Fairburn And Friends:

Fairburn and Friends Dinah Holman, Christine Cole Catley, 2004 ARD Fairburn probably more than any other New Zealander bridged literature politics commerce medicine and art history He moved from the worlds of architecture broadcasting painting and photography to the environment and outdoor pursuits and he was always intent on debating social and philosophical ideas Rex Fairburn liked nothing better than to expound these notions and toss them around in the company of good friends drink in one hand pipe in the other His friends many of whom figure in this book included many of those prominent in those same worlds from the 1920s through to the 1950s According to acclaimed author and historian Michael King this book makes an important contribution to New Zealand s history It will enlarge our understanding of how the literary and artistic community functioned in Auckland in the 1920s to 1950s with a degree of accomplishment and coherence that is surprising by today s standards

Micromodernism Tim Armstrong, 2025 What is wrong with literary modernism as a paradigm One answer is that it is over written a kind of winner s history with a relatively narrow canon of innovative works even including recent additions Another is that it is a retrospective construction rather than a term much used in its period This book seeks to return to the scene of literary renewal and to examine representative small groupings struggling in the wake of the High Modernism of the 1920s to articulate their own avant garde ambitions in terms of politics personal values aesthetic categories or continued allegiances to writers like Lawrence In looking at microhistories at literary beginnings and even at failure we are forced to reexamine our mapping of modernism

Playing Fields Eric Parker, 1922 The London Journal, 1862 Friends' Intelligencer, 1910 The Southeastern Reporter, 1896 To Bed at Noon Ian Richards, 2013-11-01 This volume examines the life and work of New Zealand author Maurice Duggan His life was turbulent and difficult as he suffered from a black Irish personality the lifelong trauma of an amputated leg and battles with alcoholism relationships and employment This biography looks at the complexity of his life and offers a picture of literary life in New Zealand and especially Auckland in the 1950s and 1960s

Whole Men Kai Jensen, 1996 Kai Jensen takes a provocative look at masculinity in New Zealand literature He argues that New Zealand writing around the Second World War was shaped by excitement about masculinity as a way of challenging society Inspired partly by Marxism writers such as A R D Fairburn Denis Glover John Mulgan and Frank Sargeson linked national identity to the ordinary working man or soldier and attempted to merge artistic activity and manliness in a new ideal the whole man This masculine excitement forged a literary and intellectual culture which was powerful for thirty years and which discouraged women writers Jensen suggests that the aftermath of masculinism still influences the way New Zealand intellectuals see themselves and that the masculine tradition survives in the writing of Owen Marshall Sam Hunt Maurice Shadbolt and even Maurice Gee At the same time he argues that masculinism underwent a process of change after its high point in the 1940s Frank Sargeson's closeted homosexuality posed a complex problem for the masculine tradition and its historians and James K Baxter's symbolic Jungian poetry was also hard to reconcile with the idea that men's writing must be based on robust experience Yet Baxter prepared the masculine tradition for the 1960s and 1970s by renovating the whole man as bohemian lover Whole Men is not just about one literary movement but about how literary culture works and how New Zealand intellectuals construct their identities The London Journal: and Weekly Record of Literature, Science, and Art, 1862
