Sylvia Wynter Katherine McKittrick, 2015-02-02 The Jamaican writer and cultural theorist Sylvia Wynter is best known for her diverse writings that pull together insights from theories in history literature science and black studies to explore race the legacy of colonialism and representations of humanness Sylvia Wynter On Being Human as Praxis is a critical genealogy of Wynter's work highlighting her insights on how race location and time together inform what it means to be human The contributors explore Wynter's stunning reconceptualization of the human in relation to concepts of blackness modernity urban space the Caribbean science studies migratory politics and the interconnectedness of creative and theoretical resistances The collection includes an extensive conversation between Sylvia Wynter and Katherine McKittrick that delineates Wynter's engagement with writers such as Frantz Fanon W E B DuBois and Aimé Césaire among others the interview also reveals the ever extending range and power of Wynter's intellectual project and elucidates her attempts to rehistoricize humanness as praxis

Economic Spaces of Pastoral Production and Commodity Systems Richard Le Heron, 2016-04-29 Pastoralism as a land use system is under recognized in terms of its contribution to food provision livelihoods as well as to human security This book is the first attempt to explore the dynamics of economic spaces of pastoral production and commodity systems for explicit South and North positionings It develops and applies a new approach in combining agri food market and commodity chain perspectives with livelihood approaches This enables new understandings of re aligning exchange relations between the global south and the global north The case studies presented open up new empirical insights in largely under researched areas such as Afghanistan Chad Tibet and Siberia and very recent changes in industrialized economies with major pastoral sectors The book reveals new evidence and theoretical insights about significant changes in established producer consumer relations in agriculture and food

For Your Sake He Became Poor Georges Massinelli, 2021-04-19 The Pauline collection for the poor in Jerusalem is the most famous example of financial support for geographically distant groups in early Christianity Recent assessments of the Pauline collection have focused on patronage to explain the social relations between Jerusalem and the Pauline groups and the strategies adopted by Paul Through a comparison with the

Greco Roman world and a close reading of the texts this study challenges the recent approach and proposes that other factors shaped Paul's stance Paul was interested in reassuring the Corinthians about the financial outcome of the collection and dispelling doubts that he might take advantage of them The collection was an action modeled on divine generosity and an exchange within a reciprocal relationship between Christian groups This study also surveys intergroup support between Christian groups in the first three centuries CE This practice involved churches from most of the Mediterranean Basin and was known even outside of Christian circles Transfers of money were organized according to a consistent pattern modeled on local charitable practices The Pauline collection had similar characteristics and can be seen as part of this widespread economic practice

Explorations in Social Theory George Ritzer, 2001-04-10 George Ritzer is one of the leading social and cultural commentators of the present day In this essential new book he considers some of the main tendencies in contemporary social theory Included here are Ritzer s latest reflections on the uses and misuses of metatheory According to Ritzer sociology is a multiparadigm science The differences and intensities of rivalries between paradigms are often very confusing for students and even for professional sociologists This book seeks to find a way out of the confusion by sketching out the lineaments of a new integrated sociological paradigm and demonstrates how this paradigm can be applied It shows the various ways in which Ritzer has developed rationalization theory to shed light on professional integration the shape of consumer culture hyperrationality and the state of sociology today French Philosophy and Social Theory Jacob Dahl Rendtorff, 2014-05-28 This book demonstrates how the conceptual resources of contemporary French philosophy from the early 20th Century to the present day can be applied to give us new perspectives on business ethics and the ethics of organizations In providing an overview of possible applications the book covers a wide range of philosophers philosophical movements and perspectives and provides detailed analyses of core materials relevant to business ethics It explores and analyzes French philosophy taking into account phenomenology existentialism French epistemology structuralism post structuralism deconstruction and postmodernism as well as recent discussions of philosophy of organizations and management Each chapter contains suggestions for further reading and educational illustrations of possible applications to the mainstream business ethics and ethics of organization literature A Sociological Philosophy of Education Ross Lee Finney, 1928 Simmel and Since (Routledge Revivals) David Frisby, 2011-03-31 Originally published in 1992 this book written by one of the world's leading experts on Simmel provides a fascinating set of insights into a thinker who is fast becoming recognized as the sociologist of modernity an indispensable resource in confronting post modernity It examines the relevance of his work in relation to contemporary debates on culture aesthetics and modernity Modern Sociological Theory George Ritzer, Jeffrey Stepnisky, 2017-01-23 Now with SAGE Publishing and co authored by one of the foremost authorities on sociological theory the Eighth Edition of Modern Sociological Theory by George Ritzer and Jeffrey Stepnisky provides a comprehensive overview of the major theorists and theoretical schools from the Structural Functionalism of early 20th century through the cutting edge theories of the late 20th and early 21st centuries The integration of key theories with biographical sketches of theorists and the requisite historical and intellectual context helps students to better understand the original works of contemporary thinkers New to this Edition A new chapter focuses theories of race racism and colonialism as well as theories about indigenous peoples and theories from the Global South that challenge the work of scholars from Europe and North America New material on colonialization classical women theorists and race as well as new timelines in history chapters The chapter on Symbolic Interactionism now discusses work on the sociology of emotions The concluding chapter now discusses affect theory and theories of presumption one of the newest developments in consumer theory The chapter on Contemporary Theories of Modernity includes new section on the work of Charles Taylor New perspectives on the work of Immanuel Wallerstein have been added to the chapter on Neo Marxian theories The opening historical sketch chapters now include a discussion of colonialism as one of the forces that shaped modern society new material on the historical significance of early women founders and a section on theories of race A

Theory of Social Interaction Jonathan H. Turner, 1988 In developing the most comprehensive theory of social interaction among humans to date the author has also constructed a general theory of micro dynamics for sociology and social psychology He does so by reviewing existing theories of the past and present synthesizing these concepts into abstract models and principles of social interaction In contrast to Talcott Parsons and many others the book argues that social interaction rather than action and behaviour is sociology's most basic unit of analysis This unit is conceptualized as involving three processes 1 motivational or the process of mobilizing and energizing interactive behaviour 2 interactional or the process of mutual signaling and interpreting with symbols and 3 structuring or the process of repeating and organizing social interactions in time and place For each of these three constituent processes the relevant theories are analyzed and then synthesized into composite models and general laws
