Genes, Brains, and Human Potential Ken Richardson,2017-03-21 For countless generations people have been told that their potential as humans is limited and fundamentally unequal The social order they have been assured is arranged by powers beyond their control More recently the appeal has been to biology specifically the genes brain sciences the concept of intelligence and powerful new technologies Reinforced through the authority of science and a growing belief in bio determinism the ordering of the many for the benefit of a few has become more entrenched Yet scientists are now waking up to the influence of ideology on research and its interpretation In Genes Brains and Human Potential Ken Richardson illustrates how the ideology of human intelligence has infiltrated genetics brain sciences and psychology flourishing in the vagueness of basic concepts a shallow nature versus nurture debate and the overhyped claims of reductionists He shows how ideology more than pure science has come to dominate our institutions especially education encouraging fatalism about the development of human intelligence among individuals and societies Genes Brains and Human Potential goes much further building on work being done in molecular biology epigenetics dynamical systems evolution theory and complexity theory it maps a fresh understanding of intelligence and the development of human potential Concluding with an upbeat message for human possibilities this synthesis of diverse perspectives will engender new conversations among students researchers and other interested readers

Person-environment-behavior Research Douglas Amedeo,Reginald G. Golledge,Robert John Stimson,2009-01-01

Research into spatial influences on people s everyday activities and experiences presents many conceptual and methodological complexities Written by leading authorities this book provides a comprehensive framework for collecting and analyzing reliable person environment behavior data in real world settings that rarely resemble the controlled conditions described in typical texts An array of research designs are illustrated in chapter length examples addressing such compelling issues as spatial patterns of voting behavior ways in which disabilities affect people s travel and wayfinding how natural and built environments evoke emotional responses spatial factors in elementary teaching and learning and more A special chapter guides the student or beginning researcher to craft a successful research proposal      A Geography of the Lifeworld (Routledge Revivals) David Seamon,2015-06-11 Within the modern Western lifestyle increasing conflict is becoming apparent between that patchwork of isolated points such as the home or the office which are linked by a mechanical system of transportation and communication devices and a growing sense of homelessness and isolation This work first published in 1979 adopts a phenomenological perspective illustrating that this malaise may have partial roots in the deepening rupture between people and place Whereas the problems of terrestrial space may have been overcome technologically and economically it has been less successful regarding people Experience indicates that people become bound to locality and the quality of their life is thus reduced if these bonds are disrupted or broken in any way The relationship between community and place is investigated as is the opportunity for improving the environment both from a human and an ecological perspective This book will be of interest to students of human geography      Housing Oktay Ural,Robert Krapfenbauer,2013-10-22 Housing The Impact of Economy and Technology contains the proceedings of the International Congress on Housing The Impact of Economy and Technology held in Vienna Austria on November 15 18 1981 This book includes many outstanding manuscripts prepared by competent dedicated individuals This text covers a wide range of problems associated with housing technology and economy Some papers detail forming systems for mass housing production housing option for the elderly energy aspects of housing design in developing countries the psychological and physiological ecology of indoor environments and solar heating and Earth insulation for economical houses Other papers explore training programs for low cost housing influence of color in housing volatile substances of some materials from housing equipment the impact of changing society and the economy on the housing industry comparative housing energy saving and management in buildings and industrialization of buildings in developing countries      Social and Cognitive Development in the Context of Individual, Social, and Cultural Processes Janette Benson,Catherine Raeff,2004-06-01 Several recent analyses have focused on how social and cultural factors shape development but less well understood are the individual constructive processes involved in this interplay This volume showcases varied theoretical and empirical approaches to how individual social and cultural factors shape development and suggests new directions for future scholarship Human Development in Cultural Context A Bame Nsamenang,1992-05-26 A comprehensive systematic account of human development which is sensitive to the needs interests and ecologies of nonwestern cultures and individuals is provided in this unique volume The importance and value of the sociocultural milieu in shaping the growth and development of children is emphasized and the author asserts throughout that children do not grow and develop according to the same patterns regardless of culture The author describes developmental psychology from the perspective of West Africa demonstrating how the local ecology and the resulting cultural ideology lead to differing ways in which children are conceptualized and socialized and in turn how they develop While much of his case material is from Psychological Perspectives in Environmental and Developmental Issues Adesh Agarwal,Ashok Kumar Saxena,2003 Papers In This Volume Address Issues Relevant To Environment And Human Development And Focus On The Theory Psychological Differentiation In The Context Of Environmental Cognition Give Attention To Rural And Urban Settings Useful For Psychologists Educationalists And Ecologists Particularly Environmental Impact Assessment, Technology Assessment, and Risk Analysis Vincent T. Covello,Jeryl L. Mumpower,Pieter Jan M. Stallen,V.R.R. Uppuluri,2013-06-29 This volume is the outcome of a recent NATO Advanced Study Institute ASI on Technology Assessment Environmental Impact Assessment and Risk Analysis Contributions from the Psychological and Decision Sciences The Institute was held in Les Arcs France and functioned as a high level teaching activity during which scientific research results were presented in detail by eminent lecturers Support for the Institute was provided by grants from the NATO Division of Scientific Affairs the u S Office of Naval Research and the Russell Sage Foundation The Institute covered several areas of research including quantitative studies on decision and judgmental processes studies on human intellectual limitations studies on risk attitudes and perceptions studies on factors contributing to conflicts and disputes about hazardous technologies and activities studies on factors influencing forecasts and judgments by experts studies on public preferences for decisionmaking processes studies on public responses to technological hazards and case studies applying principles and methods from the psychological and decision sciences in specific settings The Development of Spatial Cognition Robert Cohen,2013-08-21 First published in 1985 The present book represents a statement of the state of the art in a very important aspect of spatial cognition its development
