Expectant Creativity The Action Of Hope In Christian Ethics:

Expectant Creativity Vincent J. Genovesi, 1982 Jürgen Moltmann's Ethics of Hope Timothy Harvie, 2016-05-06 This book develops a thorough account of the sphere of human moral action in sustained dialogue with Jürgen Moltmann By examining God's role as promise giver particularly in the Christian understanding of resurrection this work describes the occupancy of both history and space in moral terms This leads to an understanding of Jesus' description of the kingdom of God to feature prominently in describing both the possibility and content of human moral action By offering an account of each of the main doctrines found in Moltmann's corpus the role of the future the Trinity the Holy Spirit and anthropology this book locates how each contributes to the understanding of ethics from a Christian perspective and subsequently applies these findings to the contemporary issue of poverty and global economics The Oxford Handbook of Theological

Ethics Gilbert Meilaender, William Werpehowski, 2007-08-09 Annotation What are the practical and theoretical issues that concern and shape theological ethics This handbook offers a guide to the discipline Written by an international group of 30 scholars the book is aimed at all students and academics who want to explore more fully essential topics in Christian ethics

Theology as Hope Ryan A. Neal, 2009-01-01 Hope is the leitmotiv of Jürgen Moltmann's theology Not merely one aspect of his project hope is the whole of it the supreme doctrine interpenetrating all others Indeed hope is his method The present study is both historical and developmental while also being analytical and interrogative This chronological exploration seeks to show the nature composition and development of Moltmann's doctrine of hope as the distinctive doctrine of his theology implicating all others Part I establishes Moltmann's doctrine of hope as grounded in God's faithfulness in the cross and resurrection Part II investigates major doctrines in his project in light of this ground This design seeks to take advantage of the chronological approach while also integrating the best elements of a topical approach The Way to Love Matt

Boswell, 2018-09-04 Love people An oft proclaimed rallying cry for Christians but what does it look like in practice to love We may believe that love is the greatest 1 Cor 13:13 Love may be our destination But do we know how to get there This book addresses essential questions about the Christian life What is a true compelling and helpful Christian understanding of love What is spiritual growth supposed to do to us or for us or for others through us How can we speak of grace and personal initiative in one theological vision How do we go beyond a spirituality that is either too privatized and insular or too activist without the undergirding character needed to sustain such activism How do we ensure love is not simply a principle we hold or a slogan we applaud but a powerful force that perpetually grows in us and ripples out to others in concrete transformative ways This book is a guide to love Drawing on virtue ethics psychology theology and spirituality it offers a love centered hopeful vision of the Christian spiritual life The story in which God invites us to live is about a journey of love toward love Is this your story A Theology of Work Darrell T. Cosden, 2006-10-19 Given that so much of our contemporary lives are spent working and that so many major decisions and issues in life revolve around our work it is surprising just how little serious theological reflection there is on the subject A Theology of Work Work and the New Creation makes work itself the subject of theological enquiry From within Christian doctrine it asks the pressing questions what is work and work s place in God s economy and thus how should we be carrying out our work Through dialogue with J rgen Moltmann Pope John Paul II and others this book develops a genitive theology of work It offers a normative theological definition of work and a model for a theological ethics of work that shows work s nature value and meaning now and quite uniquely eschatologically related to the new creation Throughout the book it is argued that work in its essence is about transformation and as such it is an activity consisting of three dynamically interrelated dimensions the instrumental relational and ontological

The Annihilation of Hell Nik Ansell,2013-10-01 For J rgen Moltmann Hell is the nemesis of Hope The annihilation of Hell thus refers both to Hell s annihilative power in history and to the overcoming of that power as envisioned by Moltmann s distinctive theology of the cross in which God becomes all in all through Christ s descent into Godforsakenness The negation of Hell and the fulfillment of history are inseparable Attentive to the overall contours and dynamics of Moltmann s thinking especially his zimzum doctrine of creation his eschatologically oriented philosophy of time and his expanded understanding of the nature grace relationship this study asks whether the universal salvation that he proposes can honor human freedom promise vindication for those who suffer and do justice to biblical revelation As well as providing an in depth exposition of Moltmann s ideas The Annihilation of Hell also explores how a covenantal universalism might revitalize our web of beliefs in a way that is attuned to the authorizing of Scripture and the spirituality of existence If divine and human freedom are to be reconciled as Moltmann believes the confrontation between Hell and Hope will entail rethinking issues that are not only at the center of theology but at the heart of life itself

A Philosophy of Human Hope J.J. Godfrey,2012-12-06 Few reference works in philosophy have articles on hope Few also are systematic or large scale philosophical studies of hope Hope is admitted to be important in people s lives but as a topic for study hope has largely been left to psychologists and theologians For the most part philosophers treat hope en passant My aim is to outline a general theory of hope to explore its structure forms goals reasonableness and implications and to trace the implications of such a theory for atheism or theism What has been written is quite disparate Some see hope in an individualistic often existential way and some in a social and political way Hope is proposed by some as essentially atheistic and by others as incomprehensible outside of one or another kind of theism Is it possible to think consistently and at the same time comprehensively about the phenomenon of human hoping Or is it several phenomena How could there be such diverse understandings of so central a human experience On what rational basis could people differ over whether hope is linked to God What I offer here is a systematic analysis but one worked out in dialogue with Ernst Bloch Immanuel Kant and Gabriel Marcel Ernst Bloch of course was a Marxist and officially an atheist Gabriel Marcel a Christian theist and Immanuel Kant was a theist but not in a conventional way

