his life from the laurel tree in the Black Forest      Mirage of Afro-Feminism Ishaya Albert, 2015-06-26 Mirage of Afro feminism explores a very important and recurrent theme in human societies: the need to accord women and children their rightful places in society. In exploring the subject, the author lays a subtle but convincing development and precision of plots with the characters of Mrs Lawal, Dr Hafsah, Edna, Shay, Corporal Talachi, Dr Asunka, and Katherine as key players, with a cloud of other characters. The whole plot is relayed through an exciting and captivating style of narrative in the unique tone of the author, which in turn makes every scenario enjoyable, replayable, and exciting with every sense of accuracy and exactness without any space for makeup or aborted suspense. The plot depicted through the character of Mrs Lawal expresses the needs for selfless service, sacrifice, love, and care as values for positive social change. Dr Hafsah Through her, the work vividly shows the plight of women in society with an emphasis on the lack of respect for women as a major constraint to effective emancipation. Also in her character, the off-track trends in women's rights: solidarity, activism, and feminism alongside their overbearing and counterproductive tendencies against genuine women's liberation and empowerment are highlighted. Edna Shay Through her, the plot hints at the difference between the developed and developing worlds, which is attitude characterized by respect for oneself and others on the one hand and lack of respect for humanity on the other. Talachi Through him, the plot gives a picture of to what extent a kind fellow can go to support the human cause and to help others live a better life, especially under the burden of undoing one's mistakes against humanity and to have a free conscience by personal conviction. Dr Asunka In this character, a seeker of better ways to live and an accomplished personality who is chiefly concerned with seeing people, especially women, get accomplished to the fullest of their potentials is depicted. Katherine In her character, a dormant deputy is seen who, on coming to the stage, turns into a game changer in a dwindling and obscured women's forum. Her mien, experience, and temperament are the forces that propel Dr Hafsah to take a resolute step to solve the puzzle that mitigates her efforts in women's rights and feminist pursuits. Mirage of Afro feminism is a work that speaks against global indifference and irresoluteness in the plight of women and children alongside some other people globally, especially people trapped in conflict zones across the globe, in a loud and clear tone. The book also breaks the socioreligious silence about the status quo of women.

I Hear Gaea's Tears Tessa Crigger, Publish America, 2005-01-01 This collection of environmental writings is dedicated to spreading the word about the fight for Gaea or Mother Earth. It is a way to open discussion and, hopefully, a few eyes about the plight of all creatures who dwell upon this planet along with the Spirit of Mother Earth as well. The words contained here are meant to express the need for all champions of Mother Earth to step forward and begin the healing process so needed within our time period today. The future generations of tomorrow are counting on us to remember the Old Ones and their pledge to keep our planet from decay. The spark of interest must be ignited not only within each heart but within each mind as well, for if but one will take a stand, then there will always be a hope for a better tomorrow. To light the flame, I invite you to read this book and see if at the end you will also hear Gaea's
