Collins,Craig A. Evans, Lee Martin McDonald,2020-08-25 Ancient Jewish and Christian Scriptures examines the writings included in and excluded from the Jewish and Christian canons of Scripture and explores the social settings in which some of this literature was viewed as authoritative and some was viewed either as uninspired or as heretical John J Collins Craig A Evans and Lee Martin McDonald examine how those noncanonical writings demonstrate the historical literary and religious aspects of the culture that gave rise to the writings They also show how literature excluded from the Jewish and Christian canons of Scripture remains valuable today for understanding the questions and conflicts that early Jewish and Christian faith communities faced Through this discussion contemporary readers acquire a broader understanding of biblical Scripture and of Jewish and Christian faith inspired by Scripture      Report of the Proceedings of the ... Convention of American Instructors of the Deaf Convention of American Instructors of the Deaf,1912      The Bible's Many Voices Michael Carasik,2014-01-01 The most common English translations of the Bible often sound like a single somewhat archaic voice In fact the Bible is made up of many separate books composed by multiple writers in a wide range of styles and perspectives It is as Michael Carasik demonstrates not a remote text reserved for churches and synagogues but rather a human document full of history poetry politics theology and spirituality Using historic linguistic anthropological and theological sources Carasik helps us distinguish between the Jewish Bible's voices the mythic the historical the prophetic the theological and the legal By articulating the differences among these voices he shows us not just their messages and meanings but also what mattered to the authors In these contrasts we encounter the Bible anew as a living work whose many voices tell us about the world out of which the Bible grew and the world that it created      The Babylonian World
