

A woman with long blonde hair is sitting on a couch, holding a small white dog. In the foreground, there is a lit candle in a glass holder. The background is slightly blurred, showing a green plant and a window.

“I am homesick for a place I am not sure even exists. One where my heart is full. My body loved. And my soul understood.”

I Am Not Most Places:

I Am Not Most Places Richard Cumyn, 1996-09-16 Kingston writer Richard Cumyn's second book of short stories is a remarkable collection of fiction about the curse of modernity displacement In striking scenes Cumyn subtly explores our own sense of abandonment and loneliness in the face of change movement and loss Cumyn's prose is sparse and direct the violence suppressed beneath the surface casual and foreboding His characters are at once familiar and eerily distinct their relationships a tender blend of heartbreak and affection Separations achieved through illness betrayal aging necessity choice or dismissal represent an emotional x ray of a society looking for permanence in an increasingly fluid and precarious world This collection will haunt you like a shadow creeping over a suburban street all the landmarks appear familiar but each door leads to unimagined worlds Great stories await there

Global Identity in Multicultural and International Educational Contexts Nigel Bagnall, 2015-03-27 The increased movement of people globally has changed the face of national and international schooling Higher levels of mobility have resulted from both the willing movement of students and their families with a desire to create a better life and the forced movement of refugee families travelling away from war famine and other extreme circumstances This book explores the idea that the complex connections created by the forces of globalisation have led to a diminishing difference between what were once described as international schools and national schools By examining a selection of responses from students attending international schools in Brazil the United Kingdom France Germany the Philippines and Switzerland the book discusses key issues surrounding identity and cosmopolitan senses of belonging Chapters draw from current literature and recent qualitative research to highlight the concerns that students face within the international school community including social psychological and academic difficulties The interviews provide a rich and unique body of knowledge demonstrating how perceptions of identity and belonging are changing especially with affiliation to a national or a global identity The notion that international students have become global citizens through their affiliation to a global rather than a national identity exhibits a changing and potentially irreversible trend Global Identity in Multicultural and International Educational Contexts will be of key interest to researchers academics and policy makers involved with international schooling and globalised education

Buster's Diaries Roy Hattersley, 2009-11-29 Buster a half German Shepherd mutt was adopted by Roy Hattersley in December 1995 He began to dictate his diaries soon after his arrival Buster became England's most famous dog in 1996 when he defended himself against a goose in St James's Park a goose which unfortunately belonged to the Queen Pursued by the press ever since he has sought solace in writing Buster's Diaries is the comically heart warming true story of Buster's triumph over adversity as he describes his rescue from a paw to mouth existence on scraps to his new life in the lap of luxury and at the same time reveals the secrets of the strange relationship between dog and the Man on the other end of the lead Never before have readers been offered such insights into the aromatic canine world The irresistible fragrance of chicken bones picked off the sidewalk The special rituals required to receive delicious treats pig ears dog biscuits The sawdust balls Buster must eat to stay healthy while the Man gobbles down chocolate cookies The painful digestive consequences of eating cream filled cookies while still wrapped The diaries also reveal the strain of living with the Man the constant power struggle of who's boss the training ceremonies the Man's strange excrement collection syndrome and reliance on new dog humiliation technology Buster's Diaries will make you laugh and it will make you cry but it has a happy ending While it exposes the man made myths about d
