The Fast-track Course on how to Write a Nonfiction Book Proposal Stephen Blake Mettee, 2002 The hard cold fact about getting a book published is that without something close to divine intervention an author is going to have to write a sales piece called a book proposal that will attract the attention of an editor or an agent In fact at most publishers this sales piece is going to have to hold up under the scrutiny of a committee made up of a bevy of editors and a pod of sales and marketing people With The Fast Track Course on How to Write a Nonfiction Book Proposal Mettee a seasoned book editor and publisher cuts to the chase and provides simple detailed instruction that allows anyone to write a professional book proposal and hear an editor say Yes According to Mettee the first rule is Do no harm Too many authors don't pay enough attention to the small things like spelling and grammar and manuscript format that are needed to make their book proposals appear professional They may have a great idea for a book and be eminently qualified to write it but they schmuck it up with slovenly disregard for the easy stuff The last rule is Be persistent If you quit after your first rejection slip or after the thirteenth or the thirtieth you'll never get published Many books that are rejected scores of times go on to be best sellers You're not defeated until you give up
