Facts Artifacts And Counterfacts Theory And Method For A Reading And Writing Course:

Facts, Artifacts, and Counterfacts David Bartholomae,1986 This book brings together eight years of teaching and research connected with the integrated basic reading and writing course developed at the University of Pittsburgh

Teaching Academic Literacy , A Bibliography on Writing and Written Language Konrad Ehlich,Florian Coulmas,Gabriele Graefen,2011-06-01 The bibliography offers information on research about writing and written language over the past 50 years No comprehensive bibliography on this subject has been published since Sattler s 1935 handbook With a selection of some 27 500 titles it covers the most important literature in all scientific fields relating to writing Emphasis has been placed on the interdisciplinary organization of the bibliography creating many points of common interest for literacy experts educationalists psychologists sociologists linguists cultural anthropologists and historians The bibliography is organized in such a way as to provide the specialist as well as the researcher in neighboring disciplines with access to the relevant literature on writing in a given field While necessarily selective it also offers information on more specialized bibliographies In addition an overview of norms and standards concerning script and writing will prove very useful for non professional readers It is therefore also of interest to the generally interested public as a reference work for the humanities

On Literacy and Its Teaching Gail E. Hawisher,Anna O. Soter,1990-07-05 This book recognizes and embraces the complexities of modern English teaching It presents English teachers and teacher educators with a critical view of current professional issues and concerns in the belief that these groups need and want to participate in curricular and professional reform movements that affect them and their students The book examines such issues as the interconnectedness of the study of language literature and composition curricular problems in language instruction in teacher education the relationship between our traditional notions of literature study and our emerging view of literacy in the contemporary information age and the ways in which current theory and research can be translated into innovative designs for the teaching of written composition On Literacy and Its Teaching is a powerful response to the current challenge for innovation and change in English teacher education With its broad scope it provides a balanced overview and timely analysis of the field of English Education Disrupting Pedagogies in the Knowledge Society: Countering Conservative Norms with Creative Approaches Faulkner, Julie,2011-12-31 This book examines a range of disruptive approaches exploring how challenge dissonance and discomfort might be mobilized in educational contexts in order to shift taken for granted attitudes and beliefs held by both educators and learners Provided by publisher Sixteen Teachers Teaching Patrick Sullivan,2020-12-01 Sixteen Teachers Teaching is a warmly personal full access tour into the classrooms and teaching practices of sixteen distinguished two year college English professors Approximately half of all basic writing and first year composition classes are now taught at two year colleges so the perspectives of English faculty who teach at these institutions are particularly valuable for our profession This book shows us how a group of acclaimed teachers put together their classes design reading and writing assignments and theorize their work as writing instructors All of these teachers have spent their careers teaching multiple sections of writing classes each semester or term so this book presents readers with an impressive and perhaps unprecedented abundance of pedagogical expertise teaching knowledge and classroom experience Sixteen Teachers Teaching is a book filled with joyfulness wisdom and pragmatic advice It has been designed to be a source of inspiration for high school and college English teachers as they go about their daily work in the classroom Contributors Peter Adams Jeff Andelora Helane Adams Androne Taiyon J Coleman Renee DeLong Kathleen Sheerin DeVore Jamey Gallagher Shannon Gibney Joanne Baird Giordano Brett Griffiths Holly Hassel Darin Jensen Jeff Klausman Michael C Kuhne Hope Parisi and Howard Tinberg Rewriting

Success in Rhetoric and Composition Careers Amy Goodburn, Donna LeCourt, 2012-09-15 Rewriting Success in Rhetoric and Composition Careers presents alternative narratives of what constitutes success in the field of rhetoric and composition from those who occupy traditionally undervalued positions in the academy tribal college community colleges postdoctoral tracks those who have used their PhDs outside of the academy a law firm a textbook publisher a community center and those who have engaged in professionalization opportunities not typical in the field research center a nonprofit humanities organization Across Property Lines Candace Spigelman, 2000-02-16 Candace Spigelman investigates the dynamics of ownership in small group writing workshops basing her findings on case studies involving two groups a five member creative writing group meeting monthly at a local Philadelphia coffee bar and a four member college level writing group meeting in their composition classroom She explores the relationship between particular notions of intellectual property within each group as well as the effectiveness of writing groups that embrace these notions Addressing the negotiations between the public and private domains of writing within these groups she discovers that for both the committed writers and the novices values associated with textual ownership play a crucial role in writing group performance Spigelman discusses textual ownership intellectual property and writing group processes and then reviews theories relating to authorship and knowledge making After introducing the participants in each group discussing their texts and describing their workshop sessions she examines the writers avowed and implied beliefs about exchanging ideas and protecting individual property rights Spigelman stresses the necessary tension between individual and social aspects of writing practices She argues for the need to foster more collaborative activity among student writers by replicating the processes of writers working in nonacademic settings but also contends that all writers must be allowed to imagine their individual agency and authority as they compose

Multiethnic American Literatures Helane Adams Androne, 2014-12-08 This book provides original essays that suggest ways to engage students in the classroom with the cultural factors of American literature Some of the essays focus on individual authors works others view American literature more broadly and still others focus on the application of culturally based methods for reading All suggest a closer look at how ethnicity culture and pedagogy interact in the classroom to help students better understand the complexity of works by African Americans Native Americans Asian Americans Latinos and

The Designs of Academic Literacy Michael Newman, 2002-03-30 This qualitative multi case study of academic literacy is the first research to assume the premises of the Multiliteracies Project of the New London Group of literacy researchers It takes a multimodal view of literacy not limited to reading and writing and sets about to uncover the Design the flexible structuring of rules and principles that students and teachers both follow and create in college courses This Design takes the form of a game in which students channel content from sources such as texts and lectures to assessments of various kinds Students are then rewarded in the form of grades to the extent that the content they display matches the criteria the professor sets up The students in this study had to determine which content would or would not match these criteria which of six types of information facts concepts connections processes principles or metainformation e g rhetorical patterns were desired and how best to supply them To move content from source to target they used four operations These include exposure making themselves conscious of the information extraction a process of selecting information manipulation changing or synthesizing information and display showing the information Greater awareness of this Design led to greater success Pedagogical implications of this model include establishing a more realistic curricula for academic literacy programs and educating professors to better match grading criteria with learning goals
