I Can Breathe In Water:

Air Lines: Short Stories to Be Read on Planes John Power, 2024-01-29 Drawing on his fascination with the natural world and human nature John Power presents us with a collection of short stories that peer around the corner of life Each self contained story captures a snapshot a scene a momentary observation to highlight both the beauty and brutality of our natures Set in different countries and epochs these poetic fable like tales are linked by a single arbitrary thread a reference to air travel An inventor tries to gain funding for a new kind of butterfly powered airship An introverted child is obsessed with leaving the ground An ancient landscape speaks to a hiker with sounds of growth and decay With sting in the tail resolutions and piercing honesty Air Lines: Short Stories to Be Read on Planes investigates the truth behind our interactions with ourselves and others John Power is an Australian journalist editor and author He holds a Bachelor of Arts Hons degree from The University of Melbourne and a Graduate Diploma in Publishing Editing from Monash University His first book of fiction Life Training: Short Stories to Be Read on Trains was published by Longueville Books

The Neptune Conspiracy Polly Holyoke, 2014-06-05 The Neptune Project by Polly Holyoke is a brilliantly paced survival story Readers who loved The Hunger Games or Gone will be thrilled by it Land is shrinking The sea is rising Time is running out Nere has always felt at home in the sea But she never imagined she'd have to leave the land behind forever until she finds out she's part of the Neptune Conspiracy She has been adapted to survive underwater Under the careful watch of the enigmatic Dai Nere is nominated to lead a group of kids across miles of ocean Her survival skills will be put to the ultimate test Guided by their faithful dolphin pod they face the ocean's deadliest creatures and close behind the government's savage dive team are determined to capture them dead or alive PRAISE FOR THE NEPTUNE CONSPIRACY It takes a skillful author to bring readers into an unfamiliar world and make them feel secure The detail has to be just right without overpowering the story the characters have to be grounded in reality to give us something to identify with and even the nonhuman creatures have to resonate warmth and personality Polly Holyoke has done all this and more with her fabulous debut The Neptune Project reader GOODREADS

The Bear Claire Cameron, 2014-02-11 A powerful suspense novel narrated by a young girl who must fend for herself and her little brother after a brutal bear attack While camping with her family on a remote island five year old Anna awakes in the night to the sound of her mother screaming A rogue black bear three hundred pounds of fury is attacking the family's campsite and pouncing on her parents as prey At her dying mother's faint urging Anna manages to get her brother into the family's canoe and paddle away But when the canoe runs aground on the edge of the woods the sister and brother must battle hunger the elements and a wilderness alive with danger Lost and completely alone they find that their only hope resides in Anna's heartbreaking love for her family and her struggle to be brave when nothing in her world seems safe anymore This is a story with a small narrator and a big heart Cameron gracefully plumbs Anna's young perspective on family responsibility and hope charting both a tragically premature loss of innocence and a startling evolution as Anna reasons through the impossible situations that confront her Lean and confident and told in the innocent and honest voice of a five year old The Bear is a transporting tale of loss but also a poignant and surprisingly funny adventure about love and the raw instincts that enable us to survive

The Science of Common Things David Ames Wells,1878

Words of Dragon J. L. Torres,2010-03-05

Follow the journey of a young man named Grinoel as he is ripped from adolescence and thrown into adulthood. For to dawn the mantle of savior he is charged by his dying father the task of finding a famous and powerful wizard named Icrabar who hasn't been seen nor heard from in hundreds of years. Alone and frightened he embark on his pilgrimage and is befriended by some very unique individuals: Josefina princess of the dryads of the Harim forest, Delma the lone survivor of a once proud female tribe and Ratuk prince of a long thought extinct race of ebony winged warriors. Together they must forge an adamant bond to help them overcome insurmountable odds and head into the battle field against an evil warlord known as Nemoth who has been banished from this world long ago and has now returned bent on the destruction and enslavement of mankind.
