The Hunters Or the Hunted? C. K. Brain, 1983-08 Amongst scientists involved in taphonomy C K Brain stands out as the pioneer this impressive book is a statement of his investigations The Hunters or the Hunted is a very important book for paleoanthropology It presents the first thorough analysis of the Sterkfontein Valley assemblages contributes significantly to the resolution of lingering controversies and by placing the old information in a fresh perspective enables new and more sophisticated questions to be asked not only of the South African material but of similar assemblages elsewhere Another contribution is that it reinforces the recent change in feelings as to what constitutes data for the value of looking at fossil and contemporary bones as closely as this is clear Brain urges the necessity of recovering fossils with a high regard for subtle detail I hope excavators of any vertebrate fossil site will be persuaded to follow his advice and pay more attention to these features of bone accumulations that have been previously neglected for taphonomy can be a powerful tool in elucidating the problems of fossil assemblages especially when handled with the care and caution that Brain brings to the subject Andrew Hill Nature The Hunters Or the Hunted? Charles Kimberlin Brain, 1981 Sterkfontein Valley Australopithecines Charles Kimberlin Brain, 1978 Nature Ethics Marti Kheel, 2008 In Nature Ethics An Ecofeminist Perspective Marti Kheel explores the underlying worldview of nature ethics offering an alternative ecofeminist approach Seeking to heal the divisions between the seemingly disparate movements and philosophies of feminism animal advocacy environmental ethics and holistic health Kheel proposes an ecofeminist philosophy that underscores the importance of empathy and care for individual beings as well as larger wholes Handbook of Forensic Anthropology and Archaeology Soren Blau, Douglas H. THE HUMAN SKELETON IN FORENSIC MEDICINE Mehmet Yasar Iscan, Maryan Steyn, 2013-09-01 This classic in forensic anthropology has been thoroughly updated and greatly expanded for the new Third Edition. The result presents the state of the medicolegal art of investigating human skeletal remains. The third edition follows more than 25 years after the second edition. During this time considerable changes occurred in the field and Forensic Anthropology became a distinct specialty in its own right. Included in the book are detailed discussions on crime scene investigation including excavation techniques time interval since death human or animal remains mass graves and preparation of remains. Existing chapters all dramatically revised bring readers in line with the current concepts of skeletal age determination of sex assessment of ancestry calculation of stature factors of individualization superimposition and restoration of physiognomy. There is also a section on dental analysis examining such topics as dental anatomy nomenclature estimation of age in subadults and adults determination of sex and ancestry and pathological conditions. New additions are chapters on skeletal pathology and trauma assessment. A new chapter has also been added on Forensic Anthropology of the Living. Although all of the sections of the book have been updated significantly the authors have retained some sense of history to recognize the many pioneers that have shaped the discipline. The text will assist forensic anthropologists and forensic pathologists who have to analyze skeletons found in forensic contexts. This book has a global perspective in order to make it usable to practitioners across the world. Where possible short case studies have been added to illustrate the diverse aspects of the work.

The Evolution of Human Hunting Matthew H. Nitecki, Doris V. Nitecki, 2013-11-11 The successful early adaptations of man involve a complex interplay of biological and cultural factors. There is a rapidly growing number of paleontologists and paleoanthropologists who are concerned with hominid foraging and the evolution of hunting. New techniques of paleoanthropology and taphonomy and new information on human remains are added to the traditional approaches to the study of past human hunting and other foraging behavior. There is also a resurgence of interest in the early peopling of the New World. The present book is the result of the Ninth Annual Spring Systematics 10 1986 in the Symposium on the Evolution of Human Hunting held on May Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago. We are grateful to the NSF grant no BNS 8519960 for partial financial support in arranging the symposium. In preparation of this volume we have received assistance from many people particularly the reviewers of individual chapters. It is impossible to name them all We must however single out Drs Richard G Klein and Glen H Cole for their encouragement at various stages of preparation of the symposium and this volume and for being a help to the anthropological knowledge Zbigniew Jastrzebski assisted with the figures and Paul K Johnson diligently typed the camera ready copy and patiently coordinated the endless book making chores
