Existentialism From Dostoevsky To Sartre Walter Kaufmann, 2016-03-28 What is Existentialism It is perhaps the most misunderstood of modern philosophic positions misunderstood by reason of its broad popularity and general unfamiliarity with its origins representatives and principles Existential thinking does not originate with Jean Paul Sartre It has prior religious literary and philosophic origins In its narrowest formulation it is a metaphysical doctrine arguing as it does that any definition of man's essence must follow not precede an estimation of his existence In Heidegger it affords a view of Being in its totality in Kierkegaard an approach to that inwardness indispensable to authentic religious experience for Dostoevsky Kafka and Rilke the existential situation bears the stamp of modern man's alienation uprootedness and absurdity to Sartre it has vast ethical and political implications Walter Kaufmann author of Nietzsche is eminently qualified to present and interpret the insights of existentialism as they occur and are deepened by the major thinkers who express them In every case complete selections or entire works have been employed The Wall Existentialism and the complete chapter on Self Deception from L'etre et le N'ant by Sartre two lectures from Jaspers book Reason and Existenz original translations of On My Philosophy by Jaspers and The Way Back into the Ground of Metaphysics by Heidegger There is as well material from Dostoevsky Kierkegaard Nietzsche Rilke and Camus

Existential America George Cotkin, 2003-01-24 As Cotkin shows not only did Americans readily take to existentialism but they were already heirs to a rich tradition of thinkers from Jonathan Edwards and Herman Melville to Emily Dickinson and William James who had wrestled with the problems of existence and the contingency of the world long before Sartre and his colleagues After introducing the concept of an American existential tradition Cotkin examines how formal existentialism first arrived in America in the 1930s through discussion of Kierkegaard and the early vogue among New York intellectuals for the works of Sartre Beauvoir and Camus

Neuroexistentialism Gregg D. Caruso, Owen J. Flanagan, 2018 Existentialisms arise when the foundations of being such as meaning morals and purpose come under assault In the first wave of existentialism writings typified by Kierkegaard Dostoevsky and Nietzsche concerned the increasingly apparent inability of religion and religious tradition to support a foundation of being Second wave existentialism personified philosophically by Sartre Camus and de

Beauvoir developed in response to similar realizations about the overly optimistic Enlightenment vision of reason and the common good The third wave of existentialism a new existentialism developed in response to advances in the neurosciences that threaten the last vestiges of an immaterial soul or self Given the increasing explanatory and therapeutic power of neuroscience the mind no longer stands apart from the world to serve as a foundation of meaning This produces foundational anxiety In Neuroexistentialism a group of contributors that includes some of the world's leading philosophers neuroscientists cognitive scientists and legal scholars explores the anxiety caused by third wave existentialism and possible responses to it Together these essays tackle our neuroexistentialist predicament and explore what the mind sciences can tell us about morality love emotion autonomy consciousness selfhood free will moral responsibility law the nature of criminal punishment meaning in life and purpose

Dostoevsky's Conception of Man Peter McGuire Wolf, 1997-10 Dostoevsky's novels have contributed to a conception of man that reverberates in the conclusions of prominent twentieth century philosophical anthropologists Max Scheler Martin Heidegger Jean Paul Sartre Maurice Merleau Ponty and Albert Camus among others have admitted that the works of Dostoevsky had an influence on the manner in which they learned to conceive of human nature and the world in which humans live Our aim in this dissertation is to ask what is there in the novels of Dostoevsky concerning the nature of man of which certain philosophers could claim that in their philosophical conceptions of man they were positively influenced by him The main thesis is substantiated with a careful analysis of four novels Notes From the House of the Dead Zapiski iz mertvogo doma Notes From the Underground Zapiski iz podpol'ia Crime and Punishment Prestuplenie i nakazanie and The Brothers Karamazov Brat'ia Karamazovy These novels were chosen partly because I have come to the conclusion that these novels more than others concretely show in what sense the leading characters appear to have made themselves be what they had freely chosen to be under the circumstances in which they had to live and that they were fully aware of the responsibility they had to bear for the implications and consequences of what they had thus decided Based upon a close reading four interpretive chapters employ the most significant criticism from English Russian and French literary scholarship Dostoevsky's philosophical conception of man is compared and contrasted with the conception that Scheler and Heidegger hold i.e. that freedom is man's essence Sartre's atheistic humanism and Camus' thought The following conclusions are consonant with Dostoevsky's work freedom is constitutive for the being or the mode of being essence of man it is an inalienable duty one must become oneself Man strives to overcome himself and to exceed his freedom but in so doing invariably loses it Man exceeds himself only in the sense that he realizes an ideal human possibility The Dostoevskian man reveals not only the absence of human nature but also the enormous power which man possesses for achieving his ideal human possibility output suggesting that a keen sense of particularity enabled the Jewish philosophers to help define the whole modern era. Intended to be used as a core undergraduate text, the book will also appeal to anyone with an interest in how some of the greatest minds of the age grappled with some of its most urgent and fascinating philosophical problems.

Existential Counselling & Psychotherapy in Practice Emmy van Deurzen, 2012-10-19. Offering a concrete framework and practical methods for working from an existential perspective, the bestselling Existential Counselling and Psychotherapy is now in its third edition. Central to the book is the belief that many of our problems arise out of the essential paradoxes of human existence rather than from personal pathology. From this perspective, the purpose of counselling and therapy is not viewed as problem solving but as a means of enabling people to come to terms with living life as it is, with all its inherent contradictions. Emmy van Deurzen, a leading existential philosopher and therapist, presents a practical method of working using systematic observation, clarification, and reflection to help clients rediscover their inner strengths. She shows how personal assumptions, values, and talents, once acknowledged, can be turned to constructive use. Using wide-ranging case examples, the author also demonstrates the effectiveness of the existential approach in many different situations, from crisis work to dealing with chronic unhappiness. The existential approach is a well-respected form of psychotherapy, but most writing on the subject tends to be heavily theoretical. This book offers a practical and accessible alternative which will be invaluable to those in training as well as to more experienced practitioners.

The Thiselton Companion to Christian Theology Anthony C. Thiselton, 2015-02-06. Covering everything from Abba to Zwingli, The Thiselton Companion to Christian Theology offers a comprehensive account of a wide sweep of topics and thinkers in Christian theology. Written entirely by eminent scholar Anthony Thiselton, the book features a coherence lacking in most multi-authored volumes. Drawing on his encyclopedic knowledge gained from fifty-plus years of study and teaching, Thiselton provides some six hundred articles on various aspects of theology throughout the centuries. The entries comprise both short descriptive surveys and longer essays of original assessment on central theological topics such as atonement, Christology, God, and Holy Spirit, and on such theologians as Aquinas, Augustine, Barth, Calvin, King, Luther, Moltmann, and Pannenberg. The book also includes a helpful time chart dating all of the theologians discussed and highlighting key events in Christian history. Select reading suggestions conclude each of the longer entries. Equally valuable for research and teaching, The Thiselton Companion to Christian Theology will be a go-to reference for pastors, students, teachers, and theologians everywhere.
