Arithmetic olympics Hidden words or find the verb Free words Pass the paper Mute painter Point the finger Sherlock Holmes Yes or no Musical bingo Auction Full bag The Russian linguist and anthropologist Vladimir Propp showed that fairy tales only have a limited number of functions 31 in fact and we should bear in mind that this is also true for children s games It is therefore only natural that we should find similarities between games from 100 years ago and today and games from children in Africa or any other continent Although the 32 games have been designed for use in the limited space available in a classroom they are all games and as such all have the same characteristics of being adaptable entertaining functional enjoyable and interactive They allow children to release their emotions and interact they are motivational creative and empathetic whilst also helping the internalisation of those skills and concepts which are present in the school curriculum from Maths to English and Music to Civil Education So whilst the scientific world is working to eradicate the virus which has us in the grip of a global pandemic us teachers can also play our part by coming up with new ideas and strategies to deal with this new normality We can find ways in which we can maintain the necessity of physically social distancing yet still take into consideration the needs of our youngest citizens to grow and develop skills and abilities on a global scale from working and playing in a group
