

Do not stand at my grave and weep, I am not there, I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow. I am the diamond glint on snow.

Life As I Know It Richard Penner,2023-06-06 Can a biologist be fiercely supportive of the scientific process and still believe in God How does travelling shape a young mind and can it influence the path you take in life Are humans really all that different from each other when we consider our fundamental belief systems These questions and many others are addressed in Life As I Know It a book written by a scientist who just happens to be a Mennonite In this book Richard Penner shares his knowledge of the birth of Earth humanity s role in evolution and how religion has contributed to who we have become as a species Through it all nature and the natural world play an important role in the stories he tells and the explanations he shares Aimed at bridging a widening gap between different generations Life as I Know It is Penner s way of sharing a bit of his knowledge about all aspects of life Penner also takes a philosophical approach to what it means to be alive today both on a literal and metaphorical level He shares his points of view in a thoughtful manner supporting his ideas with varied facts and references to great minds who have come before us Through his words readers are inspired to consider different perspectives and make their own decisions about what life means to them

A Long Long War Ken Wharton,2008-05-16 The author of Bloody Belfast delivers a vivid and unforgettable record of the Northern Irish conflict that captures the true horrors of war Best of British There are stories from some of the most seminal moments during the troubles in Northern Ireland the Crossmaglen firefights the 1988 corporals killings the Ballygawley bus bombing and more told from the perspective of the British soldiers who served there between 1969 and 1998 This was a war against terrorists who knew no mercy or compassion a war involving sectarian hatred and violent death Over 1 000 British lives were lost in a place just thirty minutes flying time away from the mainland The British Army was sent into Northern Ireland on August 14 1969 by the Wilson government as law and order had broken down and the population mainly Catholics and property were at grave risk Between then and 1998 some 300 000 British troops served in Northern Ireland This is their story in their own words from first to last Receiving a remarkable amount of cooperation from Northern Ireland veterans eager to tell their story the author has compiled a vivid and unforgettable record Their experiences sad and poignant fearful and violent courageous in the face of adversity even downright hilarious make for compelling reading Their voices need to be heard One of the first and only books to offer the perspective of regular British soldiers serving in the Northern Irish conflict a valuable addition to the extensive literature about the Irish Troubles Choice

No Regrets Coleen Nolan,2014-03-13 No Regrets is Coleen Nolan s gripping new memoir about love and heartbreak As a member of the Nolan sisters Coleen Nolan was born into the spotlight and has stayed there ever since She has now become one of the nation s favourite TV presenters and is used to newspapers and magazines claiming to have the inside story of her private life In No Regrets Coleen finally reveals the truth of what really happened during the last few rollercoaster years truly the worst of her life Whilst it s certainly been a traumatic time for the whole family Coleen is a survivor First and foremost she is a mum and is determined to hold her family together The Nolans finally put aside their infamous feud to rally round their beloved sister Bernie who tragically lost her fight with cancer on the 4th of July last year aged just 52 In this memoir Coleen movingly describes her struggle to deal with the emotional scars that come from losing someone so close and the effect it has had on her own life Coleen also reveals the secret that she has been hiding from prying eyes her second marriage and happy ever after with musician Ray Fensome was pushed to breaking point by a series of rows and separations Here for the first time Coleen reveals how she has battled to save her marriage and to stop her family being torn apart In this incredibly candid memoir Coleen writes with raw honesty about her family troubles her career highs and lows and her struggle with her body image In recent years Coleen has found herself in both a plastic surgeon s office looking at a 20 000 bill to fix her face and at a breast cancer clinic asking for the removal of her healthy breasts to avoid becoming the fourth sister in the family to be struck down by cancer Wonderfully warm and moving and brilliantly funny and honest No Regrets will take you from laughter to tears and back again as you share in Coleen s very personal journey Style and Sense(s)

Linda Pillière,Sandrine Sorlin,2024-05-09 This edited volume celebrates cutting edge research in stylistics and more specifically recent work on sense and the senses The title originated in the Poetics and Linguistics Association PALA 2022 conference and marks the 40th onsite event by showcasing some of the excellent papers delivered on that occasion The selected chapters fall into 4 parts each of which gives pride of place to how style makes sense and how senses make style The chapters follow research in neuroscience and sociocognition investigate how body and mind are inextricably linked through embodied meaning how emotions are both conveyed and perceived and how impressions thoughts and worldviews can be induced by a certain style The apprehension of the senses is carried through a variety of theories cognitive linguistics and stylistics ecostylistics phenomenology simulation theory enactivism metaphor theory Text World Theory and is applied to various genres poetry novels short stories detectivefiction restaurant reviews and media the oral vs written tradition ekphrasis and semiotic transfers This book will be of interest to students and academics in stylistics cognitive linguistics discourse analysis ecostylistics and multimodality The Indalo Quest Tracy Saunders,2012-07-23 Im digging in the dirt from paradise in Costa Rica in search of her life's meaning. Who were the people who had come together in the past to produce the person she barely knew as her self? The Indalo Quest is an odyssey of self-discovery which takes the writer back to her birthplace in Wiltshire in search of roots to Granada in search of adventure and finally to peace and understanding at her dying mother's bedside. Intensely personal and poignant and often uproariously funny, Tracy Saunders' book about travelling her way out of depression is sure to hit a nerve.