In Pursuit of Love Vincent J. Genovesi,1996 While retaining the basic structure of the original book this new edition has been thoroughly updated in light of some official Catholic documents and other theological writings dealing with sexual morality that have appeared since 1986 The Catechism of the Catholic Church Pope John Paul II's encyclicals Veritatis splendor and Evangelium vitae and the 1986 and 1992 statements of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith on pastoral care of homosexuals and the issue of discrimination against them are among the more recent magisterial publications considered in this text This edition also contains several new sections the misuses of sex adultery pornography prostitution sexual violence four rationales for viewing a committed love relationship as the only appropriate context for sexual intercourse marriage as a sacrament and marital sexuality and love as embodiments of commitment intimacy and passion and public policy and the civil rights of homosexuals This edition also includes an expanded discussion of topics such as sexism sexually transmitted diseases especially HIV AIDS and the moral questions raised by new family planning methods Norplant Depo Provera RU 486 postcoital hormonal interventions against pregnancy the start of human life and abortion Vincent J Genovesi SJ received his PhD in Christian ethics from Emory University He is a professor at St Joseph's University in Philadelphia His articles have appeared in such journals as The Thomist The Way America and Review for Religious Confessing God John Webster, 2016-01-28 Put together as a companion volume to his earlier volume Word and Church in this book John Webster begins to give voice to a reordered conception of the substance of Christian teaching at the heart of which lies a discovery of the content and consequences of Christian teaching about God's perfection Webster gives the readers a worked example of theological theology that is Christian theology which takes its rise in the Christian confession of the gospel which seeks to hear celebrate and commend This classic volume from one of the leading theologians in the world remains an important contribution to the field of systematic theology For this Cornerstones edition Webster has written a new preface in which he sets the work against the current debate and his own current theology Indwelling the Forsaken Other J. Matthew Bonzo, 2009-02-01 Indwelling the Forsaken Other is a critical reading of Jürgen Moltmann's ethics of discipleship While Moltmann's notable turn to the inner life of the Trinity as a source for his reflections on the life of the church is influential it is not without problems The call emerging from Moltmann's reflection upon Trinitarian life to copy God in our relationships may offer some general direction for our actions however it also raises several questions Two important questions for this work are In what way are we to copy God and What conditions make it possible to copy God Moltmann's answers to these questions are insufficient and consequently he fails to protect the difference between Creator and creation in his analogia relationis As a result the ethical direction of Moltmann's work seems to be increasingly muddled and at best paradoxical

The Spirit of Life Jürgen Moltmann, 2001-05-11 Moltmann the foremost Protestant theologian in the world Church Times brings his characteristic audacity to this traditional topic and cuts to the heart of the matter with a simple identification What we experience every day as the spirit of life is the spirit of God Such considerations give Moltmann's treatment of the different aspects of life in Spirit a verve and vitality that are concrete and existential Veteran readers will find here a rich and subtle extension of Moltmann's trinitarian and christological works even as he makes bold use of key insights from feminist and ecological theologies from recent attention to embodiment and from charismatic movements. Newcomers will find a fascinating entree into the heart of his work the transformative potential of the future. Moltmann develops a theology of the Holy Spirit that links the Christian community's experience of the Spirit to the sanctification and liberation of life. He brilliantly displays the ecological and political significance of Christian belief in the Trinity. The Teilhard Review and Journal of Creative Evolution, 1982

Jürgen Moltmann James L. Wakefield, 2002-09-26 true theologians are more than good religious managers for their hearts must be in what they are doing. Without personal authenticity no one will believe in the truth of their message. Jürgen Moltmann from his lecture What is a Theologian at the Pontifical University Maynooth Ireland 1998. Jürgen Moltmann was born into a secular family of teachers in Hamburg in 1926. His plans to study mathematics and physics were interrupted by the destruction of Hamburg in July of 1943. He was one of only a few students serving in the anti aircraft battery in the central city that survived the Royal Air Force fire storm that killed over 40 000. He spent the next three years as a prisoner of war in labor camps in Belgium and Scotland and finally at Camp Norton near Nottingham in England. After devouring every book that crossed his path during captivity he eventually turned to reading the psalms and New Testament. These writings soothed his experiences with death his depression and his guilt and ushered along his theology his belief in God and the power of hope. Jürgen Moltmann's work sprung from the social and political turmoil in post World War II German culture. In this Bibliography the author lists more than twelve hundred sources from Jürgen Moltmann and more than eight hundred significant reviews articles and books on his work. He has also included most of the theologian's early writings in either German or English through the year 2001. Besides a foreword and essay by Moltmann this volume includes a bibliographic biography of his life. Most of his works are listed by title and first place of publication. Also listed are later versions and many of the translations. Translations of Moltmann's major books in as many European languages as possible as well as a list of known dissertations and monographs presented in reverse chronological order for the reader's convenience make for a well rounded work. A research index helps the reader find the major pieces for some of Moltmann.

Journal of Ecumenical Studies, 1982

Creation, Eschaton, and Ethics Douglas James Schuurman, 1991. This incisive study concerns the ways in which theological claims about creation's original and final perfection shape social ethics. Schuurman argues that prominent 20th century theologians Emil Brunner and Jürgen Moltmann wrongly envision the eschaton as radically discontinuous with creation and that this discontinuity coheres with serious inadequacies in their social ethics. His thesis is that continuity between creation and eschaton is necessary if Christian social ethics is to avoid dualistic understandings of love and justice personal and impersonal values church and world revolutionism and conservatism. Schuurman establishes theological groundwork for a social ethic that calls for continuous transformation of social institutions and structures.
