The Origins of Psychic Phenomena Stan Gooch, 2007-02-07 Examines unexplained phenomena in psychiatric and psychological terms rather than occult terms Explores how the unconscious mind manifests paranormal phenomena Shows how the cerebellum the seat of the unconscious is the source of these energies subpersonalities and manifestations Identifies our neglected Neanderthal subconscious as responsible for the rising incidence of paranormal happenings Alien abduction poltergeist attacks incubi succubi split and multiple personalities possessions precognition spontaneous combustion the list of phenomena not just unexplained but ignored by mainstream science seems endless Yet the key to the origin of all these manifestations lies deep within our own brains In The Origins of Psychic Phenomena Stan Gooch explores the functioning of the dream producing part of the brain the cerebellum and how the unconscious mind is able to externalize itself The cerebellum is the physical seat of the unconscious and was once equal to or even superior to the cerebrum as essential to our functioning In modern times it has been shunted into the subliminal yet the cerebellum continues to process our worldly experiences and reveals its concerns in misunderstood often frightening manifestations Gooch explains that Neanderthal Man possessed a much larger cerebellum than Cro Magnon Man and posits that the modern repression of the cerebellum's role in our consciousness has given rise to these supernatural phenomena

Psychic Communication with Animals for Health and Healing Laila del Monte, 2010-03-09 The transformation and insights of an acclaimed flamenco dancer turned world renowned animal communicator and healer Presents powerful case histories of animals with whom she communicated and treated Offers instruction on how to establish communication with animals When Laila del Monte was a child growing up on the Balearic island of Formentera she experienced a special bond with the animals that were a part of her life Later as she became entirely focused on her career as a flamenco dancer she resisted those who told her that her true vocation was as a healer But when her own health challenges jeopardized her dancing career the healing energies she received from both her human and animal teachers raised her consciousness about the important insights animals have to offer on the state of our physical and emotional well being In this book Laila del Monte reveals how the unconditionally loving nature of animals very often leads them to take on the physical pains and negative emotional experiences of the human beings in their lives The animals absorb negative emotions such as guilt anger jealousy and other issues that stop people from moving forward and reflect these back in their animal behavior Through her work with countless animals suffering from behavioral disorders or who have been sick or injured del Monte learned that the physical healing of the animals is directly tied to the emotional healing of the people they are close to The stories and situations she shares in this book demonstrate that learning what animals have to teach us about our lives does not require any magical formula or laborious training it is part of our natural birthright We need only to revive our own deep intuition to restore this connection The authenticity and loving nature of del Monte s approach is not only testimony to her dedication and amazing abilities but also shows us the way we can follow the same path simply and honestly

Communicating Ruth Finnegan, 2014-01-10 Many accounts of human communication suggest that we are limited to communicating through words visual images the mass media and by digital means This perspective underestimates the multisensory qualities of much of our human interconnecting and the multiple sounds touches sights and material objects which humans use so creatively to interconnect both nearby and across space and time Ruth Finnegan brings together research from linguistic and sensory anthropology alternative approaches to material culture and the body non verbal communication cultural studies computer mediated communication and illuminating work on animal communication

Examples from both western and non western cultures together with plentiful illustrations enrich and deepen the analysis. The book uncovers the amazing array of sounds, sights, smells, gestures, looks, movements, touches and material objects which humans use so creatively to interconnect both nearby and across space and time, resources consistently underestimated in those western ideologies that prioritise rationality and referential language. Focussing on embodied and material processes and on practice rather than text, this comparative analysis challenges the underlying cognitive and word-centred model common to many approaches to communication. The second edition of Communicating includes a new introduction, updates to take account of recent work, an additional chapter covering ethereal, non-verbal, non-bodily communicating such as telepathy and dreams, fresh illustrations, a new conclusion and updated bibliography. This authoritative but accessible book is an essential transdisciplinary overview for researchers and advanced students in language and communication, anthropology and cultural studies.