Trying to find The places I got hurt Peter Gabriel Susan Gage died this morning These words were to exile Tracy Saunders

Katie Mitchell Authors and Publishers Directory From Lone Mountain John Porcellino, 2021-04-22 A view of America as seen in small towns, rural roads and its overlooked in-between places. John Porcellino makes his love of home and of nature the anchors in an increasingly turbulent world. He slows down and visits the forests, fields, streams and overgrown abandoned lots that surround every city. He studies the flora and fauna around us. He looks at the overlooked. Porcellino also digs deep into a quintessential American endeavour: the road trip. Uprooting his comfortable life several times in From Lone Mountain, John drives through the country weaving from small town to small town, experiencing America in slow motion, avoiding the sameness of airports and overwhelming hustle of major cities. From Lone Mountain collects stories from Porcellino's influential zine King Cat. John enters a new phase of his life as he remarries and decides to leave his beloved second home, Colorado, for San Francisco. Grand themes of King Cat are visited and stated more eloquently than ever before: serendipity, memory and the quest for meaning in the everyday. Over the past three decades, Porcellino's beloved King Cat has offered solace to his readers; his gentle observational stories take the pulse of everyday life and reveal beauty in the struggle to keep going. Falcons and Foxes in the U.K. A. Lee Chichester, 2003-10-26 A once-in-a-lifetime experience chronicled with humor and passion: this memoir details the life-altering 1995 summer during which a nature lover becomes a hunter. One of those rare quantities, a woman falconer, Chichester discovered that her outlook on the world, nature and herself changed radically during her pursuit of the ancient art in a foreign country. Training captive-bred hybrid falcons, riding horseback to the flight of a falcon in pursuit of a crow, belting across the fells and pastures of the United Kingdom, the author deals with fears, preconceptions and a very steep learning curve after which she is changed forever. A Girl Named Maria Valerie S. Kreutzer, 2008-12-23 She was found abandoned in the lavatory of a cafeteria in Bogota, Colombia. The police who picked her up named her Maria Consuelo. From a stack of would-be parents, Colombia's welfare agency chose Valerie Kreutzer's application and the toddler quickly bonded with her new mom in Washington, DC. At school, Maria struggled with severe learning disabilities despite a superior IQ but also blossomed into an award-winning young artist. Her impulsive behavior led to fits and false starts during adolescence until she found happiness at twenty-one with David and his extended family. Their love and lives ended in the curve of a rural road in Florida. A Girl Named Maria chronicles an adopted daughter's struggle with identity and her yearning for a birth family that may have included a twin brother. Maria's legacy lives on in this poignant personal story of one mother's unconditional love for her adopted daughter. I loved this book. This story, although carrying the deep sorrow of a daughter's death, will give parents of transnational adoptions a guideline for their own experience This book is a much needed addition to the adoption literature Nancy Verrier The Primal Wound Coming Home to Self www.nancyverrier.com Melding the Pieces Henrietta Glaus, 2020-05-26 From growing up in a home without indoor plumbing or electricity running barefoot on the farm to traveling and bicycling throughout the world Henri Glaus has experienced a life filled with joy sorrow high adventure and the pleasure of accomplishments large and small Expressed honestly with an element of humility she recounts her story up to the cusp of her nonagenarian years Understanding that life is a series of abstruse valleys and radiant peaks Henri has embraced all the vicissitudes that a long life brings Throughout everything she has had the undying support of an extended family so large that as her sister said a bramble bush rather than a family tree would be required to record it Throughout her life Henri was blessed with role models beginning with her parents her brother and later four husbands one a professor encouraged and supported her in attaining a Ph D This set Henri on a path that provided undreamed of opportunities in her chosen field of education There is an adage that states a life well lived is a life worth living This is the story of that barefoot girl's journey the life of Henri Glaus Something I'll Always Reminisce Sweedal D'souza, Every person has their share of bittersweet memories memories from charming love to a broken heart from being happy and optimistic about life to being sad about a loved one's death from hating yourself to ending up loving yourself someday from being lost in this wide world to find a home at feels safe from being naive to ending up being mature before age but these are somethings that you'll reminisce about someday and laugh or cry out loud again in your life So we bring you some voices and stories of writers from around the globe to give them a space to write without being judged and you a chance to read and feel what they felt maybe you'll also find something to reminisce about The Spiriting Sheryl Grace Grimes, 2005-11-22 Mazie Jennings finds herself in the role of the proverbial mule headed to the barn intent on one thing and one thing only self pity to the nth degree Her plan if you could call her subconscious race back to North Florida a plan is to hide out at her recently deceased grandparents farm and lick her divorce wounds Step two is a given she has to buck up before returning to San Francisco and her high profile publishing career However Mazie is not allowed to be left alone much less have the time for a pity party The farm's looming grape harvest requires her immediate attention and try as she will she cannot escape its responsibilities With a community anxious to help with the harvest and a handsome though mysterious straw boss suddenly available to direct them in the task the harvest begins sweeping Mazie along in its frenzy Add to the mix Queenie the family's longtime friend and housekeeper hell bent that Mazie remain and live up to her family responsibilities Mazie becomes acquainted with old friends and discovers some are not who they seem When suspicious activity in the vineyards wakes her in the dead of night and fish begin dying in the river behind her home she struggles to stay uninvolved But when a close friend is attacked and property is damaged she is forced to action Secrets emerge as the old French winery gives up its secret wealth and ancient spirits make themselves known to Mazie Set where the rolling red clay hills meet the Gulf of Mexico's sandy marshes the 1800's riverbank
