Fireweed Evangelism: Christian Hospitality in a Multi-Faith World Elizabeth Geitz, 2004-11-01 Fireweed always the first flower to spring up and bloom in ruins and burned over places is Elizabeth Geitz's metaphor for evangelism that comes from the heart It is the motivation that makes some Christians eager to welcome the stranger and invite people into their churches while others hang back In this prequel to Entertaining Angels Hospitality Programs for the Caring Church Geitz explores this missing ingredient in Christian hospitality reminding us that in a multi faith world where Christians wish to honor the validity of other religious paths we may hesitate to talk about the uniqueness of Jesus Christ Her book helps both individuals and communities to understand what holds them back from evangelism and discover the path that is right for them This book unfolds in three sections In the first we look at the factors that inhibit our evangelism including the awareness that we live in a pluralistic world and do not wish to offend those with other faith commitments Geitz offers both reflection and exercises to help us discover our own motivation for evangelism Part 2 addresses the question of context Where does evangelism take place and for whose benefit To what sort of communities do we invite those to whom we reach out Section 3 focuses on the uniqueness of Christian hospitality and describes the nuts and bolts of newcomer ministry and the programs needed to sustain Christian hospitality in a pluralistic society It includes workshop and group process material      The Fullest Possible Love Paul W. Brother Benet Tvedten, 2006-02-01. You don't have to live in a monastery in order to live like a monk. Oblates are everyday people with jobs, families, and other responsibilities. Sometimes they are Catholic, sometimes not. In today's hectic, changing world, being an oblate offers a rich spiritual connection to the stability and wisdom of an established monastic community.

A Condition of Complete Simplicity Rowan Clare Williams, 2013-01-03. A Condition of Complete Simplicity offers a practical exploration of three essential keywords of Franciscan spirituality: humility, love, and joy, as they can be lived out in a world that is often characterised by violence, greed, and religious conflict. This is our world, and it was also Francis' world: a furnace for forging the radical values of those who cast off possessions, status, security, and everything that stood in their way of following Christ. Franciscan wisdom, with its emphasis on the upside-down values of the kingdom of God, has an urgent relevance for many of the problems we encounter today. Francis turning away from his youthful ambitions inspires us to do battle with our false priorities and find our true vocation. His acknowledging of all creatures as his brothers and sisters challenges us to recognize the image of the Creator in every individual. His infectious love for all creation gives us cause for hope and rejoicing as we learn to find and reflect Christ's presence throughout his world. Path of the Purified Heart Laura Dunham, 2012-02-01. Path of the Purified Heart traces the classic Christian spiritual journey toward transformation into the likeness of Christ in a unique, fascinating way. Drawing on the voices of wise elders from the past and present, Dunham illumines the common path all Christians and spiritual seekers may take toward union with God. Through the motifs of the liturgical year and the labyrinth, the author weaves in her own journey on this path during her year of purification. The

Benedictine Gift to Music Katharine W. Le Mée, 2003. The Benedictine Gift to Music illustrates how Gregorian chant, faithfully practiced each day for centuries by the Benedictines in monasteries and convents across Europe, developed into the complex polyphonic music we enjoy today. It details the outstanding contributions of the Benedictine musicians from the sixth-century Abbey of St. Benedict to the modern French Abbey of Solesmes. For contemporary performers, composers of sacred music, and those interested in singing Gregorian chant, The Benedictine Gift to Music explains the opportunity that chant provides to still the mind and enter in a meaningful way into the contemplative tradition of the Church. BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc. Learning in a Musical Key Lisa M. Hess, 2011-09-15 Learning in a Musical Key examines the multidimensional problem of the relationship between music and theological education Lisa Hess argues that in a delightful and baffling way musical learning has the potential to significantly alter and inform our conception of the nature and process of theological learning In exploring this exciting intersection of musical learning and theological training Hess asks two probing questions First What does learning from music in a performative mode require Classical modes of theological education often founder on a dichotomy between theologically musical and educational discourses It is extremely difficult for many to see how the perceived nonmusical learn from music Is musicality a universally human potential In exploring this question Hess turns to the music learning theory of Edwin Gordon which explores music's unique mode of teaching learning its primarily aural oral mode This challenge leads to the study's second question How does a theologian in the disciplinary sense integrate a performative mode into critical discourse Tracking the critical movements of this problem Hess provides an inherited transformational logic as a feasible path for integrating a performative mode into multidimensional learning This approach emerges as a distinctly relational embodied multidimensional and non correlational performative mode theology that breaks new ground in the contemporary theological landscape As an implicitly trinitarian method rooted in the relationality of God this non correlational method offers a practical theological contribution to the discipline of Christian spirituality newly claimed here as a discipline of transformative teaching learning through the highly contextualized and self implicated scholar into relationally formed communities and ultimately into the world Religious Vows, the Sermon on the Mount, and Christian Living Bonnie B. Thurston,2006 Bonnie Thurston reflects on the Beatitudes and their focus on the kingdom of heaven She shows how the Sermon on the Mount deepens understanding of the spiritual virtues that religious vows are intended to nurture She also reveals how the values embodied in the vows are central to all Christian living Christian Apologetics and Philosophy Paul Herrick,2024-10-01 A highly readable introduction to Christian apologetics that joins contemporary analytic philosophy with modern biblical scholarship In this book Paul Herrick presents the basics of classical Christian apologetics in the form of an inference to the best explanation argument that builds from the book s first chapter to its last Drawing on contemporary philosophy logic and biblical scholarship Herrick incorporates thoughts from Socrates Plato Thomas Aquinas and C S Lewis as well as scholars such as William Lane Craig J P Moreland Richard Swinburne and Craig Blomberg to present a multifaceted argument for the Christian faith With sections on the Socratic method the Christian examination of conscience the Big Bang miracles the historical reliability of the New Testament the resurrection of Christ and more this book promises to be useful intellectually and spiritually for seekers doubters and those already in the faith

Enduring Ministry Samuel D. Rahberg,2017 For many Christian leaders the experience of ministry includes enough conflict and disappointment to soon wear off the patina of one s initial enthusiasm And yet relief and renewal seems too often out of reach What happens in this season of ministry is more than a matter of whether or not a Christian leader can persist It is in fact possible for a person to engage the call to maturity at the juncture of discipleship and leadership Enduring Ministry is designed for those who seek this more durable way forward one that is infused with grace and inspired by good mission In Enduring Ministry Samuel Rahberg draws on insights from the monastic tradition the ministry of spiritual direction and the practice of Christian leadership to support and empower women and men for continued ministries in the church helping them turn from merely enduring to lasting effective and vibrant Christian leadership In the House of Rising Sounds Stephen Copeland,2023-05-15 Ancient Celts saw thin places where heaven and earth came strangely close to touching Stephen Copeland experienced something similar when his mentor took him to the Double Door Inn an historic hole in the wall blues venue in Charlotte North Carolina This unassuming place invited Copeland further into a spiritual journey that calls out to each of us to open our senses and tune our ears to thin places all around to become aware of sacred spaces in everyday places When Copeland learned the half century old Double Door Inn would be tragically closing he made the old white house of sound his home during its final year What do thin places teach us about ourselves What do they teach us about reality itself And what do we do when they re gone Copeland s soul searching journey with the Double Door as his guide will help readers become more present and attentive to the thinness of reality as we walk with our feet on the ground and our soul in the stars
