Kinship and History in South Asia Thomas R. Trautmann, 1974 Women and Miracle Stories Anna Korte, 2018-11-13 This book contains a multidisciplinary collection of studies on women in miracle stories found in texts ranging from religious classics to contemporary literary fiction Miracle stories are a genre of great importance for the study of women's religious inheritance and for the historical and cultural understanding of women as makers of faith Miracle stories are very generally speaking more open to popular religion and culture than for instance doctrinal and official ecclesiastical texts and as such they can be of special interest to the study of women's lives and religious aspirations Remarkably up till now this genre has not been looked at from this point of view This book aims to open this field for further research by presenting case studies from diverse angles and disciplines Some of the questions this book tries to answer are What do miracle stories specifically tell us about women Are there some types of miracles that are in particular related to certain groups of women What do these stories tell us about women as performers and or subjects of miracles What can be said about the social function and religious meaning of miracles by specifically looking at the way certain groups of women are practising and experiencing miracles By including research on miracle stories in contemporary fiction written by women this book also wants to acknowledge and research the disputed status of miracles as well of women in our present society which is moving from modernity to post modernity Please note that Women and Miracle Stories is previously published by Brill in hardback ISBN 90 04 16681 8 still available Indian Feminist Ecocriticism Nicole Anae, Douglas A. Vakoch, 2022-08-08 Following Françoise d'Eaubonne's creation of the term ecofeminism in 1974 scholars around the world have explored ways that the degradation of the environment and the subjugation of women are linked In the nearly three decades since the publication of the classical work Ecofeminism by Maria Mies and Vandana Shiva in 1993 several collections have appeared that apply ecofeminism to literary criticism also known as feminist ecocriticism The most recent of these include anthologies that emphasize international perspectives furthering the comparative task launched by Mies and Shiva To date however there have been no books devoted to gaining a broad based understanding of feminist ecocriticism in India understood in its own terms Our new volume Indian Feminist Ecocriticism offers a survey of literature as seen through an ecofeminist lens by Indian scholars which places contemporary literary analysis through a sampling of its diverse languages and in the context of millennia old mythic traditions of India Oh Terrifying Mother Sarah Lee Caldwell, 1995 Paperbound Books in Print, 1975 The Work of Repair Thomas Cousins, 2023-06-06 In the timber plantations in northeastern South Africa laborers work long hours among tall swaying lines of eucalypts on land once theirs In 2008 at the height of the HIV AIDS crisis timber corporations distributed hot cooked meals as a nutrition intervention to bolster falling productivity and profits But life and sustenance are about much more than calories and machinic bodies What is at stake is the nurturing of capacity across all domains of life physical relational cosmological in the form of amandla An Nguni word meaning power strength or capacity amandla organizes ordinary concerns with one's abilities to earn a wage to strengthen one's body and to take care of others it describes the potency of medicines and sexual vitality and it captures a history of anti colonial and anti apartheid struggle for freedom The ordinary actions coordinated by and directed at amandla do not obscure the wounding effects of plantation labor or the long history of racial oppression but rather form the basis of what the Algerian artist Kader Attia calls repair In this captivating ethnography Cousins examines how amandla as the primary material of the work of repair anchors ordinary scenes of living and working in and around the plantations As a space of exploitation that enables the global paper and packaging industry to extract labor power the plantation depends on the availability of creative action in ordinary life to capitalize on bodily capacity The Work of Repair is a fine grained exploration of the relationships between laborers in the timber plantations of KwaZulu Natal and the historical decompositions and reinventions of the milieu of those livelihoods and lives Offering a fresh approach to the existential ethical and political stakes of ethnography from and of late liberal South Africa the book attends to urgent questions of postapartheid life the fate of employment the role of the state in providing welfare and access to treatment the regulation of popular curatives the queering of kinship and the future of custom and its territories Through detailed descriptions Cousins explicates the important and fragile techniques that constitute the work of repair the effort to augment one's capacity in a way that draws on acknowledges and reimagines the wounds of history keeping open the possibility of a future through and with others Kinship, Cosmology and Support Ruijing Wang, 2019 Despite living in a state that honours science and debases superstition and despite making substantial use of the multiple medical resources available to them Akha villagers in Yunnan still put their greatest trust for health and wellbeing into healing rituals especially when it comes to their children The book delves into these apparent contradictions What is this Akha way of childcare that continues in twenty first century China It is generally believed that children fall sick from soul loss or attack by spirits Accordingly parents frequently invite ritual experts to perform sacrificial rituals for the diagnosis and healing of their children Relatives kin and affines big men ancestors and spirits all play indispensable roles in these protective rituals As the process of a healing ritual

A. Cooper,2024-03-12 Lahore s Hall Road is the largest electronics market in Pakistan Once the center of film and media piracy in South Asia it now specializes in smartphones and accessories For Hall Road s traders conflicts between the economic promises and the moral dangers of film loom large To reconcile their secular trade with their responsibilities as devoted Muslims they often look to adjudicate the good or bad moral atmosphere mahaul that can cling to film and media Timothy P A Cooper examines the diverse and coexisting moral atmospheres that surround media in Pakistan tracing public understandings of ethical life and showing how they influence economic behavior Drawing on extensive ethnographic work among traders consumers collectors archivists cinephiles and cinephobes Moral Atmospheres explores varied views on what the relationship between film and faith should look sound and feel like for Pakistan s Muslim majority public Cooper considers the preservation and censorship of film in and outside of the state bureaucracy contestations surrounding heritage and urban infrastructure and the production and circulation of sound and video recordings among the country s religious minorities He argues that a focus on atmosphere provides ways of seeing moral thresholds as mutable and affective rather than as fixed ethical standpoints At once a vivid ethnography of a market street and a generative theorization of atmosphere this book offers fresh perspectives on moral experience and the relationship between religion and media Cambridge University Reporter University of Cambridge,1958 Man, State, and Society in Contemporary Southeast Asia Robert O.
